Wings of the Morning' and 15-year-old Wendy Marks earned the reserve championship in the pony jumper class in their tour of Ontario horse shows this season.

Wendy, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Marks attended a dinner-dance last week in Preston when the award, a scroll was presented.

Local people saw Wendy Lake junior championship honours at Georgetown fair, a performance she repeated in her father's home town of Harris. Her 22 prize ribbons this season were gathered also at the CNE and Royal Winter Fair, Woodbridge, Caledon and Jefferson City horse shows.

Richardson Stars when Brads Oust Collwood

The Georgian Bay Intermediate A group title may well have been decided when Georgetown Raiders ran temporarily aground and hitched up with the Western Ontario Athletic Association last fall.

In Bradford Saturday night, five Raiders who roared with Bradford Mel's Expressmen this season after years of labouring in the red and white were instrumental in vaulting the marshtown over Collingwood Shipbuilders into the Georgian Bay Intermediate finals. Blake and Gerry Inglis and Doug Richardson, homebrew Raiders, and Moe Galand and Harry Smith who became imported regulars here, were wearing the Bradford green and gold, but in the Georgetown contingent in the stands, about 75 strong, the quietest was the third team on the ice.

Richardson was Bradford's best performer. He scored the first goal and the third, (the winner), in the Expressmen's 5-2 overtime coup. It gave Bradford the best of 5 semi-final over Harry Lumley and company 3 games to 2.

The teams were tied 2-2 at the end of regulation time. Collingwood led 2-0 at one point.

Ed Hasslet, Phil Nicholas and Bob Hassard scored the other Bradford goals. Brainard and Smith tallied for Collingwood. Bradford will meet Midland or Harris currently tied in the other semi-final series.

COLLINGWOOD — Harry Lumley, Leonard, Hill Ritchie, Walmaley, Reid, Brainard, Rob-Fitter, Keith, Patterson, Meek, Nixon, Ineson, Rawn, Taylor, Smith and,

IRENE HUNTER OBTAINS SWIM INSTRUCTOR BADGE

A Terra Cotta girl has received her Red Cross swimming instructor's badge.

Irene Hunter, whose father is Georgetown's deputy reeve, took her tests in Toronto recently and successfully completed the rigorous course which qualifies her as an instructor.

A Grade 13 student at Streetsville high school, Irene expects to be teaching swimming classes at Terra Cotta conservation park this summer. She assisted at the swimming pool there last summer.
