

Showcase '65 Plays Top Off High School's Open House

A program of displays and demonstrations drew a large crowd to the high school Thursday for the annual open house.

Academic and vocational classrooms had set up attractive displays, and in many cases students demonstrated. These were practical demonstrations in the chemistry lab, shorthand transcription was shown by secretarial students, and the French club presented songs and a play, to mention only a few.

In the gym, girls and boys showed what they learn in gymnastics and basketball.

And to top off the evening were some of the original skits from the recent Showcase '65, written by student Nick Martin and with Dan Wagstaff as emcee.

Uniformed cadets directed visitors to various rooms. Mr. Fred Turner, who will become principal of the school next fall was on hand to have a look at what his future students can do. He succeeds J. L. Lambert, who is returning to McMaster University for postgraduate studies.

IN THIS SCENE from one of the skits 'A Day In a Chem Lab', students Pat Bowman and Phyllis Barber don't yet realize their teacher has been transformed into a monster by a solution he has just consumed. Gary Bowers is behind the monster mask.

IN THIS "PLAY WITHIN A PLAY" director Ann Hardy begins casting from her group of students: Doug Fowler, Jane Graff, Ruth Kidd, Dennis Wright, John Layman, Pat Lince, Cliff Levy, Evelina Roberts and Val Kitchen.

Early Canadian Decor for 125th Anniversary Tea

This year is one of special interest in the history of the Glen United Church. It is 125 years old and this was celebrated last week.

The special church service was conducted by Rev. R. Irwin, the minister and guest speaker was Rev. Stan Medhurst of Hamilton, who graduated from Toronto Bible College with Rev. Irwin. He gave a stirring sermon on the gospel of God's love, light and liberty. He has ministered on the Prairie and is presently working with the Children's Aid Society in Hamilton. The stories of his work with these children were heart-warming and inspiring. A very fitting prelude was played on the organ by Mrs. T. Inglis and Cathedral Chimes by Mrs. Irwin. Mrs. Paul Armstrong, Georgetown, sang two lovely solos — "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings" and "Let not Your Heart be Troubled."

The Junior and Intermediate choirs joined to sing "All lands and people." Everyone enjoyed Mrs. Irwin's accompaniment to all the music with the chimes. All were invited for a social half hour and tea in the Fellowship room.

Fouring tea were two elder's wives — Mrs. Herb Hancock and Mrs. Wm. McGowan.

Rev. Irwin called on John Hunter who presented Mr. W. Schenk with a certificate of appreciation in recognition of his forty-five years as a Steward in this church.

A historical sketch of the church was compiled on the occasion of the 100th anniversary by the late Rev. Ken Lemky in 1940 when he was a student minister here. The oldest member, Mrs. John Wheeler, passed away last fall at the age of 91. Visitors came from Georgetown, Norval, Brampton, and Toronto. To further celebrate the 125th anniversary the United Church women held a tea and bake sale on Saturday.

In charge were Mrs. John Wagstaff, Mrs. Paul Wagstaff and Mrs. Fred Engleby.

The tea was served in the "The Old Tea Shoppe" which had been tastefully furnished in early Canadian style through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Alf Spence. Various items such as pine cupboards, hanging lamp, rocker, dishes, black kettle etc. helped to create the atmosphere of 125 years ago.

Mrs. Irwin and the UCW president, Mrs. Alex Humdale, poured tea from old-fashioned china teapots, and serving were two little girls in costume — Correen Cooper and Bonnie Hancock, their helpers were Carol Blakemore, Diane Giles and Sally Humdale.

Geraniums in wicker stands, pussy-willows in a brass kettle and large mums in a water pitcher all helped to make it a most enjoyable afternoon.

Predeceased four years ago by his wife, Maria Masi, he leaves a family of nine children, Frank of Magnetawan, Mrs. A. McConkey (Annie) of Oshawa, Rocco, Dominic, Michael and Donald of town, Mrs. A. Jacklin (Rose) of Brantford, Mrs. A. Hives (Josephine) of Toronto and Joseph of Winnipeg, 24 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. A daughter died in infancy.

Eden YPS Met At David Hill Home

The Y.P.S. of Eden United Church met on Sunday night, at the home of David Hill, Jane Hill, the president, was in charge of the meeting.

The roll call, "Two things that a Missionary does," was answered by the eleven members present. The final plans for the semi-formal dance were discussed and it was decided that the proceeds of the dance be given to Miss Audrey Lawrence, who will be returning this summer to her Mission Field in Chad, Africa. Gail McCallum, convener of the program which was taken from the "Mighty Acts of God." Rev. Kelvin Johnston, assailed on the discussion.

NORVAL

Cemetery Cairn Would Be Norval's Centennial

Mrs. H. Collins made an excellent sectioner at the Norval Women's Institute meeting held at her home on Thursday evening, May 14. The roll call was answered with plans for the section. Mrs. Don Murray, president, was in the chair for the meeting.

Mrs. G. Chester and Mrs. E. Burt were appointed to investigate Norval's first cemetery to see if it would be possible to make a cairn of the fallen tombstones as a centennial project.

A letter was read from the Uniformed Service Committee with the information that the parents of our adopted boy had suddenly turned up and that he had left the orphanage at the end of March. It was decided that the seven months credit for the balance of the year be given to Lee Chang Hwee for his education.

Mrs. E. Burt gave a report of the District Directors meeting.

Mrs. G. Chester, agricultural supervisor, gave the motto "Let Us Be Content, Not Envious" and an interesting paper on "Improving the Farm Image."

Mrs. H. Gelling and Mrs. Vera Taylor assisted the hostess in serving lunch.

Norval United Church choir held an enjoyable Bowling Party on Wednesday evening, May 12th. They bowled at Georgetown Bowling Alley and returned to the church for lunch and a social time.

No Performance Bond So Town Saves $550

Council decided to forgo the performance bond of Horton Steel Co., Monday night, when they accepted their tender for the erection of the elevated water tank.

Gordon Proctor of Proctor and Madiera, pointed out that in this case it was an experienced company who have been to this type of business longer than anyone else in Canada, and were financially stable. He emphasized that it wouldn't change the guarantee on the tank, nor would it change the insurance liability. By eliminating the bond the town would save five hundred and fifty dollars.

"Regardless of the reputation of the company," the mayor argued "we owe it to the taxpayer to have this bond." He felt the amount saved was small in comparison to the total cost.

Reeve J. Elliott claimed that the hold back clause in the contract were protection enough.

The motion to forego the performance bond passed with the Mayor and Coun. Francis dissenting.
