Georgetown Kin Attend Conference at Vineland

Georgetown Kinmen president Trev Moore, vice-president Bob Collett, and bulletin editor Ken Milne were at Prudhomme's Garden Centre, Vineland, Sunday, Feb. 7 to attend the Zone A president's meeting. The meeting is held twice a year under the direction of the deputy-governor Milt Blair of Stoney Creek.

Georgetown is one of four-teen Kinmen Clubs in Zone A of District 1 of the Association of Kinmen Clubs.

Special representatives of the governor were District 1 bulletin editor Frank Cook, and District 1 interclub and expansion chairman Ken Scott. Each of these addressed the assembled Kinmen on problems pertaining to their particular office.

Frank Cook advised the clubs on procedures concerning the marking of the bulletins for the Jay Dunn Memorial Shield and praised the bulletin editors of the clubs as "their hardest working members."

He strongly urged the members to get busy and recruit young men of their community for their respective clubs.

Discussion of Zone and club business kept the delegates in session until late in the afternoon. Those present were reminded that the Zone conference will be held in Stoney Creek, March 14, and the District Convention in Buffalo, May 21-24.

Hawaii Visit Detailed In Slides, Commentary

On Saturday night, February 13th, the eve of St. Valentine's Day, a delightful party was conducted for the residents by the ladies of the Halton Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star and a few gentlemen who accompanied them. The party was held in the auditorium which had been decorated with hearts and cupid in honour of the Valentine season.

The Worthy Patron and Worthy Matron of the Chapter Mr. and Mrs. J. Purdy opened the proceedings by extending greetings to the residents, after which the visitors and residents joined in a sing-song led by Mr. M. Readhead. Accompanied by Mrs. Readhead as pianist, Mr. Readhead then sang two humorous solos, "Slipin' Cider and Oh Brother, What a Feeling?"

The main portion of the program took the form of a travelogue presented by Mr. and Mrs. C. Clarke. Mr. Clarke ran the projector for the showing of many lovely colored slides and Mrs. Clarke gave an interesting commentary. The travelogue described a three-week vacation that Mr. and Mrs. Clarke had enjoyed in Hawaii. The beautiful hotel in Honolulu where they were guests, the volcanic mountains, Pearl Harbour, and the singing and dancing of Hawaiian women were all shown in colour. Other lovely slides depicted the flowers of the island such as the poinsettias and orchids, the stately banyan trees and the tempting pineapples and coconuts that are products of the islands.

After the showing of these impressive slides, Mr. Readhead sang, as a very appropriate solo the sacred song "How Great Thou Art."

A very delicious lunch was then served by the visitors. Several kinds of fancy bread, and angel cake and strawberries, all donated by the Eastern Star ladies, were served with tea and coffee.

On their way out of the auditorium, at the close of this very entertaining evening, all the residents received Valentines. Each Valentine had been cleverly made from a paper-lace dolly, red paper and a roll of tissues.

Rev. J. K. L. McGown conducted the church service on Sunday afternoon, February 14th. Mrs. S. Lockie was the organist.

Mr. McGown's sermon was a description of Christ's miracle in healing the man sick with the palsy as described in verses 1-12 of Chapter 2 of St. Mark.

Mr. McGown first presented a graphic word-picture of the scene at the home to which the sick man was brought. He described the street and doorway into which the people had crowded to see Jesus. He explained how the roof of the flat-topped house could be broken and the sick man lowered into the house to be cured.

Mr. McGown described three qualities of the sick man and his 4 attendants. These were their conviction that Jesus could help him, the concern they felt for the sick man, their complete confidence in Jesus. Mr. McGown closed his sermon by asking whether we Christians today feel this wonderful conviction, coherent and confidence.

On Monday night, February 15th, it was a pleasure for the residents to welcome back to the Manor, the Burlington Concert Band. Thirty-six bandmen, under their director, Mr. Elgin Corlett presented a splendid band concert which they played in very accomplished fashion. The bandmen looked very smart in their wine jackets and crests, and dark trousers.

Following the playing of O Canada, the first selection of a varied program was the Tom Pole Concert March. This selection was the accompaniment for a clever display of baton-twirling by five young majorettes. The leader of the majorettes wore an all-white costume and the others wore white skirts and red and gold tunics. They returned later in the program to do their skillful baton-twirling to the music of two other marches, Under the Double Eagle and The Voice of the Guns.

In addition to these marches, other types of music were presented. Such old favourites as The Glow Worm, Coates' Knightsbridge March and the Mexican Hat Dance were all pleasing to hear. Three short selections grouped under the title Impressions of Seville featured Spanish music, while Russian music was represented by Caucasian Sketches. The English melody that has come down through the centuries, Greensleeves, was especially beautiful. A trumpet trio provided their talent by playing Bright Eyes.

Tea, coffee and cookies were served at the conclusion of this very rewarding concert.
