No Violations Here Police Chief Says

Georgetown's emergency fire vehicles never go through red lights, Fire Chief Bob Bonfield said yesterday, commenting on the decision of the Burlington fire department to compel its drivers to stop for lights.

The step was taken as a result of an accident last month when a Burlington fire man drove a truck through a red light, becoming involved in a collision which resulted in a woman's death.

He was acquitted of danger-

Camp Films are Shown At Cub Parent Night

Parents Night was held Dec. 12th at the last regular meeting of 'C' Pack 1st Georgetown in the hall of St. John's United Church with 100 in attendance.

The meeting opened with the grand howl led by Bruce Cartwright. This was followed by inspection games and instructions under the leadership of Mrs. J. Layman, CM, and Scouts Glenn Broomhead, David Shrubsole, Dennis Wright and Henry King. The Cubs formed a circle around the campfire for the investiture of Bruce Cook, Werner Mikoloff, Alex Koolag, Peter Fendley and Murray Wright, when they made their promise to Akela and received the maroon and white group neckerchief of the Pack. Gary Judd and Douglas Getty received their First Star; Larry and Gary Louth; Bruce Cartwright and Bradford Price received Second Stars. Proficiency Badges went to Bryan Day, David Long and Geoffrey Allan. A new Chum, Paul Mahoney received his white neckerchief (coat of white paint).

Mrs. Layman introduced ADC Doug Ward, Ben Cannell, (chairman of the Group Committee) and Rev. Ian Fleming, who all spoke briefly to the Cubs and parents.

Highlighting the evening were films shown by Jim Young which he took at our camp on two occasions last summer. The Cubs enjoyed seeing themselves taking part in games, eating, etc. Slides were shown by Norm Long taken by David Long at camp. David has won two awards at our Holiday shows for his photographs.

The meeting closed with the Mouse Howl, followed by refreshments served by Mrs. Norm Long, Susan Asseltine, Cathy Young, Frankie Layman, and the Scouts. Treats were handed out by Ben Cannell and Jack Layman, donated by the Ladies Auxiliary.

The next regular pack meeting will be January 9th.

$2,500 Property Damage To Main Street Triplex

Asphyxiation and carbon monoxide gas caused the death of an unemployed boarder here on Christmas day an autopsy performed at Oakville disclosed.

The dead man, Gerald J. Ezekiel, 37, of 42 Main St. South, was pronounced dead as he lay on the bed of an adjoining room. The building where the fire occurred is owned by W. J. Harvey of Toronto and but for the efficient work of the Georgetown Fire Dept. the entire block could easily have been razed. The fire was in the part of a triplex just below the Main Street shopping area.

Fire Chief Bob Bonfield was almost a second victim of the heavy smoke. He was partially overcome while fighting the flames but managed to reach fresh air in time.

Ezekiel, a Belle Island, Nfld., native who came here 4 years ago, leaves 3 brothers, and 3 sisters in the Maritimes.

The fire call was turned in investigation by the Ontario Fire Marshal's office, but it is believed a cigarette started the blaze.

The results of the autopsy also revealed the left side of Ezekiel's body was badly burned.

The dead man had been ill for some time and was to start a new job within a few days.

The fire which broke out at about 6:40 p.m. gutted the bedroom and resulted in an estimated $2,500 property damage. It is still under investigation by the Ontario

Don't Mix Alcohol, Driving Is Police Chief's Warning

New Year's Eve celebrations had better stay away from alcohol or the steering wheel of their car.

That's the warning Georgetown Police issued yesterday signalling an all-out effort by the department to curb the rising number of accidents since the commencement of the holidays.

Police will be patrolling the streets in two cruises from early New Year's Eve until the morning of New Year's day and any driver stopped who hasn't heeded their warning will probably see the inside of the local cellblock.

"We can't afford to have drivers with impaired judgment at the controls of a ton of steel that can travel at high rates of speed," Chief Constable Roy Haley said. "These drivers who have indulged before taking the wheel not only lose their sense of judgment but will be upping the odds that it's their sense of responsibility to won't their families, other drivers, their passengers and themselves. When we take action to get them off the road it is not through an urge to dampen anyone's good time but to make sure they, and the innocent other party, live to see the new year. When a driver's brain is fogged by drink we have to do his thinking for him."

It's no secret Georgetown police are a little unhappy about the number of motor vehicle accidents to date. A recent year's average has been in the neighbourhood of 100 reportable accidents per year. At the end of November the total stood at 100. Half way through December it climbed to 120.

The record also includes one fatality, 25 personal injuries, 4 pedestrians hit by cars and 4 hit-and-run accidents.

Police are determined it will be upping the odds that it's their sense of responsibility to won't
