

BI-CULTURALISM ON ICE

MONTREAL JUNIOR CANADIENS super stars Yvan Cournoyer and Andre Boudrias are welcomed to Georgetown by Georgetown Beavers Murray Marchment and Jack Gudgeon. The Junior Canadiens were in town Saturday night for a quick walk with Beavers who are also affiliated with the Club de Hockey Canadien which makes them second cousins. The largest crowd of the season about 900, watched the Montreal machine's flashing blades.

Irons Stars, Montreal Outclasses Beavers 10-2

by Dean Taylor
 Montreal Junior Canadiens were the toast of Georgetown last Saturday night, when they took time out of their schedule and played the Junior 'B' Beavers in an exhibition game. Beavers' goalie, Robbie Irons, was the busiest man on the ice, stopping 35 shots of the 65 peppered his way.
 Canadiens were led by Andre Lacroix who had 3 goals and 2 assists, and Rene Drouin who had 2 goals and 3 assists.
 Yvan Cournoyer, the Jr. 'A' leading scorer, opened the scoring at 3:58. Ron Lane tied the game at 1-1, scoring on a screen shot. Lacroix and Thyl fault closed the first period

ROBBIE IRONS

Beavers' leading scorer, had 9 THE GEORGETOWN HERALD shots on Andre Gagnon, making good on one.
 The game ended at 9:15 p.m. and the fans stormed out onto the ice, seeking autographs. The Junior Canadiens club, obliged by signing their names. There are only two regular season games left at the arena: on the 14th against Klobicke and on the 21st against Mark-

Huttonville Man President Canadian Lacrosse Group

Known for close to two decades as the "guiding light of lacrosse," Ed Blair of Huttonville has been elected president of the Canadian Lacrosse Association.

News of his election was received Monday from annual convention headquarters in New Westminster, B.C. Carl Madgett of Brampton was elected first vice-president.

It was also announced the Senior Mann Cup series would be played in the east. Likely location is central Ontario. Senior Minto Cup games will be played in the west, hosted Sept. 14 by the British Columbia Lacrosse Association.

In September, 1962, Mann Cup play-offs came to Brampton with the New Westminster O'Keefe's battling the Brampton Ramblers. Last year the series was held in Cornwall.

Mr. Blair, deputy mayor of Chinguacousy Township, has been president of the Ontario Lacrosse Association and in the summer of 1962 received the Tip Leather Trophy for being the most outstanding contributor to lacrosse in the province.

He was first vice president of the Canadian Lacrosse Association last year and is a past president of C.I.A. He was one of the first presidents of the Ontario Minor Lacrosse Association, has guided minor lacrosse in the township for many years and was at one time manager of a Streetsville minor lacrosse team.

It was Ed Blair, negotiating with Bramalea Consolidated Developments Ltd. that brought the Mann Cup series to Brampton 1962.

CAN'T AGREE ON DATE

Former rivals in the OMA Intermediate Central Ontario League, Georgetown Raiders and Bradford Expressmen have been trying to get together for an exhibition game but writing time it looks like they'll miss each other.

The Bradford team, currently riding way above the other entries in the Georgian Bay group, includes in its 1963 line-up five Raiders from last season's club, Moe Galand, Barry Smith, Blake and Gerry Inglis and Doug Richardson.

Original plan was that the Raiders and Bradford would meet in a benefit game here last Sunday but Raiders had a scheduled game with Fergus they couldn't transplant.

Bradford wants to take advantage of an opening in their schedule to play this Sunday but Raiders will be walking with Acton Tanners. The 23rd is out because the Bradfords start their play-offs that night.

The Raiders Bradford relationship is the closest thing to an amicable feud in hockey. Bradford fans always anticipated the Raiders visits and reportedly miss the red team even though they have a big slice of it in friendly sweaters. The same was true here. A Bradford game always lured more customers from their armchairs than any other pairing.

Team execs are still hanging noggins but its doubtful they'll come up with a mutually satisfactory date at this late stage.

LET'S PLAY BRIDGE

by Bill Coats

Sacrifice bidding has its place in rubber bridge, but it is not nearly as obvious as it is at duplicate. If you lost 500 points to keep vulnerable opponents from making game, they will still be vulnerable and can still make game on the next hand.

At duplicate, since each board is counted by itself, sacrificing is much easier. You know that vulnerable opponents will score at least 600 points if they make game. Hence, at 500 point set may actually be good. The most favourable condition for a sacrifice is when the opponents are vulnerable and you are not. This occurred for East, West on board No. 2 last week at the Acton Bridge Club.

Dealer - East.
 North - South vulnerable.

Now, I don't agree 100 per cent with East's three heart bid. However, once it was made, West should support hearts and not bid clubs. It would take a good defense to set East three tricks at three hearts. The 500 points would be well spent since all other North-Souths got to at least game and scored over 600 points.

If West had passed the three hearts doubled, North would have bid spades. In fact, I hoped that West would bid four spades. However, West bid four clubs. Now East-West not only lost the three heart tricks but two clubs as well. The total set was 900 points.

Even this sacrifice would not be in vain if more North-Souths had reached slam. I suppose that all my readers have noticed already that six diamonds or six spades can be made on the North-South cards. This slam should be reached if there is no pre-emptive bid by East.

When your partner has opened with a pre-emptive bid (a bid of three or more), if you are going to bid, always support your partner's suit if you have two cards in suit. A pre-emptive bid announces that this is the only suit in that hand worth bidding. There is guarantee of support for any other suit.

Monday night winners at Acton Bridge Club this week were Mike Lorusso and Earl Emond, first; Jack Cooper and Gloria Coats, 2nd; Tom Warnes and Dick Anderson, 3rd.

Midgets Sharpen for Showdown Carve 2-1 Win at Burlington

Georgetown Midgets defeated Burlington 2 to 1 on Monday, Feb. 10th at Burlington, Burlington, who are a class higher than Georgetown, are playing off with Hamilton in OMA play-offs and currently leading that series.

Both teams played wide-open hockey but Georgetown had the edge in play. However, they were over-anxious and missed scoring more goals.

In the first period Georgetown were right on top of the play and out-skated and out-played Burlington.

Playing at one point with a two-man advantage, Burlington could not get into Georgetown's end and when they did B. Peavoy came up with some great saves. With J. Popell, B. Dwyer, D. Sheppard, S. Llewellyn, D. Malcolm, P. Robinson, T. Hay, A. Arnold up front doing a fine job of penalty killing.

In the second period Georgetown broke into the scoring column when they put on the pressure, S. Llewellyn from D. Sheppard scoring at the 11:30 mark. B. Dwyer scored moments later but the referee disallowed the goal. While Burlington was serving a penalty, Coach Gerry Inglis put on the power-play and at 18:10 S. Llewellyn made it 2 to 0 from P. Robinson and T. Hay. Both teams started to hand out stiff body checks but Georgetown made the opposition keep their heads up.

In the third period while Georgetown was serving a penalty Halley scored for Burlington at 12:30, unassisted. The goal seemed to give the Burlington team a lift but Georgetown checked them before they could get organized and B. Peavoy came up with good saves. The third period was a parade of penalties; Georgetown receiving most of them.

Georgetown's next game is tonight (Thurs.) with the opposition being Hamilton. There will be a door prize donated by R. Gougeon Furniture.

Georgetown are still waiting for the winners of Dundas and Inch Park (Mount Hamilton) in the first round of OMA play-offs, but expect to be playing next week.

HAVE YOU MISSING TROPHY

Milton, Acton or Georgetown will win a trophy this year that won't be presented. Nobody knows where it is.

The Harris Trophy, emblematic of the Intermediate hockey championship of Halton County, has not been awarded for years because it is lying tarnished and dust-coated in somebody's basement or attic. Chances are whoever has it doesn't know it.

Recently Raider hockey club officials have started asking about the missing trophy and their curiosity has started peering in dark corners and old cupboards for the county's once-coveted silverware. Maybe you've got it. Take a look.
