

THEY SANG FOR THEIR SUPPER

Not Bake Shop-Brownies But Smart Cookies

North Georgetown District Brownies and Guides put their talent to work Thursday and Friday in a Variety Show that went a long way toward earning them a new area camp. Full houses at Wrigglesworth Auditorium watched some 30 acts staged by Brownies and Guides of the sponsoring district, for the least of which was 5th Georgetown's production of "Anne Oakley's First Shooting Match." Below are members of the cast: Lorraine Howes, Mary Frost, Ellen Yaley, Lynne Freeman, Debbie Elstiger, Jackie Rayner, Ann McDonald, Karen Dorsey, Elizabeth Pringle, Sheila Jeffrey, Irene Hawes and Brenda Holme. At left are 7th Georgetown Guides who took part in the Arabian Nuts skit. Heather Baines, Sandra Kimberley, Anne Malcolm and Kim Redding. Proceeds were for the area camp.

School Debentures Only If Government Assists

The increasing wariness with which Councils view school board expenditures, was shown again Monday night at a special meeting of Esquimaux Council.

The Esquimaux School Board had asked Council to authorize the issuing of $170,000 debentures for two additions to the schools — three rooms at Glen Williams and three at Stewarttown. Council however, finally gave approval to the issuance of $152,000 debenture, provided that they could get a loan through the municipal works assistance program. Council made it quite clear that without the loan, they would not give approval.

In cutting the request from $170,000 to $152,000, Council felt that furnishings and architect's fees were not part of the building.

In reply to Reeve G. Leslie's question as to the need for the additions, school board chairman Mrs. S. Armstrong explained that adding three rooms at the Glen and Stewarttown would bring them to eight grade schools, and would enable students to be taken out of the present town hall in the Glen.

She explained further that the projected enrollment calls for five more rooms hurriedly, but the extra one would be much cheaper to build at the same time.

At present there are thirty-three rooms in the township, 6 at the Glen, 3 at Norval, 2 at Milton Heights, 5 at Spey-side, 6 at Linehouse, 6 at Pineview and the one rented in the Glen town hall.

Reeve Leslie pointed out the possibility of 50 or 60 children being withdrawn from the public school system, when the Christian Reformed Church is built. Eight acres almost right across the road from the township building on the 7th line has been purchased for this purpose.

Councillor G. Currie pointed out that no grant, nor support of any kind would come from the township. "It would be a private school," he added.

"We can't count on that school to alleviate our space problem," commented Mrs. Armstrong.

Architect H. Barnett explained that some of the higher costs were due to the fact that new septic tanks and wash rooms would be needed, since existing facilities had been designed only to include one addition which has already been added.

Recounts Indian Legends At Businesswomen Dinner

On Monday evening members of the Business and Professional Women's Club were hosts to representatives of many of the local women's organizations in town with several members of the Teachers' Federation of Acton, when Mrs. Ethel Brant Monture was the guest speaker.

Miss Jean Mackenzie, president, welcomed the 75 guests who sat down to dinner in Stan's Restaurant. Mrs. Ada Wilkinson was convener of the evening. At the conclusion of dinner, Mrs. Gladys Aiken introduced four members of the Georgetown Branch of the SPEBSQSS, Inc. who delighted everyone with several numbers, one of them being a special greeting to Mrs. Monture. Steamer Emmerson, Glen McKnight, Duncan Thomson and Dave Morgan were the members of the quartette.

Mrs. Elizabeth Buck who was a friend of Mrs. Monture's in their girlhood, introduced her mentioning many happy reminiscences of those days. Mrs. Monture's topic was 'Indian Legends'. She stated that she was particularly fond of the legends of the flowers and told the story of how the water lilies came to live on the rivers and ponds and also the story of the trailing arbutus. These were beautiful stories and it is hoped that soon Mrs. Monture will be able to assemble a book of these. As one listens they realize that a people with such beautiful, quiet and thoughtful legends cannot be as savage as they have been portrayed by movies and the press for so many years. That they are a race of people who are not understood and who have been mistreated and taken advantage of for many, many years. One amusing and surprising item of interest was that when the Mississauga Indians sold this section of the country to the 'whites', part of the money (and this is taken from their records) was allocated to take care of the 'distress of the Irish and Scottish immigrants' who were having a difficult time of it.

Mrs. Monture interspersed her talk with many legendary poems which all told their own story, and she closed with the famous poem 'The Song My Paddle Sings' by Pauline Johnson. Mrs. Astrid Hornby presented a gift in appreciation and expressed the sincere thanks of all present. Several of the guests asked questions of various aspects of the Indian life and culture.

Mrs. Albert Presswood and

Served Lorne Scots Overseas, First War

Funeral service was held at the Harold C. McClure Funeral Home on Friday for William Henry Preston, 97, a resident of 58 King St. E. for 25 years.

Mr. Preston was born at Bailey, Yorkshire, England, in 1890. His parents and family came to Canada in 1910 and took up residence in Glen Williams. He joined the army in 1915 and served with the 104th Battalion, Lorne Scots, being transferred to machine gunner with the Lorne Scots. He was discharged in March, 1919.

He was employed at the E. Y. Harralough woolen mills, where he met and married Hazel Ilitchcock in November, 1910. He worked at the lower mill of Provincial Paper, Ltd. for almost 30 years until it closed in 1947, from there he went to the Alliance mill where he worked until his retirement in 1961. He was a stationery engineer at both mills.

He was a member of Branch 120, Canadian Legion and of the Provincial Quarter Century Club.

Mr. Preston had been in ill health for over a year and died at his home late Tuesday evening. He leaves his wife, one daughter Edna (Mrs. Jack Topp) of Oak Ridge and three sons, Roy of South Burnaby, B.C., Ross of Langley, B.C., and Wayne at home; 10 grandchildren, Mary and Lillian Lawson, Brian, Martin, Richard, Danny, Marion, and Jeffrey Preston, David and Johnny Topp; and two great-granddaughters, Robin and Julie Phipps of Downsview. He also leaves a sister and three brothers, Louis, (Mrs. William Lorrinman), George and Herb of Glen Williams and James of Chatham.

Rev. Norman Young conducted the funeral service and pallbearers were Harry Savings, Albert Carter, James Murphy, Ken Hunter, J. G. (Gob) Collier and Harry Hayward. Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery.

Dundalk Resident Was Former Avro Employee

Walter Sheppard, 75, whose son Arthur lives at 21 Tyers Avenue, died in Dundalk on March 12.

A native of Bristol, England, he came to Canada in 1913, lived in Saskatchewan until 1942 when he moved to Brampton. He was employed at Victory Aircraft and Avro. He retired seven years ago and moved to Dundalk.

He leaves his wife, three sons, Raymond and Fred, Brampton and Arthur, Georgetown, and eight grandchildren.

COUNTY BRIEFS

At last week's meeting, Halton County Council approved the following:

Approved a grant to the Halton Agricultural Society of $1,000. Representatives had asked consideration of a $1,500 grant. The county had approved a $1,500 grant over the previous five years, but $500 of it was to assist in the construction of a grandstand. Now the five year period had ended.

Agreed to a balance of $280,500 to the Oakville-Trafalgar Memorial Hospital as soon as they receive a certificate from the architect authorizing final payment to the contractor.
