

LOOK SHARP — SHOOT SHARP

THE WOODS NORTH of Georgetown resounded with the crack of a dozen rifles Saturday, but despite apparent noises of battle, the weapons were not being discharged in anger. It wasn't even the annual renewal of the hunter vs. pheasant feud. The trigger squeezers were members of the Georgetown High School Cadet Corps and the destinations for the hail of lead were cardboard targets 20 yards hence. The Cadets and instructors A. Roberts and Blair Armstrong used the range facilities of the former Anglers and Hunters property on the Silvercreek sideroad for a session in accuracy. Above, Mr. Armstrong inspects one of the targets with three of the marksmen. Below, Mr. Roberts, who took over this year as O.C. corrects the firing position of one of the Cadets along the firing line. The Cadets used .303 rifles with .22 bores.

The presentation was followed by a question and answer period which helped to clear up a number of puzzling problems for local gardeners. The latter part of the evening was devoted to one of those plant exchanges which have become popular with the members. At the close of the

Kinettes Promote Meetings With Other Ladies Groups

The October general meeting of the Kinette Club of the betterment of the town. Georgetown saw many plans laid for an active year ahead. The first major achievement was the induction of five new members: Mary Harris, Marilyn Sunnucks, Edna Bell, Jean Murphy and Sue Charlton were presented with their pins and welcomed to the Club after a trying initiation. For the Club social life, a night has been planned to take on the form of a Halloween masquerade party on the 2nd of November and a rollicking good time is to be expected. In the more serious vein, Kinette Gail Collett announced the beginning of elaborate plans for the Kinette Zone A Winter-Club for March 24, 1964. This event will see the Georgetown Club hosting over 150 Kinettes from this area at a dinner and business session. This is always a highlight of the Kinette year. A most successful report was given on the Fall Fair Bake Sale and the Club gives a vote of thanks to the citizenry of the town for their usual good support. It has been decided to again hold the Kinette Krause and Kinette Dorothy Flindlay will chair this highlight of the seasonal season. November has been set as a special meeting, home of Mrs. Appleyard on Thursday evening last week. Seven other ladies organizations will visit the Kinettes. They will enjoy a meal and broaden their knowledge by listening to each other tell of their

Urges Mission Help For Formosa Churches

Mrs. Moore Gordon, Guelph, formerly a missionary with her husband in Formosa was the guest speaker at the Limehouse Presbyterian Church WMS Thankoffering Meeting at the home of Mrs. Appleyard on Thursday evening last week. She told of her eight years of work, chiefly among the aborigines, and illustrated her talk by very interesting slides. She said that great progress has been made. God can even use these simple, primitive people and they now support their own fine mountain churches.
