Manor Ladies Prizewinners In Handicrafts at C.N.E.

Word was received at the Manor about August 21st of the marks obtained by those women residents who had entered the handicraft competitions at the C.N.E. this year. Although no actual prizes were won, the high marks awarded proved the excellence of the work. The highest mark, 90, was obtained as an honorable mention in the baby socks section by Mrs. A. Cumming. Two ladies received marks of over 80, these being Mrs. Elizabeth Moore with a mark of 83 for a plastic knitting bag in the novelty section and Mrs. A. Collier with a mark of 82 for a hand sewn apron. The other ladies, who also won creditable marks were Mrs. W. Larkin with a mark of 80 for a stuffed rabbit in the toy section; Mrs. M. Smythe and Mrs. Wm. McMillan with 80 each for work socks and Mrs. Forbes with 78 for baby socks.

The church service on Sunday afternoon, August 23, was conducted under the auspices of the Christian Business Men's Committee of Oakville. Mr. G. McAllister was the leader, Mrs. McAllister the organist and Mr. D. Brainer the speaker. During the service the congregation learned one stanza of a new hymn, "Jesus is the Sweetest Name I know" and also sang a verse of "How Great Thou Art." In addition to singing several familiar hymns, Mr. McAllister read Psalm 119 and offered prayer. Mr. Brainer chose as the text for his fine sermon, "Praise Ye the Lord" from Psalm 117. He first described Christ's coming to earth as the coming of One intended as a Sacrifice for all sinners. The Psalmist laid great stress on the words "Praise Ye the Lord" and this is what every individual should do. When Jesus comes into our hearts we become new creatures and praise to God fills our souls.

Monday night, August 24th, was a delightfully cool evening for the playing of bingo games by the residents, when a group of ladies representing the W.A. of the Milton Branch No. 138 of the Royal Canadian Legion came to the Manor to conduct an evening of bingo. Mrs. P. Watts, the president of the W.A. and Mrs. Jean Hasselfeldt were both present and Mrs. Hasselfeldt also called the bingo numbers in excellent fashion. Both of these ladies extended gracious greetings to the residents. Fifteen games were played and 16 prizes awarded. Miss Agnes Reid won two prizes and each of the following won one prize: Mrs. M. Forbes, Mrs. E. Hillis, Mrs. R. Crowe, Mrs. A. Agnew, Mrs. T. Wright, Mrs. Wm. McMillan, Mrs. S. Szegielski, Mrs. B. Hartlen, Miss H. Marcy and Messrs. Y. MacIsaac, E. McKinley, Bill Thompson, E. Foley, and M. McCann. Mrs. Hartlen's prize was for a full card.

After these very entertaining bingo games delicious refreshments were served. The Legion ladies had provided ice cream and raisin bread and these were served with tea and coffee. Mrs. Agnew gave an appreciative speech of thanks and invited these gracious and generous Legion ladies to come again soon.

Those gay summer flowers, the simias, had been used very effectively to provide three lovely bouquets for the bread table on the occasion of the August birthday party on Wednesday afternoon, August 26th. The party was held under the auspices of the Mountain - Union Women's Institute. Mrs. M. Readhead, the president of the Institute was MC. Mrs. J. Robertson was the program convener and Mrs. V. Norris the lunch convener. Mrs. Readhead opened the proceedings by reading a very appropriate little poem "Smiles" after which the Institute ode was sung and the Mary Stewart Collect repeated in unison. Mrs. Readhead extended greetings to all the residents and then in particular to those having birthdays in August. Following these greetings a very entertaining and varied program was presented.

The first two numbers on the program were dances performed very expertly by little girls. Suzanne Ricketts danced an Irish jig and Karen Ricketts and Margo Clark danced the Tea for Two Cha Cha. The costumes worn by these dancers were very striking, the first costume being green and the two in the second number rose and black. 14 Institute ladies lined up at the front of the auditorium to sing a medley of old songs. They sang a very original parody of "Old MacDonald Had a Farm." Mrs. K. Griffith, wife of Rev. K. Griffith who is the minister of Lowville United Church sang a very amusing parody of "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," with the title "In the Crust of the Old Apple Pie." The ladies sang by request "Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet" and the audience joined in. The accompanist was Mrs. S. Chisholm.

Several interesting readings were given. Mrs. G. McNish's reading was "Wanted, a Minister's Wife." Mrs. Gattie's was "Our Queen" and Mrs. L. Dixon was "Caleb's Courtship."

A kitchen band entered the auditorium through the rear door and marched to the front of the room where they played a number of such old favourites as School Days on their toy and kitchen instruments. All these ladies in the band wore fancy hats which were definitely NOT of the 1964 season Mrs. Readhead was the accompanist for these numbers.

Mrs. Griffith sang three sacred songs which included "How Great Thou Art." Her accompanist was Mrs. Readhead. Mrs. Griffith also led the audience in singing "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands."

3 young girls, Suzanne and Karen Ricketts and Margo Clark, dressed in white dresses and Scottish tartans, danced two Scottish dances. The lively piano duets, one of which was "On the Race Course," were played by Mrs. R. Anderson and Mrs. N. Lawson.

Mrs. Robertson thanked all who had part in the program. The Institute choir lined up again to sing a few more songs and then the Queen and the Institute Grace. The guests of honour were called to the head table and the Happy Birthday song was sung for them. Each guest was presented with a birthday card and a $1.00 bill. The Institute ladies then served a delicious lunch of sandwiches, pickles and birthday cake, which they had donated, and tea and coffee. Mrs. S. Allen was the hostess for the evening. Miss C. Moore thanked the visitors very warmly for the wonderful afternoon's entertainment and refreshments.

The six guests of honour were Mrs. Wm. McMillan, Mrs. E. Moore, Miss C. Moore and Messrs. J. McKinney, Dick Kemp and Wm. Thompson.

Automobile Safety Director Cites Georgetown's Record

"Georgetown has had a perfect traffic safety record for the first week of school for years. Every effort will be made to maintain this record." This statement was made by Alfred Oakie, managing director of the Hamilton Automobile Club, who added that, "children are excited about going to school for the first time or meeting their friends again after the long summer vacation. They are not always as alert to traffic hazards as they might be. The beginners may have had no fundamental traffic safety training. They are just not aware of their danger and are the more vulnerable as a consequence."

Mr. Oakie went on to say, "Experience has proved that the first few days of school are the critical ones and motorists, in particular, must be prepared to accept greatly increased responsibilities. There were 10 youngsters injured in traffic mishaps during the first week of school last year. In half of these cases the motorist was assessed with the responsibility."

This will be the 9th consecutive year the Hamilton Automobile Club has conducted its "School's Open - Drive Carefully" campaign in the district. Once again eye-catching posters illustrating this theme will be seen along the approaches to school areas and in store windows. Thousands of bumper strips will be distributed to fleets and individual car owners as a reminder to motorists to heed this advice.

"Although the theme of this program is directed at the motorist, the safety of our children is not his responsibility alone," said Mr. Oakie. "Parents also have an undeniable obligation to protect their children in traffic. Those children starting for the first time must be taught the basic rule of Stop, Look and Listen. They should be taken, on foot, along the one safest route to and from school until they are thoroughly familiar with it. They should be taught the meaning of traffic signs and signals and the proper place and way to cross streets and highways."

WHAT DO YOU DO? Campers and boaters often carry extra gas, using plastic containers originally intended for household bleaches or other liquids. On a hot day the heat and gas may cause the plastic to disintegrate or take fire. The temperature in a trunk or boat may reach 150 degrees. Special plastic containers for gas are obtainable but those designed for household chemicals are unsafe for gasoline.

The bride is the daughter of Lela Stamp of Georgetown and Dave Stamp of Acton, and the groom is the son of Luisa Zanatta of Milton Heights and the late Giovanni Zanatta.

The bride is a secretary for the Halton County Health Unit in Georgetown and the groom is employed by P. L. Robertson Manufacturing Ltd., Milton.

The fitted skirt had a full over-skirt at the back, falling into a chapel train. The skirt and neckline were appliqued with flower lace. The headpiece of matching organza and taffeta formed a bow at the crown with mother of pearl circles on the forehead, and held a many tiered nylon tulle veil. The bride carried a white lace prayer book with red sweet heart roses and stephanotis. Her single strand of cultured pearls was a gift of the groom.

Linda Younner, a friend of the bride, acted as maid of honor while Genevieve Rutledge also a friend of the bride was bridesmaid and Patty Stamp, sister of the bride was junior bridesmaid.

The attendants wore maize full length nylon organza over taffeta dresses. The waists featured lace inserts and a floating lace panel set off by two bows. The wedding ring hats of matching maize taffeta and organza held a double net trim of maize tulle. They were pointed maize organza over taffeta mittens and carried cascading bouquets of white shasta chrysanthemums with yellow cnetres that matched their dresses.

Gary Bell of Milton, a friend of the groom was best man and Jim Plant, Horaby, a friend of the groom and Jim Stamp, Georgetown, a brother of the bride were ushers.

The bride's mother received for her at the reception at the Legion Hall in Milton, wearing a beige and brown three piece linen suit and beige and brown accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother received for him wearing a white dress appliqued with turquoise flowers with matching hat. She wore contrasting accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The tables in the hall were decorated with wedding candles and flowers.

For the honeymoon trip to northern Ontario the bride chose a three piece salmon pink linen suit with lace applique on the shell of the suit and on the suit jacket. She wore white accessories. The couple will live in the Maple Glen apartments in Milton. Special guest at the wedding was the bride's grandmother Mrs. D. Stamp. Guests attended from Milton, Norval, Glen Williams, Horaby, Toronto, Richmond Hill, Ashgrove, Markham, Guelph and Georgetown. The bride wore her late maternal grandmother's wedding ring, a family heirloom, on the day of her wedding. Bride and groom placed a nosegay of shasta chrysanthemums at the foot of the status of Virginia Mary after their marriage, to ask for her grace.
