THIS HAYSTACK TURNS HEADS

Peter [illegible]

LEARNED IN ENGLAND, THATCHING ODDITY HERE

JEFF NEEDHAM'S HANDIWORK has been turning heads for years. His haystack on the [illegible] farm always catches the eye of every passerby, be he farmer or tourist. It's a local oddity simply because Jeff uses a country practice of thatching to protect the hay from the worst weather. He learned the system of [illegible] of Lincolnshire, England, his home, when as a boy, he worked on a 200 acre farm. He moved to the R.R. [illegible] farm 15 years ago and popped the eyes of oldtimers the first summer when he covered his hay [illegible] ious looking thatching. Mrs. Needham says several veteran farmers in the district descended on [illegible] all sorts of questions about his handiwork, and he is still being quizzed about it. It takes Jeff about [illegible] average stack.

Mrs. McNally and Miss Mackenzie were the major winners, carding best low cuts.

Mrs. Wray Beers and Mrs. Don Carter were hostesses for the July 30th day and Mrs. Stan Linlay and Mrs. Ken McCauley for Aug. 6.

TEMPORARY LAY-OFFS BOOST JOBLESS TOTAL

A total of 410 persons were placed in employment by the National Employment Service during the month of July 1963. An increase of 61 placements over July '62 when jobs were found for 249.

At the end of July, 1963, there were 1635 persons registered for employment at the Brampton Local Office, an increase over the end of last month. When there were 1163 persons on file, however, this increase is largely due to a number of short-term layoffs by some of the larger employers in the area and a sharp decrease in the numbers registered is expected within a week or so.

The Brampton Office serves the municipalities Caledon, all of Bolton and part of Esquesing Township, including Georgetown.

Come From Ohio to Hear of U.K. Folks

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wagstaffe and Mrs. Wagstaffe, Sr. returned by air from a month's holiday in England. They visited relatives around London and then travelled north where they spent time with farming relatives in Derbyshire. After leaving the warm sunny days here they did not appreciate the cool, very wet weather there. They were surprised to find them so far behind in their work on the farms. In fact they were only weeks started haying when they returned home last week, whereas John had haying completed before leaving home for overseas. However, they do have the beautiful lush green fields, pastures and lawns and roses beyond compare. Since returning home, Mr. and Mrs. George Corbett and Bonnie of Canton, Ohio have come to visit John and Betty and hear all the news of the relatives and [illegible] London.

Mr. George Taylor of Van [illegible] visited last week with Mr. C. Barth and girls. He also attended the funeral of Mrs. R. Gregory of [illegible].
