

IT WAS NO PLACE FOR WEAKHEARTED QUAIL

THE FARM OF Wes lonson, R R 2, Georgetc wn, was the site of International Irish Setter Field Trials Sunday and any game birds with a coronary condition were wise to give the vicinity a wide berth until the big reds were back in their master's station wagons enroute home. Above are owners and setters: J. Pentecost, Akron, N.Y., with Dinty, Clancy and Shauna; F. Bingham, Depew, N.Y., with Pride and Venture; Dayne Honsberger, of Streetsville, with Kerry; Bob Allen, Ancaster, with Belle; B. Kennedy, Hamilton, with Shane; J. A. Myers, Fenwick, with Red; Mrs. R. Dafoe, Burlington, with Holly; R. McCormick, Ancaster, with Lancer; J. S. McCallum, Dundas, with Copper; and Mrs. E. McGowan, Oakville, with Maurey.

-Peter Jones photo ABOVE, SOME OF THE Irish Setters that competed in the Field Trials at the Wes lonson farm Sunday take a breather after flushing game that had been camouflaged in strategic parts of the field. Many of the setters rate the initials C.D. and C.D.X. after their names indicating Companion Dog and Companion Dog Excellent. The three in the foreground are Dinty, Clancy and Shauna, all owned by J.
