Blake and Gerry Inglis Skating With Tanners

If Acton Tanners of WAAA was reorganized, one of the team officials said.

Coach Beaumont put the players through a stiff workout from 8 to 10 p.m. Tuesday and they practiced twice on the weekend.

Among the twenty trying for berths on the Acton squad were Norm Lockhart, Wayne Davison, Max Stafford and Blake and Gerry Inglis. Their coach is another Georgetown, Junior Beaumont.

"It's the best looking bunch of prospects we've had out for a first practice, since the team

Hockey Beavers Renew Milton Rivalry Sunday

Winless in two home starts, either Dave Peentice or Hallowsay of Oakville.

The Georgetown Beavers will be trying to grab the winners' circle against another first year club this Sunday afternoon Milton Juniors - and an old rivalry will probably be rekindled in the process.

Officials of the new Milton squad say their team, which has a strong Milton nucleus with a sprinkling of Acton and Port Credit products is still far from set.

The birth of the young Merchants spearheaded by Ab Par- ton put intermediate hockey out of business after a long wand in Milton, and ironically the top level of command with the new Juniors. Par-ton and coach Yale Bellasini occupied the same positions with the old Milton Charles.

Their starting netminder is Pete Stantman who will split last season between the Milton Juniors and the Intermediate Charles.

Only blueliner from last year's Charles joining this year Merchants is Merv Metcher. Up from the Pontiacs is Bill Anderson and Renato Bertol. A Quebec product, Alain Houchard, holds another blue-line job and Paul Lagree, a former Port Credit juvenile rounds out the defence corps.

Khalil will work with ten forwards, only five of them Milton grads.

Two juvenile grads, centre Jim Keane and winger Dick Marshall, will anchor on line with ex-Acton juvenile John Dunne handling the other wing. Keane wound up seventh in the Tricounty scoring race with nine goals and nine assists in 18 games.

Acquisition of Brian Bond from Oakville juveniles balsters Merchants' second line. Other members of that line include Craig Brush, still eligible for Milton midgets, and Roger Wildfang, up from the Post-lacs.

Third Merchant line has three ex-juveniles - Joe Hore of Port Credit, Danny Arbut of Acton and Allan Reid of Milton.

Tenth forward slot will go to

Local OMHA Delegates Hear Clarence Campbell

On Saturday, Nov. 7, the Ontario Minor Hockey Association held their 31st annual convention at the King Edward Hotel. There were 350 delegates to this gathering. General items of importance to Minor Hockey were brought up and ratified, one of these being agreement between Toronto Hockey League and the O.M.H.A. respecting one of other's players and teams. Georgetown representatives to the O.M.H.A. Convention were Don Jarvis, Bud James, Roy Norton, Sr., and William Korzack.

The delegates at their luncheon were addressed by Mr. Clarence Campbell, the N.H.L. President. His topic naturally dealt with hockey, the N.H.L. draft, its importance and effects, the pension plan of the players and also dealt on how a young man who was not too good a student but whose ability in hockey was outstanding, could make himself a good career in hockey and through the N.H.L. pension fund could ensure himself of security in retirement.

Mr. Campbell pointed out that a hockey player in the N.H.L. for 20 years could amass a pension at sixty-five that would amount to well over $150,000. in its entirety. Mr. Campbell in opening his remarks, made this statement: "My job was to talk to you and your job was to listen to me and if you finish your job first, let me know."

He received the strictest attention to the end of his address. The delegates paid tri-

Brinklow, Weiler in Mustang Share Auto Rally Spoils

Mighty five miles of rough country driving failed to produce a single winner in the Triangle Car Club's Fall "No-vice" Rally which started and ended here Sunday November 1. At the end of the three-hour drive a Georgetown car and a Metro car, were tied on points.

Don Brinklow and Gil Weiler manned the local winner, a Ford Mustang, and J. Warburton of Concord, and D. Lynn of Weston tied them in a Ford Falcon. Each car picked up three penalty points. They were awarded trophies.

The rally route, mapped out by Terry Norton of the sponsoring car club, snaked through Equestrian, Navasagwaya, parts of Erin township, the Forks of the Credit, and some of the Caledon hills terrain.

Novices Blank Hespeler Open Season with Winner

Georgetown Novice, All Stars won their House Opener on Tuesday night 4-0 against Hespeler (also their first game of the season). Glenn Robinson scored two for the home team at 3:45 of the first period, and at 10:25 of the second period, from Buttermilk and Pearce.

At the 0:00 minute mark of the third period Hancock scored from Lavell, and at 13:40 Norton from Buttermilk.

Georgetown carried most of the play throughout the game and their defense played a big part in helping R. Peacock earn his shutout.

Three penalties were handed out in the game, 2 to Georgetown and 1 to Hespeler. Georgetown's next home league game is November 24, 7 p.m. Milton against Georgetown.

Would all coaches please complete a list of players who have not attended games in the past four weeks and give these names to your respective commissions. If possible coaches should attempt to contact these boys to ascertain if their absence is due to sickness or injury. If not then their registration cards will be removed from the files and in order to come back into their respective leagues, they must re-register and will then be placed to equalize the numbers of players per team.

The insurance for Saturday morning players is still available and anyone wishing to take it out please give your name and the $6.00 fee to your coach at your next game.

There are still openings for players in the Senior League and anyone wishing to register may do so Tuesday evenings from 5:00 to 6:00 at the arena.

Once Had the Losing Habit Juveniles Like Win Column

Georgetown Juveniles struck quickly and then maintained their margin to drop Streetsville Juveniles 5-2 in an OMHA exhibition game here last week.

The local juveniles banded home three goals while the visitors were back on their heels and owned a 3-1 lead at the end of the first period. They came out of the second period with a 4-2 edge and scored the only third period marker.

The win kept Georgetown Juveniles win string intact. Coaches Campbell and Iles attribute the team's success to date to their working as a unit. Gary Briggs and Fred Cowbrough were standouts for Georgetown in this one, and Streetsville's best effort came from Doug Stringer and Russ Harley.

A good crowd watched the home club take a 1-0 lead with less than a minute gone in the first period. Keith Bennett netted the first goal unassisted at the 58 second mark. Pendentley set Gary Briggs up for the second goal at 6:10, and two minutes later Terry Hay, another first year juvenile punched in number three sans aide. Nickerson from Stringer was the combination that put Streetsville back in the game at 14:47.

Streetsville's only other goal came with 9:47 gone in the mid-
