FORTY-TWO DEGREES BELOW FREEZING SUNDAY

THESE ICICLE PINGERS reaching toward the ground from the Riviera roof are tangible evidence of the extreme cold that sent Georgetowners indoors on the weekend. The Hereld's weather lady, Mrs. Alicia Scott, recorded a 10 below zero Sunday, second lowest reading this winter. The lowest was 16 below registered last month, the 10 below mark is 42 degrees below freezing - just ask the hundreds of Georgetown motorists whose vehicles refused to start -- or the homeowners who faced burst water pipes Sunday morning
