LEGION KIDS "RUN ALL DAY" AT BRANCH PICNIC

KIM LOCKWOOD (foreground) sprints to a win in the race for girls of her age group at the annual Royal Canadian Legion Branch 120 picnic in Georgetown Park, Sunday. Races for all ages kept the sports program going practically all afternoon.

ON YOUR MARK, GO! ... or is it get set? Some of the Legion's Bill Crothers types are already on their way to the finish line while others are left in the starting gate in this start to the men's long distance run (100 yards). Horseshoe pitching and a variety of tests made it an interesting day for the spectators as well as the participants.

Even Umpires Get In Act When Managers Go To Bat

The annual Georgetown Baseball Association baseball day went off without a hitch. Day went off without a hitch. The minor ball players sold tags in the morning and an afternoon parade was well attended.

The parade led off by the Georgetown Girls Pipe Band, was followed by a contingent of 115 minor league players and coaches. The Georgetown Citizens Band followed the Minors and bringing up the rear were the Midget White Sox, Juvenile All Stars and some of the Halton Senior League Giants in convertibles. The parade arrived at the park at 2:00 sharp as planned.

A three inning fun-filled game between the managers and coaches against the midgets was played first. A manager true, Dude Lindsay, at 50 plus, started behind the plate for the managers' team catching the "junk" of juvenile manager Bill Richmond and Juvenile coach James. The umpires from Oakville added much colour to the game with their own bag of tricks, like using golf balls and soft balls instead of the regulation hard ball, plus some quick quips during the game. The game was won by the managers and coaches.

In the Juvenile - Senior encounter which followed, the intermediates held down the upstarts in a close 2-0 game highlighted by fine pitching by Bernie Dore of the Giants and Mike Tost and Davison of the Juveniles.

Juvs Hit Week Nights But Never On Sunday

The Georgetown Juveniles split a pair of games last week to end in a tie for first place with Dundas.

On July 6th, the Juveniles played at Oakville and beat their hosts 5-3 in a seven inning game. Mike Tost collected his fourth win of the season by allowing only two hits, striking out 13 and issuing two walks.

The game was close until the third inning when Georgetown connected for five hits and scored five big runs.

Tost started off with a triple. Cummings drove him home with a single. Peawoy struck out and Cummings moved to third on an error to the pitcher. Danny Arbie singled to drive Cummings home, went to second on a passed ball and scored on the overthrow from the second baseman. Davison singled and was driven home when big Don Chisholm blasted one over the left field fence.

Annual Picnic Draws Over 600 to the Park

Last week, I was approached by our very popular President and his cohort Myrtle Reid to take on the position of branch 120's public relations officer. I accepted, and shall endeavour to keep you all posted on the goings on and of future events coming up I should like at this time to congratulate the past PIO Don Platt for the admirable job he performed. I far one looked forward to Don's column weekly in the Herald his writing will be missed.

Well, Branch 120's gala picnic is over again for another year and I must say it was a whopping success, and the weather man was good to us, if my count was correct, over 600 attended this affair at Georgetown park. There were ones went through 600 lbs pints of chocolate and white milk 1000 Dixie cups, hundreds of bottles of pop and oodles of chips and popcorn. The picnic was indeed a credit to the Branch. A vote of thanks to Zeke McCandless, Jim Ford Mike Lorusso, Charles Day and his good wife Dot and Nellie McDermott, Gord King, Gob Collier and so many others who helped in the operation.

HOSPITAL NEWS

The "Heart Station" will arrive at the Hospital next week. It is expected. This will prove a major forward step in equipment needs.

Talking to a couple of the medical staff who use the operating rooms fairly regularly, we come to the inescapable conclusion that air conditioning is a "must" in the near future. We understand that the room becomes unbearably close and hot in the heat of the day. This is as it should be provided. . . but unfortunately, it is an expensive one, approximately $10,000. So it would seem our only immediate hope to alleviate the situation would be a large size donation to cover the cost. This would be a real project for some group, and would make the hospital just that much finer a place to be in.

Administrator Fred Whittaker informs us that we have a new addition to our nursing staff . . . all the way from Hong Kong. She started duty this week on arrival by plane from that city. We are sure everyone joins in wishing the young lady the best of luck here in Georgetown, and we hope that our town will be to her liking.

A number of conferences are being held in Ontario to tackle the province's growing need for nurses. It is hoped that an immediate enrollment of some 550 students in existing schools of nursing to make maximum use of the facilities now available will help. More than 20 regional schools of nursing are being created, each one drawing upon the clinical and teaching facilities of a number of surrounding hospitals. More than 100 hospitals will be involved in this plan. A three man committee, representing the Ontario Hospital Services Commission, will lay the groundwork for the plan. It is hoped that the fruition of this plan will help to alleviate the drastic shortage of nurses that has existed (and will does) in this province.

The Hospital for Sick Children asked for donations some ninety years ago — and the community responded with among other things, a bottle of raspberry vinegar, seven lbs. of arrowroot, two pelliccoats, six dozen eggs, two white mice, a chair for the matron's room and a load of straw to stuff the patient's beds. Rent for the little house which was the first hospital was $320 a year, and the matron was instructed to do her marketing Tuesdays and Saturdays!

Incidentally, there were only six beds, and no resident physician of course.

Today in its sixth building, it has 810 beds, and a staff of 2,222. Last year it admitted 26,602 patients and provided outpatient treatment for 114,537 and emergency treatment for 48,074.

There's another building campaign on this year — but "Sick Children's" are asking for something a bit more substantial than raspberry vinegar — some $13,500,000 cash! This hospital is North America's largest children's hospital.

A heart warming gesture is contained in another section of the paper, and tells of two groups of children who have worked to raise money and have given donations to the Hospital. This is a wonderful spirit to find among groups of our youth.
