

Library in Danger of Losing $500 in Books

The Georgetown Library Board has threatened to publish the names of people holding books long overdue if the books are not returned by the end of the year.

The Library listed some 68 books which have been off the shelves for anywhere from two months to a year. Some of them are history books which cost the board in the neighbourhood of $14.

Miss Marjorie Nauer, the Librarian, estimated the total value of the books on the long over due list at $500.

"These books are purchased with public money and are the property of the town," she said. "How can we continue to purchase new books for our readers if more care is not taken to return all borrowed books?"

Miss Nauer said offenders who have not returned the books to the library by December 31 will have their names made public. "In Toronto they have the Ballif recover the long overdue books, and in the past I have on occasion called on the delinquent borrowers, but such action shouldn't be necessary. I hope this latest action by the board will bring some of the books back."

The fine on borrowers who have neglected to return their books is 2 cents per library day per book, however there is a maximum fine of 50 cents.

HOSPITAL NEWS

by L. M. C.

A problem in the Hospital is reaching serious proportions . . . that of the number of children left alone in the lobby. Hospital staff have just not the time to look after unattended children, and as a result at times they create a great deal of disturbance. We would ask that parent do NOT leave them in the lobby or if absolutely necessary, have someone to supervise them during their visit. An added hazard of course, is the fact that younger children have a tendency to climb, and could have a nasty fall, from some of the furniture.

It is hoped that parents will note the above suggestion, and act accordingly. This is a problem that should be quite easily rectified by the parents concerned, without hospital authorities taking any action.

Many of the larger hospitals have pamphlets containing suggestions for visitors. As yet our hospital has not, although plans are underway to procure one.

Below are listed a number of suggestions to visitors that will be an aid to the patient's recovery. We hope that this list (no means a complete one) will act as a guide to visitors.

YOU play a part in the patient's recovery . . .

Each person who visits the patient does something either to promote or retard the patient's recovery.

Remember the patient is grateful that you are thoughtful enough to visit him. He will not wish to hurt your feelings or seem unappreciative, regardless of how sick he may be.

So please be calm, cheerful, optimistic and avoid all disturbing and exciting subjects.

There are always other patients, some of whom are very sick, and who are most sensitive to sound — so please be quiet at all times when visiting in the hospital.

REGARDING Flowers and Gifts . . .

Too many flowers are overpowering and sickening — so keep them coming — a few at a time.

Books and magazines for entertainment are most helpful.

Please do not bring food to the patient as his diet is especially planned to speed his recovery.

When should the patient have visitors? . . .

We suggest that you first call the Hospital or doctor to see whether the patient's condition warrants any visitors.

The following books are long overdue.

The Governor's Lady, The Man Who Died Too Soon, Accused of Murder, The World of Sister Frayne, Traveller's Library, Mr. Ames against Time, The Forsyte Saga, The Man Who Played God, The Conqueror of Year, Please Doctor, Canadian Art, Canadian Poetry, Thrilling Tales, Good Night Mrs. Calabash, Monte Casino, The Town that Died, The President's Lady, Bodies and Souls Blood Red, The Imperfect Secretary, Sycamore Tree, Le Notaire Du Harve, The Third Choice, The Mature Mind, Living Free, Automotive Engines, Catalogue of Canadian Goods, Cache Lake Country, Wilderness Voyage, Memory Wall, The Revolt of French Canada, The Face of Early Canada, Upper Canada, The Formative Years.

The Junior Books that are overdue:

All the Year Round, The Last Horse, Fireman for a Day, Crooky the Crocodile, All Ready for Winter, Hop on Pop, That William Boy, The Little Tiny Rooster, The First Book of Magic, Simple Chemical Experiments, The Great Book of Animals, Man and His Tools, Things that are Fun to Build, Every Boy and Girl, A Swimmer, The Scarlet Force, Roger Maris at Bat, Eskimo Family, Have You Seen My Brother, The Cat that went to College,

The Georgetown Hospital has regular visiting hours. Please cooperate with the controllers as visiting hours are restricted so the patient will have ample time for rest and relaxation.

Too many visitors are a strain on the patient's vitality. A few pleasant minutes do much to stimulate the patient. Visits should not exceed fifteen minutes.

Even the most confirmed users of tobacco often find smoke odors obnoxious and nauseating when ill, but will hesitate to tell you, so it's best not to smoke at all while in the hospital.

Hospital rules and regulations may seem unnecessary at times, but remember they have been set up to gain the greatest good for patients, and are mainly the result of doctors' orders.

Children under 12 are not permitted to visit patients.

Don't While in the Room . . . Do not sit on patient's bed. Do not go in to visit if there are already 2 visitors. This is maximum allowable.

Rectory Building Permit Swells November Total

Do no try to outdo patient with tales of "my operation". Do not be the bearer of bad news or unpleasant gossip from outside.

Do not visit where a "No Visiting" sign is on the door. Be sure and clear through a nurse in such a case.

See? The list of "don'ts" is an easy one to remember, and it will help your "special" patient be back home that much sooner.

Building permits with a total value of $44,325 were issued during November. However, $43,000 of that was for the Holy Cross Rectory on Maple Avenue, adjoining the new church. The remainder was for garages and repairs.
