Mercury Dips, Glen Scores Defend Halton Ball Title

Temperatures cold enough to turn frost didn't stop up Glen's team, Cunningham, 2-1. Ruth Audrey West, Kay King, Mar Williams' girls softball team on Break, Pat Davidson, Donna Jane Webster, Joy Haines, Eva Hill, Pat English, and Lois Reed. The only home run at the Ritchie Elementary School ball game was Pat Davidson's. The winners are coached and managed by Jim Vann and Kurtzak.

Betty Stofford was the Glen pitcher. Lois Reed did the hurling for the losers.

With the title goes the Bayward Transport Trophy which the Glen copped last year. The Glen girls also earned the shield for finishing first at the end of the regular schedule.

The 54-hole tournament which 200 under 18 hole fours, Saturday and Sunday, was completed this weekend with 18 hole fours, Saturday and Sunday.

North Halton Directors' Trophy Copped by Young

Some thirty four golfers took part in the tourney.

It's been a good year for the young golfers. In the 18 hole fours, Saturday and Sunday, the 2nd and 3rd place winners were Fred and Stan Hill, 3rd.

Retarded Children Benefit From Golf

Seventy-five businessmen from Brampton played golf at Georgetown Golf and Country Club last Monday Sept. 16th and the Retarded Children's Association was the winner.

The businessmen were guests of the club directors and another Brampton firm, Delwilson Carpet and Tile, picked up the tab to provide the free golf. Each player was asked to contribute a dollar to the benefit charity.

Winning golfers received prizes of cups, a vacuum cleaner and bottles of wax donated by the hosts and Doug Bratt, Pro Shop manager.

The money will help the Brampton Branch of the Retarded Children's Association in their fund raising to build a Retarded Children's School.

Slippery Pigskin Plus Saints Too Much for Senior Rebels

The oldest play in football code that won't be found in any of the instruction booklets - the fumble - enabled St. Jerome's Saints to rumble out of Georgetown Park with a 12-0 exhibition game win over the Georgetown High's Rebels last Wednesday.

But while the red-and-blue were bobbling away their chances of an upset win each member of the losing team personnel was adding about three feet six inches to their stature.

After absorbing a 250 pound bunting in their first test a few days earlier, the Rebels must have looked on by the hard-nosed Saints as servings of so many Danish pastries before game time.

When it was over they were more likely to regard them as coconut rocks.

Though they held an edge on the score sheet, the visitors took a physical hammering from the supercharged Rebels who displayed some crisp hitting along the line. Crisp enough offensively to open holes that enabled the maddachers to ground out some respectable yardage.

But the marchers consistently ended in the shadow of the up-right as the backfielders developed greasy fingers when ever they smelled padút.

The exchange from centre was bobbled five times, twice when the red-and-blue army had penetrated the five yard line. Alert St. Jerome's defenders recovered the crucial ones.

A fumble recovered by the Saints near mid-field led to their winning TD in the third quarter. An end sweep took the ball deep into Rebels territory. They punched it over by tapping the middle of the Georgetown defense open. The convert was missed.

The second major score was collected the same way, with the Saints' fullback cracking over centre from the two. Again the point after went astray.
