

Would Control Withdrawal Of Water from Credit River

"We have certainly come a long way since the start of the Credit Valley Conservation Authority nearly 10 years ago," said at the annual meeting of the Authority held here recently.

"A great challenge is before us and only by co-operation can we meet at least a part of this challenge," he continued. "We still have a great deal more to do that we may ensure the people of the watershed; as well as future generations, that the natural resources of our valley will be best developed for their use."

In his annual report to the members of the Authority, Mr. McMillan outlined the work completed during the year, acquiring 375 acres at Caledon Lake, 119 acres at Meadowvale and 40 acres in the Orangeville-Mono area. The Caledon Lake property will be kept for conservation purposes and the other two leased back to the municipalities with title to remain with the Authority.

The budget for the Authority for 1963 was, (including grants) $228,000, based on a per capita levy of 60 cents; the same levy which has been in effect for the last four years. All purchases and work of the Credit Valley Conservation Authority are financed from this levy.

Mr. McMillan said that the committee authorized to present the $54 million Flood Control and Water Conservation Plan was most gratified with the reception given to it at the provincial level of government. The plan is at present awaiting clarification on a few points and the committee hopes that these will be cleared up soon so work can get under way on the flood control dams along the Credit River and its tributaries.

During 1963 the Authority subsidized 16 farm ponds, 231,800 trees, both on private and conservation lands. A model of the watershed was exhibited at the Streetsville Trade Fair, World Plowing and the Erin Fall Fair.

This model, along with other exhibits and pictures of the area, is a considerable amount of interest and many enquiries were drawn from the Credit River about the work of the CVCA. Members of the Historical Records Advisory Board worked in co-operation with the Peel County Historical Society in setting up the Belfountain Museum.

More than 90,000 people attended the conservation areas at Terra Cotta and Belfountain during the past summer, according to the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board. There were over 100 applications for swimming lessons held by the lifeguards at Terra Cotta and 44 passed the tests conducted by the Red Cross. At the present time work is being carried out at Terra Cotta to expand the camping area and build a campers' shelter. An implement shed is being built in the service area and an additional tractor has been purchased for use where needed.

"Several changes in the administration procedure have proven very beneficial through the Chairman continued. "Most of the administration is now being carried out from the Terra Cotta office and with the programs contemplated for the Authority over the next 15 years, it is essential that all administration should be through one office."

Mr. McMillan spoke favourably of the new field officer, S. B. White, who joined the Credit Valley Conservation Authority in September from the Timber Branch of the Department of Lands and Forests. Mr. White was a former Zone Forester in Simcoe County.

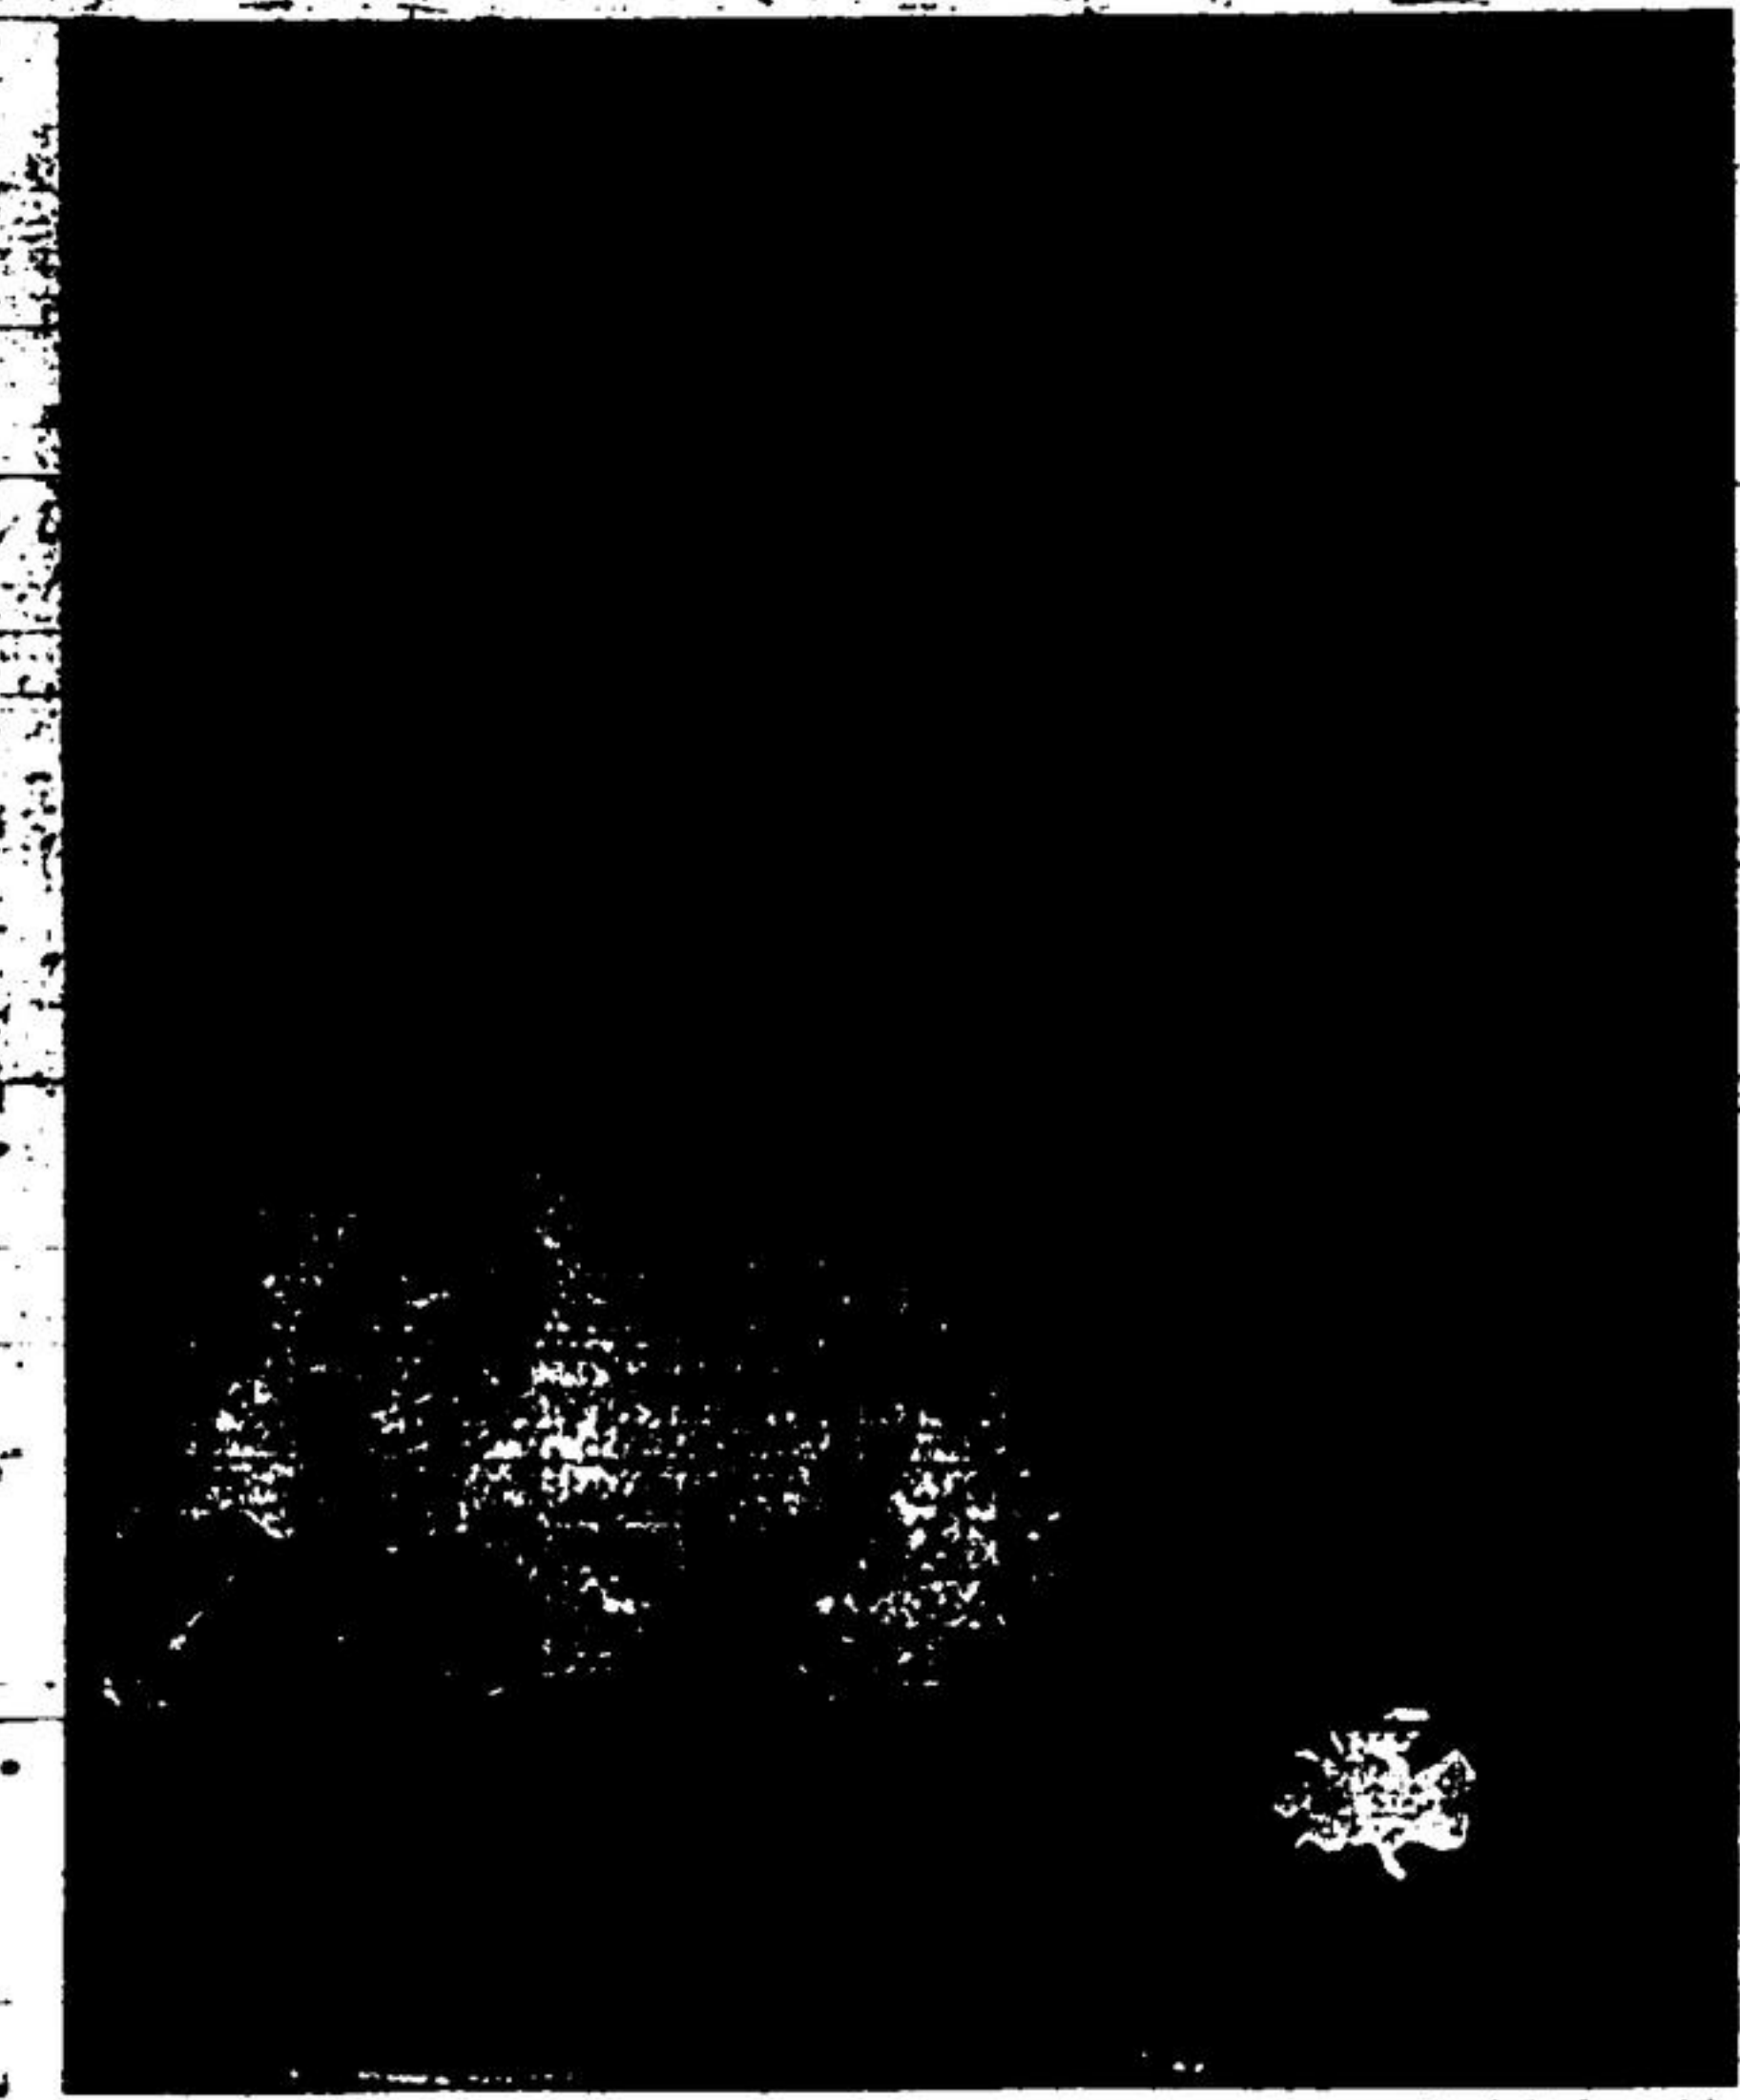

Draft regulations to control fill and construction in the river valleys of the watershed were passed by the Authority at this meeting. These regulations were made under the Conservation Authorities Act and have been submitted to the various provincial departments for approval.

The field officer reported the contour mapping of the watershed by Hunting Survey Corp. Ltd. and it was now up to the Authority to decide who would mark the floodlines on these maps. This was referred to the Flood Control and Conservation Board for their recommendations. Also referred to this Board was the concern felt by the Authority about the water being withdrawn from the Credit River or its tributaries in the future without knowledge or approval of the Authority. It was pointed out that the proposed dams might prove useless if removal of water were permitted without this approval.

J. A. Carr, Chairman of the Restoration and Wildlife Advisory Board, reported on a meeting held early in December. The Board recommended that millet and sorghum be planted as wildlife food and that a program of thinning and pruning be carried out in Forest Conservation Area One on the Fourth Line West in Caledon Township. With the owners' consent, signs will be posted on private property stating that trees were planted by the CVCA.

T. L. Waffle of the Resource Managers outlined their work to the Board and asked if the Authority would provide areas to be used to demonstrate the fundamentals of conservation. It was suggested that there might be some private properties where the Resource Managers could assist the owner with forest management. A committee volunteered to contact these owners and report back to the Authority.

HALYON MANOR

Manhattans Orchestra Provide Musical Program and Dancing

A very informal and pleasant evening of dance music was enjoyed by the residents on Friday night, December 27, when Mr. Ralph Ursel of Georgetown brought his very talented dance band, the Manhattans, to the Manor to play a program. The four instruments in the band, the accordion, the drums, the guitar and the saxophone were played by Mr. Ursel, George Rowe, I. Case and H. Hunter, respectively. The musicians looked very smart in their white jackets and black trousers.

From its opening number, "Love Letters in the Sand," to the closing refrain "Auld Lang Syne," the program was heartily enjoyed. Popular numbers such as "Whispering Cells" and "When the Red Red Robin," as well as waltzes of the Gay Nineties were presented. Mr. and Mrs. Allen danced to the music of "After the Ball" and Mrs. L. Fryer, who in spite of her blindness is a fine waltzer, danced with Mr. Allen to the music of "A Bicycle Built for Two." Mr. Rowe, of the orchestra, and Mrs. Rowe danced to the tune of "I'm Confessin' a Lovely Polka." The Lichtenstein Polka featured the drums played by Mr. Rowe.

During refreshments, tea, coffee and Christmas cake, the musicians received many invitations to come again soon, as did Mrs. Ursel and Mrs. Rowe who were also visitors.

attractive and delicious refreshments served by the Auxiliary ladies.

Two events featuring programs of sacred music brought home to the hearts of residents, the true significance of Christmas during the week immediately preceding December 25th. The first event was a program by the Brampton Corps of the Salvation Army and the second was a church service conducted by Rev. J. I. Graham, minister of St. Paul's United Church, Milton.

The second event spoken of above was a musical church service arranged by Rev. J. I. Graham for Sunday afternoon, December 22nd in the Chapel.

Capacity Crowd Hears Curtola at Dance Party

Brampton's Saturday Dance Party got off to a real swinging start last week when a capacity crowd turned out to hear Bobby Curtola at the Brampton Orange Hall. Backed by the Martells, Bobby sang his popular hits, including "Hitchhiker," "I Cry," "Fortune Teller," "Three Rows Over," "Indian Giver" and "Move Over."

This week it's the Colonials at the party which draws many Georgetown young people. Saturday Dance Party is sponsored by Tu-Ho Productions and features a weekly supervised dance slanted to the teen crowd.

Halton Plowmen Gather Hear Talk of South Seas

Halton Plowmen's association held its annual executive meeting at Hornby United Church last week at which more than 50 members attended the dinner and witnessed the installation of this year's officers.

A. H. Creighton, special representative for agriculture to the Canadian Pacific Railway, addressed the members and he showed slides of a recent visit by 30 Ontario farmers to the South Seas.

Creighton said his visit was primarily a goodwill tour but during the trip a member of the group, W. H. J. Hindsdale, secretary of Canadian Sheep breeders association, spoke to several New Zealand and Australian farmers in an effort to encourage them to pace their supplies of lamb and mutton to Canada to coincide with domestic lamb sales.

Creighton said New Zealand sheep number 48,000,000 with the Australian yielding 158,000,000 with Canada yielding 2,500,000. He said this imbalance causes great hardship among Canadian sheep-breeders.

Later at the meeting, J. A. Francis, Ontario Agricultural Department representative for Halton county installed the officers to the Plowmen's Association.

Named as president was Lloyd May with J. C. Cunningham, 1st vice president; George Swann, second vice president; Clifford McDowell, honorary president and Stanley May, past president.

Directors for Equesing Township are: Clifford Wrigglesworth, Roy Currie, John Wilson, Bill Speck, and associate director Keith Leslie. For Oakville directors: J. Cameron Marshall, Frank Hall, Thomas Howden, John Marchment with associate director William Rayner. For Burlington named were: Roy Elliott, Brock Harris, Erwin Gundy, Ed Segworth and associate director Gordon Thompson. For Nassagaweya named were: Sam Finnie, Sr., Robert Huffer, Ross Gordon, Lloyd Stokes, and associate director Jack Turner.
