

CURLING HATTER

by Bob MacArthur from the

North Halton GOLF and COUNTRY LUB

This past week has been a very quiet one at the club. Just pick-up games, and the odd challenge match to keep the rink occupied. One challenge match between a team of ladies skippered by Franie, Beesey and a team of men led by Jim Linton, resulted in the men winning by a decisive margin.

Now that the holidays are over, curling will settle down to the regular draws again and some good curling will take place. Monday, a number of teams were over from Milton and had a friendly game with the local curlers.

Tuesday, December 28th a team of juniors from the local club took part in an invitational match at Oakville. Although the local curlers were against older members, they really held up their end of the game and won two games out of three. A team from the University of Toronto took the top prize and another team from the University of Western Ontario took second, the local team came home with a prize. Members were Bill MacArthur, skip, Carroll Farnell, vice; David Farnell, second and Barbara Evans, lead. Congratulations.

By the look of the curling sheets, quite a number of curlers are signing up for the curling that is to be held on Friday nights. This will give many couples a chance to curl together that they have not had previously, except at bonspiels. The Monday, Thursday draw and the Tuesday only draw have their adherents too, so it should make for a more active club.

A number of name badges that were ordered for curlers have been at the club for quite some time now. Please pick yours up right away, as more members want to order and the new order won't be placed until the first batch has been disposed of. Your cooperation

LOUIE DOESN'T LEAP MUCH ANY MORE
FORMER NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE star with the New York Rangers and Montreal Canadiens' Lou Fontinato was placid Sunday afternoon as he watched his Orangeville Junior team take a 7-2 trouncing from Georgetown Beavers here.

Beavers in 4th Slot Junior C Standing

Georgetown Beavers boasted their morale and points total at the same time with a convincing 7-2 triumph over Orangeville Hornets in front of 500 here Sunday afternoon.

Beavers coach Del Beaumont called it a good effort. "Everybody played a good hockey game," he said. "We were hitting them at centre ice and it made the difference."

His only criticism was with some of the players spending too much time in the penalty box. "But the referee, Frank Slone, was calling them against both sides so I guess I can't be too hard on the boys."

Terry Hay, a first-year Beaver, and Ron Lane produced a lot of the Beaver punch with four goals. Terry Hay (left), Doug Selby and Don Norton came through with the others.

Bill Campbell and Norton lent most assistance with 3 each. Popiel picked up 2, Selby 2 and Lane 1.

Beavers built a 3-1 lead over Lou Fontinato's crew in the first period, and it was 4-2 at the end of two.

Jan Popiel got Beavers off on the right foot in short order scoring from Norton at 20 seconds. Hay widened it to 2-0 on his first from Selby and Campbell at 5:27, and Lane notched third Georgetown marker of the period at 17:03 on a play involving Popiel and Norton.

The Orangeville goal was at 5:35. Mooney the marksman.

Abbott beat Beaver netminder Cuthbert at 2:41 of the second period from Watson to make it 4-2 but the green shirts never got closer. Terry consistently," Beaumont commented after the win. "We've been having some tough luck around the net in the last few games and we were due for some breaks."

Beaumont also praised the work of Cuthbert in the net, and the plaintiffs were merited. Cuthbert robbed Orangeville triggermen on at least three labled tries in the second period when the outcome was still in doubt.

Beavers are tied in 4th place with Dundas at writing time but things could be changed by today Georgetown and Dundas played in Dundas last night. Tomorrow night it will be tough sleeting for the red and whites as they take an second place Hespeler.

This Sunday afternoon an exhibition game pits Action Intermediate Tanners against the Georgetown Beavers.

Hay from Doug Selby and Campbell cancelled that one out at 12:42.

Selby from Campbell at 10:08, Norton unassisted at 12:22, and Lane from Norton at 16:05 of the final period dressed up the win.

Georgetown played minus Glen Cooper, still having problems with the knee injury he picked up in an early home game. Brent Telford also out with an injury, and Ron Malcolm doing some extra bench time for a lack lustre effort recently.

Beaumont led John Malcolm in a forward slot in the third period, and took a look at Kent Robinson, a Juvenile who has practiced twice with Beavers.

"It's about time we started putting the 'puck' in the net

Cagers Meet St. Jerome's Tomorrow, Opening Game

The schedule makers didn't do Georgetown senior and junior basketball teams any favours when they wove them into the powerful District 10 CWOSSA B Basketball League calendar this season.

Georgetown high debuts tomorrow against St. Jerome's in Mitchener and host Guelph's John V. Ross teams next Wednesday. GHS coach Lyn McLaren rated St. Jerome's and John F. Ross the two powers in the new setup.

Georgetown's senior cagers sharpened for the openers last week by playing an alumni team made up of former red and blue cagers and looked good in upsetting the grade 50 team to 40-37.

Over the holidays the seniors also met former league opponents in Milton and Acton seniors but the contests were of little preparation value to the GHS squad which won both matches handily. GHS played both games on their home court and thumped Milton 63-29 and Acton 58-28.

Coach McLaren inserted juniors in the second halves of the Milton, Acton games and didn't register too much surprise when his club continued to increase its margin. Both junior and senior teams worked out daily through the holidays under the guidance of McLaren and junior coach Gerry Thompson.

McLaren said the alumni team is a good test for his seniors and will use them again this month in prep for a key game.

Planning A Raffle Ladies' Support Group

The Georgetown All-Star Ladies Hockey Support Group welcomed two new members when they met at the home of Mrs. Dick Riddall, Ostrander Blvd., Tuesday, December 14.

Nine members attending the meeting and with five teams under the wing of the Support Group now it is expected the membership will swell noticeably.

The women have been saving flags from products of a meat packing company all year and now have enough to get a worth while prize for raffling off in the near future.

The group meets again Monday, January 11 at Mrs. Sam Walker's.

(If needed, otherwise move schedule ahead.)
