Last Ditch Stand Seeks Ice Time For Raiders

A committee appointed by Raiders fans and officials at a meeting in Stewarttown Hall Tuesday night will sit down with the Arena Board members in a final try to wedge Kader games into the bulging 1963-64 ice schedule. It's the last attempt by Raider supporters to keep intermediate hockey part of the Georgetown sports scene. The meeting disclosed that the Raiders could have gone out of town but shed off the idea for two reasons: Action would be the stronger of two intermediate teams playing ice in Georgetown, we won't there (Action Tanners play have a club) one Raider official told The Herald. "We're with the Arena Board members would tend to follow the lead. Subsequently the Tanners would be hurt financially by games we'd be happy to play league the two-team setup. The second reason for turning thumbs down on playing a miracle the Raiders would in Acton was that the extra be entered in OHA Int B not travel would cause players to miss school. At least one club, Elmore, is town fan interest would probably drop off. An inquiry was also made into the possibility of shifting the team there hasn't been any play in the same loop as Georgetown for the same reason."

Test Junior Bees Strength Tonight Against Etobicoke

Whether or not Del Beane with Junior B competition will be the issue at Etobicoke tonight Tuesday, when the Bees meet the Hawks, is a matter of opinion. The game is the first of two exhibition games to be played on Friday night. The Bees will be in Markham against the Hawks who are also league members. Beane had his chance under the whip last night in Woodbridge. Beane is a product of the program designed to give individuals who want to play ice hockey a chance to play at the same time they can be a part of the team and who stay in the Bees.
