Mrs. Robert Lane 90 Years A Resident of Limehouse

Mrs. Robert Lane Sr., the former Catherine Scott, Limehouse, celebrated her 90th birthday on August 9th when she was entertained by members of her family, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harvey Norton, Limehouse. It had been planned that the celebration would be a family dinner party at Spot on 7 but unfortunately Mrs. Lane was not well enough to attend.

Mrs. Lane was born on the 6th line on the farm now owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Berg, Limehouse, on August 9th, 1874.

Ford Bramlea Parts Depot • 8 Million Dollar Moving Job

The largest moving job ever to take place in Canada will be completed this week when final transport load of parts arrives at the National Parts and Accessories Depot on the Ford Motor Company in Bramlea.

The first parts were moved from Windsor on June 20 and the plant in Bramlea commenced operation on July 20. Allan Foran, director of the Bramlea plant, explained. The moving consisted of 822 transport trailer loads, not only from Windsor but also from the Toronto plant, which has been combined with the National depot for smoother operation, and also some 200 railroad box cars. In all 200,000 parts, worth 10 million dollars, have been moved. They range in size from minute pieces of wire to cabs for trucks. Two shifts have been working unloading the parts and placing them in the plant.

Bramlea was chosen as the site of the new plant, Mr. Foran said for several reasons. It is in the area which is the hub of the transportation of the country, it is close to Malton airport, and the company does a great deal of air freight, the rail lines also are centred in this area and the company's major market is the Toronto-Hamilton area.

Open Mid-October

The cost of the building, movement of personnel and the parts Mr. Foran estimated would be over eight million dollars. The building Mr. Foran said would be officially opened in mid-October. "We want to be proud of the function of our operation as well as the building, before we open," he added.

Early in September a movie of the Bramlea Ford operation will be shown to the dealers to introduce the new 1965 cars. Following this the film will be available for schools and organizations, which might like to use it, Mr. Foran said.

The 850 employees who work in this new plant enjoy the latest material handling techniques in Canada. A trip through the offices and plant reveals this amazing new trend in industry.

The foyer is large with a comfortable waiting room just to the right of the entrance. On the floor is a bright red rug which gives a friendly warm glow to the entire room. Straight ahead as you enter is the circular staircase to the third floor. (You actually enter the building on the second

Weather Damaged Area Crops No Government Aid Coming

Local farmers will not be eligible for the Federal Government's recent announcement that some farmers, whose crops have been affected by the weather, will receive financial aid.

Under the scheme, only farmers in Eastern Ontario will receive help. In that area, a drought has played havoc with the crops and many people have suffered heavy financial losses. Hay, normally reserved for the winter months, has had to be given to cattle and it is understood that the government intend to see supplies of hay shipped into the area.

This news was given to a group of local farmers at a meeting last week. Later Hoy Coulter, chairman, said they would not benefit because their crops had been destroyed by the violent hail storm which ripped through the locality over two weeks ago.

Then, over 150 farmers were affected and $300,000 worth of damage was caused.

"Apparently," said Coulter, "insurance is not available to cover a drought, but there are insurance provisions to cover hail damage."

The farmers were not covered by insurance and they stand to lose great deals of money if compensation is not forthcoming.

It was with this in mind that a seven-man delegation, representing the farmers, met Agricultural Minister W. H. Stewart earlier this week.

He suggested that the farmers arrange a public collection campaign and promised that whatever amount they raised, he would ask the Provincial Government to make a grant of a similar amount.

But at the farmers' meeting it was decided such a campaign should be held outside the area. This would take the weight off people who had already had to bear all the burden.

Coulter, who organized a meeting of the farmers immediately after the crop-destroying storm, said they would welcome anyone who was prepared to investigate the campaign.

Commenting upon the estimate of $300,000 crop damage, he said he regarded this figure as "rather conservative."

"I think the storm made farmers realize they should be armed with insurance policies," he declared, adding "Steps are being taken towards the end."

Coulter intimated that the Federation of Agriculture would be contacted and asked for their views on insurance policies to cover possible similar damages next year.

Because the effects of DDT or Thiodan may wear off before all danger of bug damage is over, the Research Station is now testing non-residue spray materials that can be safely used in a second spray after the fruit has formed. DDT and Thiodan cannot be used after the blossoms open because of their poisonous residues.

It is now expected that commercial strawberry growers will be able to prevent most of the catfacing damage to the berries by a single, early-season spray with perhaps a second, non-residue spray where the bugs are unusually abundant.
