Speedy Class 1 Rating New Feature For Karts

The range of divisions at the North Halton Kart Club's Wednesday night mini-marathon continues to increase — so speed fans are getting a greater variety in their kart diets these weeks.

Two weeks ago the first Class 8, for slower karts, was added to the regular speed program which normally features three covers of karts competing in every class from No. 5 to No. 8 last week the fans saw the first race of the season for karts swift enough to earn a Class 1 rating.

Three karts and drivers qualified for the Class 1 event, but only one pilot, Harvey Dochow, was in winning form. Dochow was out in front at the finish of the three Class 1 events — the semi final and feature.

The lead changes hands more times during Class 1 races than any of the others because of the balance of 5 to No. 8 last week the competition, but Bob Urry managed to be in front when two of the three races finished.

He captured the best and the feature, and Charles MacCowan, semi, and Roy Brockbank in Ed Elaliger took his weekly joy rides and added his usual three wins to his fantastic feat.

There was no Class 4 competition, and the same could be said for Class 6 where Ed Elaliger took his weekly joy rides and added his usual three wins to his fantastic feat.

They go nightly at 7:45

EVERYBODY LOVES A WINNER

EDOUARD CARPENTIER, a good guy, backs in the adulation of young fans after defeating Professor Hiro, a bad guy, in the main event on a wrestling card at Georgetown Memorial Arena last Wednesday. Carpentier can truthfully boast he had the last word since the Carpentier-Hiro match was the last of the local wrestling season.

Judo Chop to Referee Loses Match for Hiro

When Edouard Carpentier emerged the victor in the main bout at the last wrestling match of the season last Wednesday night, the real loser was not his opponent Professor Hiro, but the referee Pat Flanagan, veteran of many a wrestling match of his own.

The bout was awarded to Carpentier when Professor Hiro was disqualified for landing a vicious judo chop to Flanagan's forehead, and from the look of it now, he has been eating a lot of bread. Clutching his paunch, Flanagan fell face down on the canvas and stayed there while Carpentier and Hiro cavorted in ignorance of Pat's plight.

Rising like the phoenix from the ashes, the outraged Flanagan righteously grabbed Carpentier's arm, and holding it aloft proclaimed him the winner. Hiro then called upon his gods to view the justice, then called upon the audience. Both seemed unsympathetic. Hiro was no hero to them.

The hissing Hiro battled with judo chops to the neck to win the first fall, while Carpentier depended on his marvellous acrobatics to counter the Japanese attack. A few times east met west in mid-air when Carpentier flipped Hiro off his (Carpentier's) feet on the ropes, then

Delrex Fashions Ball Champs Perfect Record For Season

Delrex Fashions cleaned up in the first game of the best out of 3 series with Frank Bryant's State Farm with a 24 to 11 victory. The first inning had the Delrex team holding a 3 to 2 lead, which they increased in the 2nd to 15 to 2. Delrex was only held down in the 4th, when the score stood at 17 to 3, while State Farm had themselves 3 scoreless rounds. The 5th inning proved to be the best for the State Farm team as they tallied 8 runs before their spurt died out.

Clary Bydevate had the on-base homer on the State Farm team, when she drove the ball clear over to the next diamond, and was home before it was fielded.

Ann Marchment, Susan Quinn, and Jane McNally all hit one home run for the Delrex effort. Delrex pitcher Janet Moore turned in a good game for her team, both on the mound and at bat. She had 5 runs for 5 times at bat. The only other player to hit near this well was Jane McNally.

This game began as a complete about face to the preceding one. It looked like a walk away for State Farm. The 1st inning had State Farm right through their batting order and tally up 9 runs, while allowing Delrex Fashions only 3 runs. The 2nd inning was again a heavy hitting one for the Farm girls as they managed to get 5 runners across the plate and let Delrex in for 8. The 3rd and 4th innings had both teams trying in vain to add to their score, but to no avail. State Farm were destined to add only another 3 runs to their total score in the 6th inning, but Delrex act out at this point to win the game. The 5th inning saw them drive in 3 runs and put them only 3 down on State Farm. The big win for the Delrex ladies came in the 6th when they ran up another 4 runs and finished (continued on page 4)
