

Returns From Congo Duty . . .

Signalman Joseph H. Murray returns from the Congo since 21. of Glen Williams, Ontario, August 1960. Most of the Canadians are based in Leopoldville, the capital of the republic, where they operate as signals messengers after completing a tour of duty with 57 Canadian Signal Squadron part of the United Nations force in the Congo. A member of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, Murray worked as a teletype operator at United Nations headquarters in Leopoldville. During a special parade held in Leopoldville, just prior to his departure for Canada, he was presented with the United Nations medal for service in the Congo by Col. D. G. Grey. The normal length of service is six months but staff officers are employed at U.N. headquarters in Leopoldville for a year. The Canadian Signal unit has been providing military communications for the United Nations since its formation in 1945.

Brownridge Swine Score Well at 'Ex'

Yes, it's that time of year again, when mothers sigh with relief as they bundle their children off to another year of schooling. For some, Tuesday morning was just another school year but for those starting their first year of high school it was strange and bewildering. But stay at school and complete your education and realize how very lucky you are because the better your education the better your life will be.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wilson and Mr. Guy Wilson of Norval moved over the weekend to Smiths Falls to attend the wedding of their nephew, Neville Wilson, to Dorothy Sterling, in the Anglican Church, Friday evening.

Miss Doreen Carney returned home from Hamilton Hospital on Sunday, where she had been for a few days after a nose operation. Congratulations to our prominent swine breeder, T. J. Brownridge, who did so well with his Tamworths at the C.N.E. He received prizes for his Reserve Junior Champion Boar, Senior Champion and Grand Champion Boar, also Reserve Senior Champion Sow and Reserve Grand Champion Sow. Well done, Tom and son Allan.

Halton Co-Op Medical Pact with Blue Cross

Halton Co-operative Medical Services, which for several years has been handling provincial hospital insurance payments for its members, announces that it has reached a similar agreement with Blue Cross.

Mrs. Roy Coulter, secretary of H.C.M.S. said this means that members wishing to add Blue Cross semi-private coverage to their basic insurance may now do so through one combined payment. The additional cost of Blue Cross semi-private coverage is only $7.00 a year for a single subscriber or $14.70 a year for a family. This amount includes a small service charge and covers the subscriber and dependents against the cost of semi-private accommodation in an active treatment hospital, which in this area runs around $375 a day. If preferred the subscriber can also apply his Blue Cross coverage towards the extra expense of a private room in hospital.

Mrs. Coulter also pointed out that the above group rate is a considerable saving over the premium which must be paid by persons submitting their payments to Blue Cross on an individual basis. The provincial hospital insurance plan covers necessary hospital care such as meals, drugs, dressings, nursing and so on but only standard ward accommodation. The directors of H.C.M.S. made the decision to offer this special service after an all-member survey showed that many people were anxious to add the extra protection that semi-private hospital insurance would provide. The complete package now offered by the Halton Co-operative Medical Services now includes hospital insurance (ward or semi-private optional), a term life policy, surgical, major medical and extended medical protection.
