

Air Canada has presented the design concept of the $1,500,000 pavilion it will build on the site of EXPO 67 on Montreal's St. Helen's Island. The pavilion, based on the helix principle, will feature a fan-blade roof and four distinct areas depicting man's desire to fly and the impact the achievement of this dream has had on the world.

Sunshine School Students Show Wares, Bazaar, Tea

Sunshine School Bazaar. Close to one hundred visitors signed the guest book at the Sunshine School Bazaar Friday afternoon. Welcomed and ushered around by students, the visitors admired their handwork. A large variety of goods, all made by the pupils, was offered for sale. On the shelves and tables around the room, were place mats, laundry bags, pillows, rag dolls, puppets, and decorated tile tea pot stands. For the first time pottery items could be offered for sale since the school now has a kiln, donated by the Hornby Scouts and Cub Scouts. Ashtrays and vases attested to the skill of the student in this new venture. Their first attempts were not for sale since the children want to keep them for themselves.

Mañor News... Vocal Instrumental Concert By Christian Reformed Choir

Centennial Manor auditorium was filled with the sound of the vocal and instrumental music on Tuesday night, June 8th, when thirty members of the choir of the Christian Reformed Church, Georgetown, came to the Manor to present a concert. The minister of the church, Rev. J. Joosse, and the president of the choir, Mr. Bill Hegel, were both present. Mr. C. Crimes was the music director and chairman, and Mrs. R. Vandenberg was the accompanist. The members of the choir are new Canadians who have come to Canada from Holland within the last decade. The program began with their lovely rendition of O Canada, which they sang from the heart. The choir sang several choral numbers, which were enjoyed very much. An anthem, All Hail the Power, a negro spiritual Down by the Riverside and several familiar hymns were sung, as well as two numbers from Broadway shows, The Sound of Music and Climb Every Mountain. A sing song which is called Samenzing in the Dutch language was sung in that language with Bill Hegel conducting. Several accordion numbers were played as duets by Dini Schipper and Shirley Von Solke.

Ceramic, Pottery Making Viewed By Glen Ladies

The annual bus trip of the church ladies was held on Tuesday, June 15th. The busload left the United Church at 8:30 a.m. and the first stop was in Shelburne for a cup of coffee. Driving north they arrived in Collingwood in time to have a tour around the docks and saw some ship building before eating lunch.

All boarded the bus again and went to see Rainbow Ceramics where one can purchase all kinds of pottery. The ladies next went to see the skiers playground and the chair lifts which takes them up the steep slopes. Some were disappointed that they were not in operation, others were happy.

Driving back to the town, everyone went into the Blue Mountain Pottery where they were shown how it is made, and again a large selection to choose from.

After time out for some shopping, the bus headed homeward stopping off at Devil's Glen to have a look at the beautiful view up the gorge. The last stop of the day was at the Dutch Inn near Shelburne where everyone enjoyed a hot meal. The ladies arrived back about 9 a.m. Thanks goes to Mrs. J. Wagstaffe and Mrs. J. Hunter for arranging the enjoyable day.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McColl of East Kilbride, Scotland, have just returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Gambell and Mr. J. McDonald for three weeks. Mrs. McColl and Mr. McDonald are sister and brother and had not seen each other for 43 years. What a reunion that would be.

KERR'S COLUMN

M.P. Reports to Georgetown from Queen's Park by George Kerr

The Legislature's Select Committee on Consumer Credit, of which I am a member, released its report on June 10th and calls for the establishment of a Consumer Fraud Bureau to crack down on shady sales practices and operators in the province.

This new Fraud Bureau operating as a special branch with the Attorney General's Department, would deal with all kinds of complaints in the field of consumer credit.

The Select Committee also recommended legislation to force disclosure of the full interest rates on consumer products, both in dollars and in percentage terms. This would have the effect of letting all those who buy on time, know the exact rate of interest they have to pay on each purchase.

Other recommendations by the Select Committee were a crack down on misleading advertising and the establishment of a Debt Counseling Service along with government publication of booklets and pamphlets to provide consumer credit information. It also urged that the Department of Education create, for use throughout the school system, special instructions on the whole field of credit.

Of major significance was the Committee's proposal to have legislation enacted allowing householders a period of two days in which to cancel deals made by door-to-door salesmen. This "cooling-off" period would allow householders to repudiate any sale involving credit arrangements made at the door.

To eliminate fly-by-night operators, all firms employing door-to-door salesmen would have to register their salesmen with a provincial body.

Another key recommendation of the Committee affects hot or non-recourse paper involved in many car purchases.

Take the case of a man who buys a car from a dealer, then finds the motor won't work. He goes back to the dealer who says he can't do much because he has sold his credit contract to a finance company. The finance company says it can't do anything because it is not in the car business.

The Committee would make the finance company liable for any just claims... and the run-around many car buyers have been caught in. It says a dealer who sells you a TV set should not be able to slap a claim on any of your other furniture or goods... and it says, for the first time, that persons who have paid two-thirds of the cost of an article should not have it repossessed without a court order.

Blanket, voluntary wage assignment should be outlawed, says the Committee, because many people do not know what they are signing in the first place.

A wage assignment differs from a garnishee because it is voluntary and is not based on a court order.

The Select Committee for the past three years has been investigating all aspects of consumer credit buying including high interest rates. And while the province itself cannot regulate or set maximum rates of interest — as this is a federal responsibility — it can act to protect consumers by forcing full disclosure of interest rates.

This is an important step in making certain the consumer has some protection against abnormal credit charges.

Sees Liverpool Brother First Time In 52 Years

Mrs. Russell Foster has returned from a 3 weeks visit with her brother and relatives in Liverpool, England. It has been 52 years since she saw her brother, James Watson. Mrs. Foster and her sister came to Canada as children and lost track of their brother who remained in England. She tried for years to locate him but it was not until 2 years ago that he was located through the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Foster travelled by plane arriving at Manchester, where she was met by her brother and family. She travelled around England and was greatly impressed by the beautiful flowers and hedges that all homes seem to have. Travel is very slow due to the large number of people and the narrow roads although all are either paved or cobblestones. She also admired the beautiful lace curtains on the windows that we do not see in Canada.

Although she enjoyed her visit and getting acquainted with her relatives, she found 3 weeks long enough to be away from home and was glad to return to Canada.
