MATES MATCH SCORES

Beaver-Hab Link Shaky President Isn't Worried

Georgetown hockey Beavers are still in a fog about their affiliation with the Montreal Canadian Hockey Club - if they have one.

Canadians played mother hen to the Beavers when they awarded Junior B status last year, but since they dipped to C the Beaver - Montreal link has been uncertain.

Beaver coach Scotty Patterson is optimistic. "The Canadians still have not committed themselves, but I expect to hear from them in a day or so and I expect the news will be good," he said.

The Beavers will start practicing sometime next week.

Two of the holes still to be filled are coach and manager of the juveniles. Anyone with the inclination should call the secretary at 877-3070 by October 11.

Another expected to confirm this week is Merv Marshall, an all-star selection last year. Marshall is the goalie of the Minor Cup winning Oshawa Generals and is still en route to his home from the west coast.

When that was finished the karters refueled and ran another 25 laps in the other direction—counter clockwise.

At 11:15 of the club said the shortage of vehicles happens about once a year and usually for the same reason — bad weather in home areas of many of the drivers.

The club is preparing for its spectacular climax — the end-of-season championship which this year will be held Sunday afternoon, October 18. The regular kart racing night is Wednesday night.

Bruner New President Hockey Support Group

Minor hockey in Georgetown has a new chieftain. Jim Bruner, vice-president with the Georgetown Minor Hockey Support Group last year was named president for the 1964-65 term when the group met Sunday. He fills the void left by the resignation of Syd Alcorn.

Other members of the executive are treasurer Art Sheppard, and tri-county reps Bill Korack and Don Jarvis. Jarvis is an office holder on the tri-county body.

The Minor Hockey Support Group will angle five teams from here for inter-towns competition, the novices, peewee, bantams, midgets and juveniles.

Two of the holes still to be filled are coach and manager of the juveniles. Anyone with the inclination should call the secretary at 877-3070 by October 11.

Minor Hockey Kids Assigned Teams Sat.

The draw assigning Saturday Morning Hockey players to teams will take place in the Legion Hall Sunday afternoon when the league officials host a general meeting.

Coaches and managers have been asked to make a point of being there or notify their respective commissioner. The commissioners are Roy Norton Sr., for Junior A; George Storey for American League; and Joe Dwyer for N.H.L.

"This is an open meeting and anyone wishing to assist in any way with the Saturday Morning Hockey program will be more than welcome," league president Jim Yates told The Herald.

Last Saturday, for the first time, the Saturday Morning officials tried a new wrinkle in their annual registration of players requesting only those who did not play last season to sign in.

The registration desk, manned by Yates, Roy Norton Sr., and Doug Unsworth drew 70 new Junior As, 10 new Millars and 6 American Leaguers.

Curlers Set for Season In Hack by November

Local curling ardents are in for an unparalleled season of stone throwing according to North Halton Curling Club officials.

More bonaparts and more social functions than during any previous season is what the club members can expect this winter — and the first is only two weeks away. North Halton manager Doug Bruton said this week that the ice-making operation will begin October 15 and if the weatherman cooperates there will be curling surfaces by the 25th.

"We haven't stopped adding to the membership," curling section president John Mintern told The Herald Monday. "The open curling experiment has been successful in introducing people to the game, and we'll resume the open curling session this season."

Mr. Mintern said the regular schedule will begin approximately Nov. 3.
