MINING FOR green gold? Mine! Not ready. But alas, my lungering gold with a net and flash-mustn't have liked being in the light? Nuts, you say? If you lungering were fishing in the Rosedale area last week-end, you would've not think so.

The miners in this case were hunters. The green gold were small frogs. These frogs have been one of the favorite natural baits used by fishermen in the area. Ernie Dawson, and I were able to find a few, these were on the large size. Although these larger ones will catch fish, they are not recommended. With a frog of more than 12" in body length, you'll have more misses than boated fish.

SATURDAY NIGHT THE RESIDENTS of the Trent Canal between Bal Lake and Cameron Lake by hunters who break the law. On a large frog I had 3 strikes but was unable to land one. One put on an aerial display cars in Albion, because there was a light on him and get the our Georgetown club is trying dog in "putting on the dog".

to do to improve hunter-farmer relations, would be much easier.
