

Poem Details Life Of Early Pioneers

Attendees at the recent memorial service for Ballinacree Cemetery, thought a poem read by Mrs. John Snow was particularly fitting for the occasion.

The Herald has been asked to reprint this, and the poem follows:

The wilderness was our abode
One hundred forty years ago
And when good meat we Wished to eat.

We shot the buck or doe
For fish we used the hook and line.
We pounded corn to make it
fine.
On Johnny cake we had to die.
In this new country

Our paths were through the winding wood.
Where oft the savage rood.
They were not wide, nor scarce
a guide.
But all the roads we had
Our houses they were logs of
wood.
Rolled up in squares and caul-
ked with mud.
If the bark was tight the roof
was good.
In this new country

With axes good we chopped our
wood
For well we all knew how We cleared our land with hardy hand
To fit it for the plough
We sowed our lands with rye
and wheat
For strangers and ourselves to eat.
From the maple tree we drew
our sweet.
In this new country

Of deer skins we made moccasins
To wear upon our feet.
For checking shirt we thought
no hurt
Good company to keep
If a visit we would wish to pay.
On a winter's night or a
winter's day,
The oxen drew our ladies
sleigh.
In this new country.

The Indians oft-times made us
fear
That there was danger nigh:
The shaggy bear was often
there —
The pig was in his sty
The wolves the children dread.
And oft our fearful mothers
said
"Some beast of prey will take our babe."
In this new country.

We lived in social harmony —
We drank the purling stream,
No priest, no lawyer, doctor
there —
Was scarcely ever seen
Our health, it needed no repair.
No pious man forgot his prayer
And who could pay a lawyer
there
In this new country.

The little thorn grew apples on
Wren mandrakes all were gone,
The sour grape we used to take.
When frosty nights came on
For wintergreens our girls would stray
For butternuts, boys climbed a tree
The ovenroot for ladies tea
In this new country.

Step Nearer for Senior Citizens

In an effort to extend the WICA activities to include the senior citizens of the town, representatives of many local organizations met in the Town Council Chamber Tuesday night to set up a Committee of senior citizens.

After the Senior Citizens Committee was formed they will plan and organize their own activities, but the organization will stand by prepared to help in any way possible.

Pleads County Should Pay School Operating Deficit

A spirited plea for County assistance to schools for Retarded Children was made by North Halton Association President G. G. Addison at Council last week, on behalf of the three schools in the County.

To ensure the continued operation of the schools the gap still others give nothing but the existing government grants and the total of massive only "and creating costs should be borne left up to the whims of each by the County, according to individual council."

Government grants to the three county Retarded Child centers school, North Halton, Burlington and Oakville, "I'll we don't know" commented short by $43,000 in 1962 the speaker.

The County could control council. He explained the $43,000 had to be raised by the local associations who operate the schools and the task was becoming impossible.

We can't take care of them ourselves. They have to have their budget and we can't do that. We are spending so much money for research and training to raise money we add services, pre-school and home care programs which are not being attended by the school. We need to operate local Associations.

He emphasized repeatedly that the school was being asked to do more and more. Last year the total budget of the school was $17,000. This year it is $20,000. The Department of Education is looking after the school. The Department is looking after the school. The Department is looking after the school.

He felt the help on a long term basis would be farthest from the finance committee each school crosses municipal for further study.
