

PLATT WINS CONTEST

COLUMNIST GETS PROVINCIAL RECOGNITION
BRANCH 120 COLUMNIST Don Platt whose 'Legion Notes' appear weekly in the Herald became the first recipient of the Len A. Taylor Memorial Trophy when he won a province-wide competition for Legion Branch publicity men. The trophy was presented by the Ontario Provincial Command of the Royal Canadian Legion. The judging was based on submitted scrapbooks containing newspaper clippings.

Describes Life in Germany As Wife Of Airforce man

Mrs. Ada Wilkinson was in the chair for the regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club on Monday evening at the McGill Hotel. The president, Miss Jean MacKenzie is in Canberra, Australia, where she will attend the International Board meeting of the Business & Professional Women's Club.

Minutes and the treasurer's reports were dealt with and reports heard from various committees. The Ways and Means Committee gave a tentative date of May 16th for the forthcoming rummage sale. Mrs. Gladys Alken and Mrs. Wilkinson attended the Provincial conference in the Royal York Hotel on the weekend of April 17th. Mrs. Lorene Sanford attended the Saturday evening banquet. Reports were given from the conference dealing with resolutions passed and the workshop attended. This report on the Automation workshop was particularly interesting.

Mrs. Wilkinson had been the scheduled speaker for the April meeting for two months so in spite of having to take the president's chair she still fulfilled her speaking schedule. She talked of her three years in Europe, particularly in Germany, as an air force wife. Her talk was most interesting and enjoyable since she told many things that the average tourist wouldn't be aware of, some humorous, some serious. She told of her volunteer work at the radio station connected with the base where their objective was to bring Canadian news and happenings to the men and women so far from home. She told of her problems of shopping away from the convenient supermarkets that she was used to.

One of the missions of the Canadian Forces overseas, is to be ambassadors of Canada, and this is always in the minds of all of them, since they realize just how important it is that the countries where they are stationed, have a good picture of Canada and its people and also that the occupying forces learn to live with, and understand, the problems and way of life of the occupied country.

Beautiful coloured slides were shown of many parts of Germany, France, Italy, and the Scandinavian countries, where the Wilkinson family had travelled on camping trips during their three years. Everyone at the meeting showed their sincere thanks for a most interesting and educational talk. The meeting closed with the Benediction.

Scores Councillor for Remarks About Strike

11 Elizabeth St.

Dear Sir:

I would like through the medium of your paper to express my concern at the remarks of one of our councillors. Perhaps Cr. Hildebrandt has not lived long enough under our democratic system of government to know that only after the workers go through all our outdated labour laws it is his privilege to withhold his labour.

Then it is the responsibility of all organized labour to support him in his fight, by parole in help keep up his morale, and by financial help in the economic struggle.

No one claims that our democratic system is very efficient, but it has outlasted those totalitarian forms of government, whose first actions have always been to do away with the trade union movement, and while the average Canadian does not take as much interest in his union as he should, he would not want to be without it because he knows that the high standard of living that we have in Canada today was not a free gift of management, but was fought for and won by organized labour.

—B. HADDOCK.
