

TWO NIGHTS OF DRAMA AND MUSIC — KENNEDY CONCERT

PACKED HOUSES watched public school talent from George Kennedy Public School stage a fine two night variety production last week in the Wigglesworth Auditorium. The program featured dancing, singing, instrumentals and plays. "The New Bride" and "Friday Afternoon Composition" and a Christmas Pageant. An accordion duo, Margaret Barnes and Elaine Haszmever, stole the spotlight in the Wednesday night edition. The audiences both nights saw Douglas Stephens (the Butler), Jo-Anne Fantur (Helen Vaughan), Mitchell Zanos (a Georgetown Herald reporter) and Catherine Meades (the Maid) — all at right — some of the cast of "The New Bride."

United Church Deplores Anti-Semitism Signs

A resolution directed against anti-Semitism was passed at a meeting of the Halton Presbytery of the United Church of Canada last week. The resolution read as follows:
"Be it resolved: That we deplore the Anti-Semitism indicated by the distribution of certain literature bearing the masthead of 'The Christian Educational Association, Union, New Jersey' and in various ways during recent days. That we deplore even more deeply the lack of Christian charity which these actions express. That we assure our Jewish brethren of our fellowship with them and of our desire for a fuller expression of brotherhood amongst all men, whatever their race or creed."

FOLLOW RULES FOR SAFE OUTDOOR LIGHTING

Modern outdoor Christmas lights, with lacquered or rubber protected cord, make it safer than in years past to decorate the trees and shrubs around a house, but there are still some important guidelines.
Never let the bulbs touch the needles. Bulbs of 15 wattage are sufficient. Needles of pine, fir, spruce, yew, chamaecyparis, and hemlock are sensitive to heat. Excessive heat could scorch them.
Hang the sockets downward to keep out snow and water. And periodically check the positions of the light for winds may shift them.

HALTON MANOR

Hornby Institute Presents Birthday Party at Manor

Sunday, November 24th, witnessed two very inspiring church services in the chapel of the manor, one in the afternoon and one in the evening.

Rev. J. I. Graham, conducted the afternoon service and he brought with him two talented members of his church, St. Paul's United in Milton. These friends were Mrs. E. B. Clements who played the organ, and her son Donald who sang a very rewarding solo. "I heard the voice of Jesus say."

The service in the evening was one of inspiration and reverence. It was conducted by two ladies and three gentlemen who had come to the Manor under the auspices of the Young Adult Group of St. Paul's United Church in Long Branch.

Mr. Arnold Stewart was in charge of the service and delivered the sermon. Mr. M. Ballantyne led in the spirited singing of the hymns, which included the beautiful hymn, "How Great Thou Art" which had been sung as a hymn for the first time in the chapel when this same group came last winter. Three talented musicians accompanied these gentlemen to the Manor. Miss Joyce Hutchinson, who played the organ, Miss S. Baker who sang a solo "Hold Thou My Hand" and Mr. S. Lawson who also sang a solo, "If I Can Help Somebody."

Christmas wreaths in the window lent a Christmas atmosphere to the auditorium when the November birthday party was held on Tuesday afternoon, November 26th. The wreaths were the work of some of the members of the Hobby Class. The party was conducted by a group of very friendly ladies who are members of the Hornby Women's Institute. The president, Mrs. S. May, was present and the conveners were Mrs. J. McArron, Mrs. Roy Wilson and Mrs. C. Patterson.

The head table looked very attractive with a lovely bouquet of ferns, mums and a very pretty centerpiece.

Five guests were called to the head table. Mrs. M. David, Mrs. E. Boyd, Miss H. Mares, Mr. W. Varley and Mr. O. Chabot. After they had donned coloured paper hats the candles on the cake were lighted and the Happy Birthday song was sung.

Mrs. McArron put the knife in the cake, she expressed warmest birthday greetings to the guests of honour. Each guest received a gift, the lady gifts being napkins and a pen and the gentlemen's gifts being shaving lotion.

The Institute ladies served a very delicious lunch which they themselves had donated and tea and coffee. Mr. O. Chabot expressed the thanks of all present for this enjoyable party.

The Christmas W.I. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Cleave, 61 Maple West in Georgetown, which was prettily decorated for Christmas on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 10, with 35 ladies and 10 children attending.

President Mrs. John Bird opened the meeting with all singing "Joy to the World." Mrs. James Carney read the Bible Christmas story from the first chapter of Matthew, verses 18 to 25.

Secretary Mrs. Bob Alexander read the minutes of November meeting and called the roll which was answered with a Christmas verse.

$10.00 was voted to be sent to the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto. Mrs. Wilfrid Bird reported on the dinner the W.I. had served for the Federation of Agriculture in Stewarttown the week before.

Mrs. Charles Austin reported for the flower committee and then the program was in charge of Mrs. James McPhail who called on Mrs. C. B. Dick for the motto "Christmas is worth keeping, better than most of us keep it." All sang Christmas carols after which Mrs. Frank Chisholm of Hornby demonstrated Christmas decorations.

There followed a gift exchange and then a lovely Christmas luncheon concluded a happy afternoon.

Three again it is time to say 'Tis just the Christmas story, Simple, sweet and true, But still the most heart warming of any ever told.

Merry Christmas, everybody

The Star Still Shines

The Star still shines — the Star that shone first on Bethlehem. Merchants were busy in the market-place, and government officials did the usual government business; Camel-drivers cursed their surly beasts through narrow streets, where men sweated at their labor, and beggars whined for alms. Only a few wise men looked up and saw the Star that shone for every man to see; and only those few men understood the Star's message of hope, newborn at Christmas. The Star still shines on a world shrunk small; yet, of all mankind, only those who are aware see the Star, and understand its message of hope, reborn at Christmas.

HURRY, HURRY ... Sometimes kiddies just can't wait for the fire to die down. Can't expect Santa to arrive till then, can you? When the fire's only a flickering light, one can get Santa is near somewhere in the night.
