LET'S PLAY BRIDGE

by Bill Coats

The bidding in contract bridge has been reduced to a no trump. This is strictly a set of rules. There seem to be duplicate bridge bid designed dozens of rules that should be to get an extra ten points. I do learned. The average bridge player does not recommend on this hand player can leave them all to the since if the club finesse fails expert. To enjoy bridge only six clubs or six spades would few elementary rules are still make whereas six no trump quired. I won't take it up would go down myself to say how many rules. I would like to comment on one should learn to enjoy bridge. This depends on how well the individual wishes to play.

Two of the simpler rules are: an opening bid opposite an opening bid should produce game and one that is not so well-known, an opening bid opposite an opening bid plus a jump should produce a slam.

Scout Group Sponsors Hall Dance and Dinner

The 1st Ballinfad Scout troop sponsored a euchre and dance in the community hall on Fri- day night. The crowd was di- vided for the evening when the cards were played downstairs while dancing was in progress upstairs.

Prizes for the euchre were given out at the social hour, the lunch being provided and served by the boys with the assistance of Scouter Bud Snow.

As the Scout organization is world wide, a minutes' silence was observed in memory of U.S. President. Letters are being sent out this week to all parents of Cubs and Scouts in- viting them to a meeting in the hall on Monday night.

Much concern is being felt regarding the future of these organizations in our communi- ty and the support of all par- ents is needed to carry on.

The sympathy of the com- munity is extended to Mr. E. Rogers in the passing of his wife on Sunday morning. Fun- eral services were held from the McClure Funeral Home on Tuesday afternoon. Interment was in Glen Williams Cemetery.
