GREEN RECRUITS FOR THE JOLLY GIANTS

Red Sox Here Sunday Test Revamped Giants

Georgetown Giants of the Halton Intermediate ball league, an improved team on paper, last their strength this Sunday in an exhibition game here with Milton Red Sox. It's the first of a possible three exhibition game series. Other pre-schedule tilts are expected to be arranged with Guelph of the Sevier Inter-county League, and Georgetown Midnets. Manager Mike Lorusso is openly optimistic about his club's 1964 chances. "We've had only five or six workouts so far but already I can say we have a better ball club than last season," he said this week. Lorusso is especially happy with the form of Bernie Dore, one of just two pitchers able to stop Campbellville Merchants in regular season play last year. "He's in great shape right now," says Lorusso. "He's in

Too Few Signed Up Softball Gals Needed

The Georgetown Girls Softball League will expand to 12 teams this year, even if the organizers have to thin out the roster to do it.

The Kinsmen who fostered the rebirth of girls' softball here intend to make both the Senior and Junior divisions 6-team circuits, but they're having some difficulty chasing up a sufficient registration. Last year, the divisions included four teams each. To date 124 girls have signed to play, more than last year, but short of what will be needed to add four teams. Registration days were Saturday or Monday but because of the player shortage, the deadline has been extended to this week-end. Anyone interested but not yet registered, should phone either 877-0805 or 4511 after 5 p.m.

Models for Fashion Show Detailed to Men's Club

The Georgetown Golf and Country Club Ladies Section fashion show was a sell out on Monday night for the third consecutive year.

Holiday fashions was the title and theme of this year's display which featured fashions from Lynard's Yemline Fashion and Lynard's Dads and Lads shop, hairstyling by La Villa Hair Stylists, and shoes by Dugan Shoes. All three businesses are located in Streetsville Plaza. Mrs. Gertrude Ward commented on the modelled wear. Wayne Preston supplied background music on a Baldwin organ from Barber Piano and Organ.

"I HOPE YOU CAN READ BRAILLE FELLOWS"

A HAMILTON MAN with a wealth of umpiring moxy gained during years behind the plate south of the border is George Baines (right) who conducted the umpiring school for the Halton Baseball Association in Georgetown arena during the past three weeks. The school concluded Sunday with examinations. Here George reviews the rule book with Georgetown umpires Don Platts, Charlie Jenner, and Bill Korzack of Glen Williams.

Buffalo Scout-O-Rama Mecca for Local Group

Travelling by four Georgetown Transportation Co. buses a party of 160 district scouts travelled to Niagara and Buffalo on Saturday. They toured the Sir Adam Beck power plant at Queenston, had a picnic lunch at Niagara Falls and spent the early afternoon there where the scouts toured such features as the auto museum and wax museum, and according to the leaders "every hot dog stand." Proceeding to Buffalo, the scouts visited the Scout-O-Rama at Buffalo arena, viewing exhibits and making new friends among Buffalo area scouts. Some brisk trading of uniforms and souvenirs took place and most of the locals looked more like American scouts by the evening's end. One unhappy incident took place. A scout from Kitchener had his wallet taken and as a result had no way home. A local scout leader drove him home from town. 1st Georgetown scoutmaster Dave Hastings arranged the trip and Dave Shrubsole acted as commander in chief for the day. Each bus had a patrol leader, Dennis Wright, Stewart Daniels, Glenn Broomhead and Peter McNamara.
