HOSPITAL NEWS

By Les Clark

The Hospital official greet, in this week used for the first time, is the product of a great deal of thought and effort on the part of Mr. Gus Fantus. Mr. Fantus, a commercial artist and resident of Georgetown is to be congratulated on his active design.

And the above brings us to a point that is often overlooked... but shouldn't be, by any one of us. That is the amount of time and effort expended by some of our citizens to do a job for our hospital. Mr. Fantus' contributions are a good example. He has always been willing to help, indeed many readers will recall his signs donated when the building was only but an architect's sketch, and the model he made of the proposed building... the model that became so familiar to Georgetownites as the drive for funds began.

The new face seen around the Hospital these days is Nursing Director Mrs. Mary Manning, who is the capable right arm to the Administrator, Mrs. Manning is no stranger, having worked here until 18 months ago.

Dr. Alistair Macintosh tells us there are a number of new items he would like for the Hospital, and he'd be most happy to discuss them personally with anyone who might be interested in providing them. Incidentally, there are items that could be most useful in every price range, from a few dollars ranging to expensive equipment.

Administrator Fred Whittaker tells us that occupancy is about 80 per cent. And at last, there is even a 'full house' in the baby department!

At the Board meeting last Thursday evening the Auxiliary president, Mrs. Joyce Hewson, presented a cheque of $600 to the Hospital. The Auxiliary has been a never failing source of funds and has helped out by purchasing much needed equipment that would otherwise not have been obtained.

The Auxiliary this year are planning a real gala affair on December 4th at the Riviera. This will be the scene of the Christmas Ball and many new features have been added. The convener, Mrs. June Ord, hopes for a really terrific attendance and as the Hospital is the beneficiary of the funds made at this affair, let's all get behind this Auxiliary project. What easier way is there of helping than attending an affair such as this, where you are bound to have a wonderful evening.

The man responsible for the manured look about the Hospital, John Schenk, is beating these days, over a new piece of equipment (long overdue, we might add). This is in the form of a tractor, with snow blower, and lawn mower attachments. This is something that is very necessary, but a shortage of funds has held up purchase of it. Like so many other vital pieces of equipment it has had to wait until finance became available. It is not our purpose to dwell upon the financial aspects of running a modern hospital, and if we do, it's only because there is a real need for the public to gain a little insight into the ever continuing struggle to provide adequate facilities and at the same time manage to keep within a stringent budget. An example of this has been the unsatisfactory lighting of the parking lot. Many of the visitors have commented on this but it is only this past week that your directors could conscientiously do anything about this. We might add, too, that this was only made possible by the active cooperation of the mayor and council and the City Commission, who had the system from drawing board to operation in a day. The overall problem is not solved by any means. It becomes more apparent each day that the parking lot is inadequate — Ted Evans has the plans for the a large extension — but no funds. Money for any type of capital expenditure has to be taken out of current revenue or raised locally, as there is no money allotted for this by OIC.

So it necessarily follows if any one should be interested in helping pay for this or other improvements why not contact the administrator or a board member? Remember as the loan companies say: 'No amount too small or too large!' Mrs. R. T. Paul donated an obstetrical bed and surgical instruments recently to the Hospital. This will allow the use of the second obstetrical room as needed. It seems fitting that the equipment of such a widely respected and loved citizen as Dr. Paul should continue to be used in the community he served so long, and so well.

Among others who come to mind for recent donations are Dominion Seed House, Niagara Finance and Mr. E. Caldwell, of the IGA Pooling. Their donations are much appreciated, and will greatly enhance the hospital.

This column would like to pay tribute to a lady who remembered the Hospital in her will with a substantial legacy, and also the fine public spirited act of her executor, who directed that his executor's fee be added to the bequest. We have been informed that another bequest has also been made, an in time will be added to this special fund, known as the 'Endowment Trust Fund'. This has been greatly appreciated and must be a source of satisfaction to the family involved.

June Bugs Rocked, Rolled At Old Folks Masquerade

Georgetown's distaff edition of the Beatles, the June Bugs, were big hits with the Halton Manor residents when they sang and played their guitars in pantomime at a combination birthday party - masquerade there recently.

The women making up the quartet were Mrs. Peggy Treasby, Mrs. Audrey Milward, Mrs. Ruth Mitchell, and Mrs. Kay Butler.

The event took place in the auditorium which had been especially decorated for the occasion. Two large baskets of yellow and russet chrysanthemums, one at each end of the stage, with a row of pumpkin faces between them, and cutouts of black cats and yellow pumpkins on the walls provided an authentic Halloween setting. The evening was planned and carried out by the Halton Manor Women's Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. S. Allen.

When the very large audience had assembled, the Grand March began. Many residents and some staff members were dressed in a wide variety of costumes. The May Queen, the Bell of the Ball and a High Church dignitary rubbed shoulders with a witch, a black cat and a convict in prison garb with his prison number prominently displayed.

Two pairs of brides and grooms found themselves in the presence of an Indian squaw, a football player and a baseball player and Aunt Jemima. Several men dressed as women and women dressed as men provided much amusement. There were also seven decorated wheel-chairs, with their occupants in costume.

The Grand March took place to the accompaniment of the tune When the Saints Come Marching in played as an accordion solo by Florian Poloni. Several girls who belong to the Rangers in Milton assisted those who needed help in nutting on their costumes and in the Grand March.

The three judges then gave their decisions as to the prize-winners. These judges were Mrs. H. Babcock, Mrs. M. Clover and Mrs. M. McEachern. A first and second prize were awarded for each category as follows: Best decorated wheelchair, Mrs. E. Hills and Mrs. G. Burnell. Best costumes for men masquerading as women, Jim Begley and Harold Getty; Best fancy costumes, Mrs. S. Szegielki and Mrs. M. Smythe. Best Halloween costumes, Misses B. Richardson and A. Reid; Best comic costumes, Jack MacLaren and H. Rogers; Best couples, Mrs. A. Pattee and V. Reynolds as a bride and groom with Miss Lottie Moore as attendant, and Oscar Chalut and Mrs. L. Player. A box of candy was presented to everyone in costume.

The birthday party came next. Eleven men and women residents were called to the head table and the Happy Birthday song was sung for them. A birthday card and a $1 bill were presented to each one. Refreshments were then served - doughnuts, birthday fruit cake and tea and coffee.

The guests of honour were Mrs. M. Smythe, Mrs. B. Hartlen, Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. M. Harvey, Mrs. B. Hartenstein and Misses J. Hill, N. McCann, H. Smith, C. Roberts, F. Vasek and J. E. Morris.

Name Tom Parry V.P. For Anglican Deanery

The 10th annual fall rally of the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen, Halton Deanery, was held at St. Aidan's recently which was attended by both laity and clergy from Burlington, Oakville, Milton and Georgetown.

Preceded by evening, which was attended by the Rt. Rev. W. K. Bagnall, Lord Bishop of Niagara, a delicious dinner was served and this was followed by the Rev. Gordon Baker, Editor of 'The Canadian Churchman' who gave a most interesting and informative talk on his recent trip to East Africa, which was illustrated most profusely by a variety of slides indicating the life of that country, particularly as it referred to the work of the Anglican church.

Relating his opening remarks to the Anglican Congress held in Toronto last year he said that this had opened the minds of Anglicans which had brought about a new understanding, for they came as typical Anglicans and went away as brothers in Christ, mindful of the needs of others, and becoming deliberately involved in each other's doing. In Africa he said much of the new effort was a direct result of the feeling created by the Congress, and much of it a Canadian effort.

The Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen movement was first organized under the present Bishop in the Fall of 1964 and since that time has grown steadily. St. Phillips of Burlington received their charter as a new organization in the Deanery graciously accepting all of the BAC's aims and objects under Mr. Geoff Weller as president.

The following officers were elected for a second term — Percy A. Kelly, St. Christopher's, Burlington, Deanery President; Tom Parry, St. George's Georgetown, Vice President; and Mr. Syd Marshall, St. Christopher's, Burlington, secretary treasurer.

African Missions Subject Maple Baptist Meetings

This week an informed and widely travelled missionary veteran in the person of Rev. E. A. Tomlinson will visit Georgetown. The occasion is a conference called "Emphasis Africa" being held at Maple Avenue Baptist Church. Mr. Tomlinson is the Canada representative of the Sudan Interior Mission, an organization with over a thousand missionaries serving in eight countries in Central Africa.

In addition to speaking at the church services on Sunday, Mr. Tomlinson will be speaking at 8 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 23 to 25. Mr. Tomlinson has recently travelled 8,000 miles on a coast to coast cruise on behalf of the millions of Africans within the outreach of the Sudan Interior Mission.

Of special interest is the presence of a native African pastor who will be present on Monday night. A student this year at Central Baptist Seminary in Toronto, he will speak at length regarding the needs of Africa and how Canadians can help.

The special feature of the conference will be the raising of missionary support money for Rev. Fred Gould, a missionary of the Sudan Interior who is at present residing in Georgetown while on furlough.

A chronic complainer was driving a wailer mad with her unreasonable demands. "Why is it," she barked, "that I never get what I ask for here?" "Perhaps, madam," he replied, "it's because we're too polite."

You wouldn't wear your summer clothes when the weather gets near freezin'...

Winter driving is dangerous... visibility is low during winter storms; stopping takes longer; and early darkness means more driving after dark.

TO AVOID WINTER ACCIDENTS: slow down... keep your windshield free of ice and snow... follow at a safe distance and remember to leave one window open a little at all times. If you have to stop in a hurry, pump your brakes, don't jam them and put your car into a skid. (Power brakes need gentle pumping.)

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Canada Packers Limited is requesting consumers to immediately return KLIK Luncheon Meat with any of the following codes indented in the tops of the tins:

EST 7 09144	EST 7 09214	EST 7 09284
EST 7 09164	EST 7 09234	EST 7 10054
EST 7 09174	EST 7 09254	EST 7 10224

NO TINS WITH ANY OTHER NUMBERS ARE AFFECTED

Consumers in Ontario, Quebec and the Atlantic provinces who have purchased KLIK since September 14th and who are in possession of any tins bearing these codes are asked to immediately return them to their retailers for replacement or refund.

Tins embossed with EST 7A, EST 7B, or EST 7D are not involved as they were produced at other plants and are in no way affected.

The recall of these tins is a precautionary measure which has been taken because spice units, supplied to the Company and used in the production of KLIK Luncheon Meat at one plant, contained less than the normal quantities of one of the curing ingredients.

The effect of a smaller than normal quantity of this curing ingredient has not been clearly established by food scientists. KLIK is cooked during the canning process, however, curing ingredients are added in the spice mixture to assure its long-term keeping qualities.

The best scientific opinion indicates that the risk of impaired keeping qualities is small, but may exist. Therefore, there is a small chance that the product could deteriorate and might then cause serious illness if eaten.

All KLIK presently on retailers' shelves has been carefully checked by company employees to ensure that it is not from the lots in question.

RETAILERS—Your cooperation in accepting return of this product is requested. A Company representative will be contacting you.
