

With Four Games Left Glen and Hornby Battling Neck and Neck

THE TWO AREA CLUBS in the Halton county rural-fastball circuit, Glen Williams and Hornby Red Shirts are heading for a photo finish this season unless one of them falls apart in the stretch. The Glen and Hornby currently share first place.

Hornby held a one game edge on the Glen until Friday when they met head on in Hornby park. Glen knocked things again at the top by winning 6-4. I was their last meeting of the regular schedule. Left: Hornby hurler Jamie Cunningham delivers. Centre: Glen 3rd sacker Ken Hearns handles a hot one. Right: Glen pitcher Tom Peavoy.

Town Smoke Eaters Rush To Make-Believe Inferno

(Campbellsville) business firechasers reached the placid section as on fire. This was smoke free village, they found the report dispatched to Acton, Georgetown and Milton, Milton and Georgetown. Fire firemen playing their hoses over Departments shortly after 6:00 or Campbellsville's pond. The only fire visible in the busi- ness section, came from cigar- ent, three North Halton crews ettes being puffed by interest- and as many trucks at full ed spectators speed to the village of Camp bellville. Startled residents looked up from lawn-watering and base- ball practice when the three brigades roared down the ma- in street in quest of the full scale blaze. "Where's the fire?" doman- ded three crews of North Hal- ton firefighters. "No fire here" reported the puzzled villagers. At this stage of the cross- country race, light began to dawn and a fire chief in the know, revealed the truth. It was a mutual aid practice game until another date has run, planned secretly for opti- mum urgency and effect. When reporters and other

Glen Williams Bumps Hornby Rural Loop Tangled at Top

The Hornby Red Shirts hand- cuffed the Lanville Juniors on Wednesday night, July 10th, when they 1-3 sole possessors of the ball game Blake Inglish on first place in the Hal doubled and scored on a hit ton Rural Softball League. The 2-1-7 win was the twelfth out runs for Hornby. Garry Hamilton was credited with the win when he went seven innings, with Garry Cox home to their rival opponents, by started off with two runs in the first stanza and four runs in the second, with low mouse game all during the season. The Glen once again outwitted the Red Shirts by ce and in the fourth they com- ed three times; two in the fifth, one in the sixth and two in the final inning of play counted for two and the Glen Lowell's big inning was the fourth when they scored three runs. The Red Shirts started things booming when they scored on Jamie Cunningham's sing- le, followed by Dave Leslie's double. Don Chisholm started the second inning off with a home run. Walks to Hamilton and Gillies set up a two run double by Jamie Cunningham. A double by Charlie Gillies scored the fourth run of the inning. A double and a single by Art Brooks and Garry Hamilton produced the seventh run for Hornby. Three more runs crossed the plate in the fourth inning on two walks and doubles by Don Learmont and Ross Cunning- ham. The fifth inning started off with a home run by Don Learmont, followed by the sec- ond run of the stanza being scored by Charlie Gillies. One run in the sixth inning by Gra- ham Gillies was costly to Low- ville by an overthrow. Charlie Gillies started the seventh off with a home run a walk to Cunningham and a fly by Don Learmont. The win double by Brooks scored two more when Blake Inglish trip- led. Graham Gillies' double scored Inglish and Jamie Coo Glen and Hornby for top spot.

NHL President Lauds Town as Hockey Centre

The President of the National Hockey League has congratulated Georgetown on having five players drafted by NHL teams during the amateur drafts a few months ago. In a letter to Georgetown Minor Hockey Support Group head Sid Alcorn, the NHL senior official wrote: "I extend warmest congratulations on this evidence of a wonderful achievement in having almost one quarter of the total number of players selected in our recent amateur draft as mem- bers of your playing team." In another paragraph, Mr. Campbell states: "It is for organizations such as yours that the concept of financial awards to teams responsible for the development of young hockey talent was devised and I sincerely hope that your organization will continue to be successful in this respect which will be to our mutual advan- tage."

Georgetown Golf Club Title Still Just Question Mark

The Georgetown Golf and Country Club golf title is still in limbo. The championship which was to have been deci- ded on Sunday, June 30, hit a snag on the morning of the hole play off when one of the finalists, Bob Hayward, was forced out of the match after nine holes with a recurring back ailment. Defending champion Bob Laptrout rather than accept the title offered his challenger a chance to finish the remaining holes when his health permit- ted and that's the way it has round. Enroute to the title he eliminated Cliff Hibbert, Bill Porter, and started the competition with a bye. Forsike beat out Clarence Porter, Bob McGibbon and Jack Frazier.

Sunday Drizzle Cancels Baseball Game

A Halton County Intermed- ate Baseball League contest be- tween Georgetown Giants and Town Campbellsville Merchants was cancelled on the Sunday drizzle. The rain caused officials to delay the game until another date has run, planned secretly for opti- mum urgency and effect.

Lane Snaps Baffling Slump Midgets Thump Sox Again

After a bad weekend, the All-Star Midgets came back to take another game from the Milton midget crew 9-7, sweep- ing all four league games from their arch rivals. The local crew again gave the Milton team a six run lead in the first two innings. Then they proceeded to pull the rug out from under the Milton bats, collecting five runs in the third inning, tying it up in the 4th and finally going ahead in the sixth with three more runs. Milton scored four big runs in the first inning on two sing- les, three errors and two bat- tles. Three errors and two bat- tles hit by the pitcher. They added two more runs in the second on two walks, a single, and an error. Georgetown settled down in the third behind the throwing of Danny Arbo who having allowed three hits, 2 runs, 1 error, and overpowered the Red Sox crew. The midgets opened the third inning when Terry Lane singled sharply to centre field and stole second. Riddall fled out and Ron Lane was safe when his fly ball was dropped. Arbo cleaned the bases on a long triple to right cen- tre field. Chisholm and David son walked to fill the bases. Hay grounded out to short. Ar- bo, Chisholm stole home when the pitcher was caught sleeping on the play and Davidson sent ed on Allister Blair's poke sing- le to right field. Praxos ground- ed out to a fielder's choice in- end the inning. T. Lane Again in the fourth Terry Lane singled to open the home half followed by Riddall's single to move Lane to third. Ron Lane struck out and Arbo singled. Lane home to tie the score. The game remained tied until the Georgetown half of the sixth when again for the third time

Mr. Campbell's letter came after the Support Group wrote him asking to have the matter of the draft clarified. His ex- planation renewed the possi- bility that Georgetown Junior B's could still retain the ser- vices of some or all of the drafted players should they not catch on with Junior A clubs this fall.

With the season little over halfway, it looks like there are three hot teams in the Inter- national League. There is only three points dividing the six top teams in the American League. It seems to be between the Cincinnati Reds and the San Francisco Giants in the National League.
