

Would You Believe It? It's for Education

THEY MAY LOOK like bit players in a stocking commercial to you, but they're actually Kinettes putting the polish on their Can Can routine that will entertain the customers at the annual Kinette Kruse, this year bringing Gay Parade into the Riviera. Chairman Hunter Quits Industrial Commission

Deputy Reeve Wm. F. Hunter, who is chairman of the Industrial Commission this year has tendered his resignation from the commission. At a meeting last week, Mr. Hunter handed in his written resignation. He gave no reason in his letter, but in conversation with the Herald later, the deputy reeve intimated that he is not happy with the commission setup this year. Initially sparked by the Chamber of Commerce, the Mr. Hunter's resignation was accepted by members at a meeting last week, however he decided to limit his term to six months, with Mr. Hunter as chairman, Reeve intend to retire from the post. John Elliott secretary treasurer Mayor Gibbons and Crs Chamber of Commerce, the Jim Young, Bob Francis and Bill Smith

LET'S PLAY BRIDGE

by Bill Coats

I have often been asked the question, 'How do you know when to draw a trump?' The simplest answer I know is, 'Draw trump unless you have a good reason not to.' The usual reasons for not drawing trump are: you want to ruff something or you need trump for entries after another suit is set up.

I would like to show you a hand from last Monday's meeting of the Acton Bridge Club, where by simply drawing trump, I got a top board. You will have to remember that at duplicate it is not just enough to make your contract. You must try to take as many tricks as possible.

This is board No. 18. The dealer is South and East-West are vulnerable.

North
S—8 8 7 4
H—Q J 6 4 2
D—7
C—K 8 7

West East
K—A Q 10 S—D 7
H—10 9 5 H—8 7
D—K 10 3 D—A Q J 10 6
C—10 5 4 3 C—Q J 6 2

South
S—K J 3 2
H—A K 3
D—8 5 4 2
C—A 9

The bidding:
South West North East
1 S Pass 2 S Pass
Pass Pass

North is not strong enough to bid his heart suit and must settle for the simple raise in spades. South might try three spades but the bidding should finish there.

It does not matter what West leads. The whole point of this hand is to take out trump. There is no reason not to. The solid heart suit must be protected. There is no reason to ruff diamonds as they can be pitched on dummy's hearts.

I received a club lead and won in dummy with the king. I led a spade and finessed. West took the trick and returned a club. I won with the ace and led a low spade, hoping to drop the ace, but no luck. West took his two spades and led a third club. I ruffed and ran the good hearts. In the end, I lost three trump tricks, but only one diamond, for a total of four losers.

Two other pairs tried spades, but made only eight tricks. I can only suppose that the hone too solid trump suit kept them from taking out trump.

Two other pairs tried hearts as a trump suit. This didn't pay off, as it is difficult, but not impossible, to make nine tricks with hearts trump. With eight cards, in a suit between the two hands, it is usually better to play in a suit divided four-four, than a suit divided five-three.

So don't forget. Take out trump unless you have a good reason not to.
