

American Beekeepers Buzz Around District Apiaries

Two district apiarists, Alvin Anderson and Ed Robertson, both of Hornby, held open houses, or open hives in this case, for 30 American beekeepers who were enjoying a two-day educational tour of apiaries, honey packing plants and apiculture schools in Ontario.

From their comment they apparently learned a lot about Canadian honey operations and picked up pointers in processing procedures.

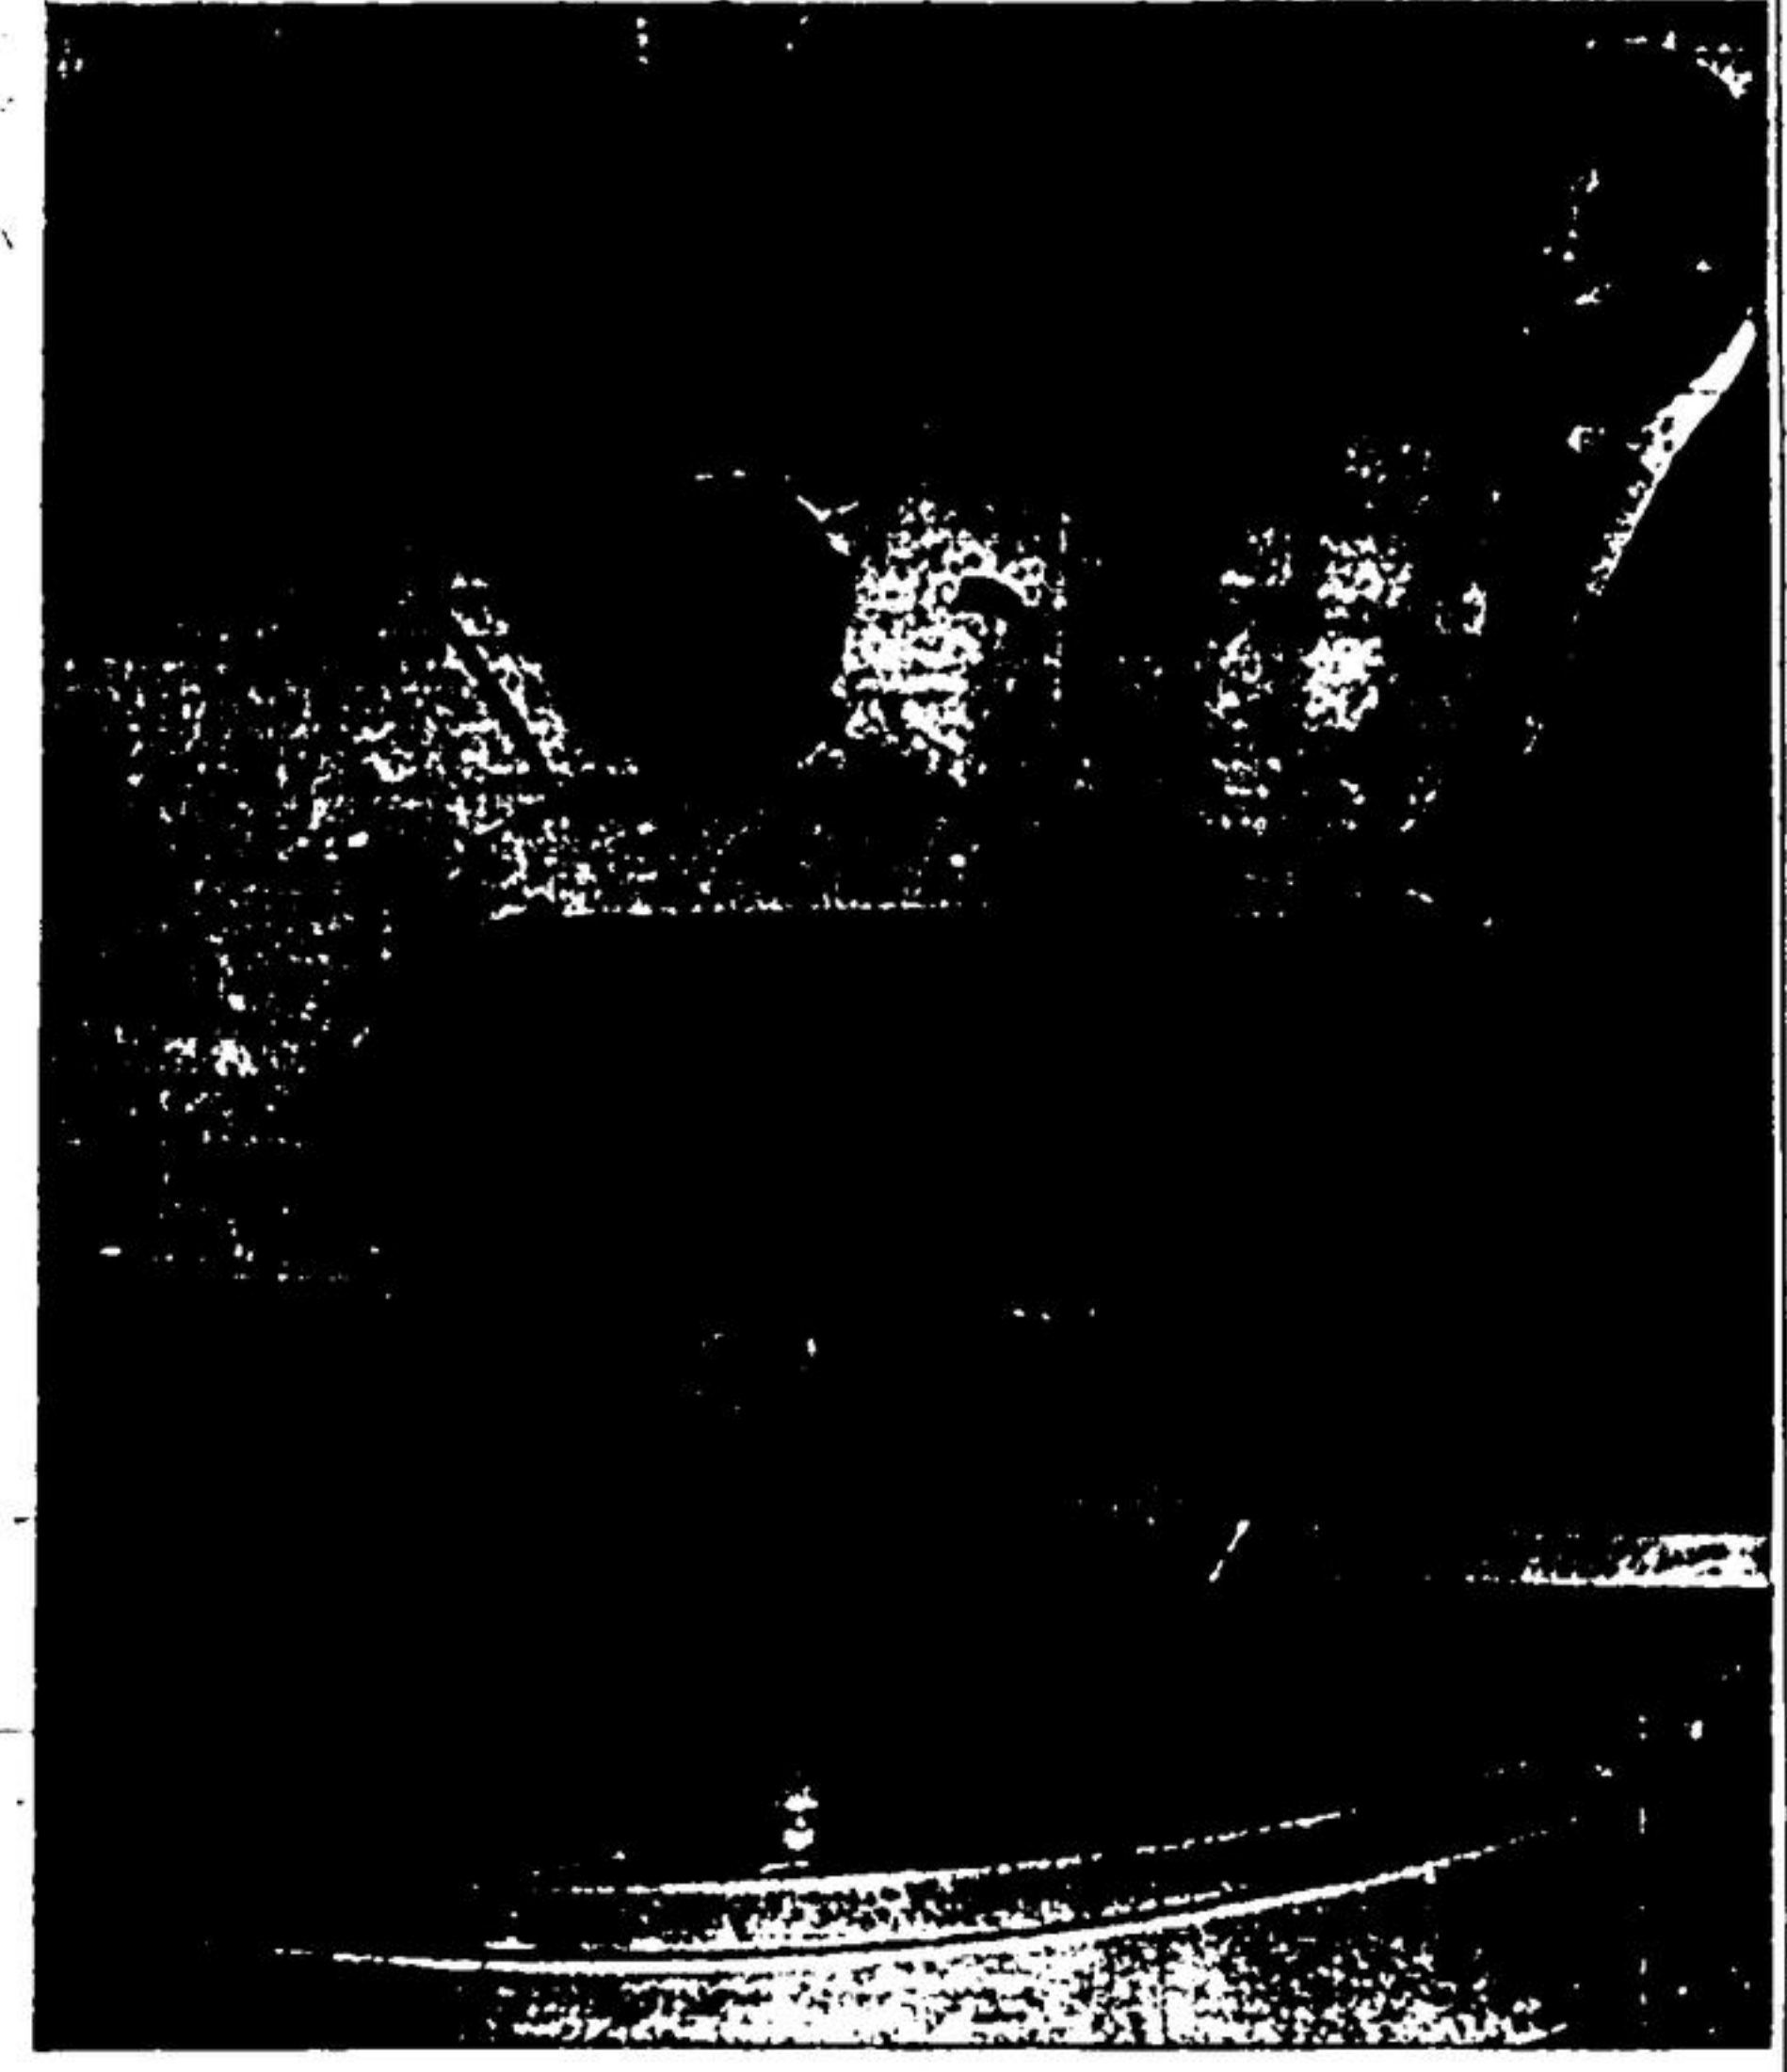

Mr. Anderson operates a 1,700 colony operation and Mr. Robertson has 1,000 colonies of bees working for him. Both extract and process their honey and beeswax.

The trip was organized by Prof. E. J. Dyce and Associate Professor Roger A. Morse of the agriculture extension staff, Cornell University.

Some of the men on the tour were university students, but most were successful beekeepers from throughout New York State, some of them operating as many as 3,000 colonies.

The keepers that have additional colonies in Florida do so, so they can have a year round operation.

Their trip took them to apiaries in Smithville, Hillsdale, and Tarry, as well as to two packing plants at Toronto and Mississauga and a visit to the Ontario Agricultural College.

JACK ROBERTSON, son of area beekeeper Ed Robertson, shows visiting American apiarists and students how he loads the combs into the extractor.

500 District Children to Benefit, Fluoride Addition

A county wide program of applying fluoride to the teeth of three year olds will get under way here in September. It is a project sponsored by the Halton County Health Unit.

The county's Medical Officer of Health Dr. A. F. Bull strongly recommends the program to the parents of three year old children. It is strictly voluntary.

The process of the application of the fluoride to the teeth involves a mechanical cleaning of the teeth which are then given a coating of fluoride.

Dr. Bull notes the liquid does not penetrate the teeth enamel but changes the molecular structure of the enamel making it more resistant to decay.

Maximum benefit is obtained when the fluoride is applied to those in the three year age group. The whole process is repeated when the children are four years of age and again when they reach five.

The series of applications gives the youngsters protection against tooth decay that will last the rest of their lives.

The program will involve some 500 children in Georgetown and vicinity and approximately 3,000 children in Halton County.

The application of fluoride is a proven method of protecting children's teeth against decay.

Dr. Bull says that an experimental program has been carried out for a number of years and statistical information gathered from this shows that the fluoride is a definite benefit.

Planned Georgetown Assembly Held Gets 'News' Appointment

Douglas Held, organizer for the circuit assembly of Jehovah's witnesses at the Georgetown High School this past June has been appointed news director for the "Word of Truth" district assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses at London August 20 to 25. The Georgetown congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will be among the 8,000 delegates attending the assembly to be held at the Western Fairgrounds.

Mr. Held has travelled extensively visiting Europe twice and from 1956 to 1964 his appointment as branch manager of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society in Sidney, Australia, included supervision of Jehovah's witnesses throughout the South Pacific. During his years of service in that part of the world Mr. Held made two visits to mission fields of the organization in Papua, New Guinea, Solomon Islands, New Zealand, New Caledonia, Fiji, Samoa and Tahiti.

ers, proofreaders are among the many persons needed.

During an interview with Mr. Held it is learned that 30 "Word of Truth" assemblies will be held in the United States and Canada this summer. Attendances are expected to exceed 300,000 with 50,000 of these attending the 12 Canadian gatherings. As the theme of the assembly "Word of Truth" indicates, the program will focus attention on the Bible as God's inspired Word and only reliable guide for man in this troubled twentieth century. Mr. Held visits the Georgetown congregation every four months and expects to return for a week sometime in December.

Help Police in Capture Brampton Man Earns Magistrate's Praise

A former Georgetown Herald advertising manager, Robert Longmore, has received praise from a Peel County magistrate for helping a Brampton police constable attempting to arrest another man.

ROBERT LONGMORE

The commendation for Longmore, now living in Brampton, came into magistrate's court Wednesday when evidence was heard against two young Brampton men.

Brampton constable Allan McPherson said he was in plain clothes July 29 when noticed one of the men at George and Nelson streets. Knowing there was a warrant for his arrest the officer went over and told him he was under arrest.

A scuffle developed and Constable McPherson was bitten in the right leg and kicked in the head and shin.

Longmore, who was near the scene, offered his assistance. In helping subdue the arrested man, he was struck in the face and had his glasses broken.

Also at the scene was the second accused who pulled at Cat McPherson's arm as he held the first man.

An hour and a half chase followed when the arrested man escaped. He was finally apprehended and arrested.

In court, the accused denied hitting or biting the police officer or breaking Longmore's glasses.

The incident brought charges of assaulting a citizen and assaulting an officer against the first accused, and of obstructing a police officer against the second.

The pair were also charged with theft after police found $5.25 worth of nickels and dimes in their pockets. Police later learned the money had been stolen from a change machine at a laundromat.

Magistrate J. D. Berger sentenced the first accused to four months in jail plus six months for a charge of mischief from a previous date. The second man drew six months for theft and three months for obstructing police.

Cat. McPherson said Longmore was the only one of about ten people standing about when he was being beaten to come to his aid.

Sisters, Brothers Assist As Couple Pledge Vows

Candlelight and floral decorations of blue delphinium, hydrangeas, daisies and ferns formed the attractive setting in Erin United Church for the double ring marriage ceremony of Janice Rose Kirkwood and William Edward Bramham.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kirkwood of Erin. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Bramham of Shelburne.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, entered the church as the congregation sang the hymn, Praise My Soul, King of Heaven. She was preceded up the aisle by her two sisters as bridesmaids, Janet Kirkwood and Mrs. Harry Johnson (Linda) both of Erin, and sister Marion, Mrs. William Smeaton of Georgetown. The matron of honour, her niece, Little Elvira Scoville was flower girl.

Rev. E. D. Seelgrove was officiating clergyman. The wedding music was played by organist Mrs. Gordon Allen of Cooprige. Mrs. William Saul of Erin was soloist singing The 23rd Psalm.

The bride was dressed in a full length gown of white organza and French lace. The empire bodice of lace was fashioned with a midriff of fine tucks of organza. The circlet neckline was edged with lace rosettes interspersed with pearls. The sleeves were short, the bouffant skirt of organza featured lace applique panels trimmed with iridescent sequins. The back was fashioned with a band of jewelled lace appliques above a chapel train. A circlet of orange blossom and pearls held her fingertip veil of scalloped silk illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and ivy.

the Crown Attorney of Longmore's offering assistance to police. He noted Longmore paid $20 out of his own pocket for a pair of new glasses.

Longmore left the Georgetown Herald staff in 1963 when he was transferred to the Brampton Times. He has experience in the Canadian Army's Provost Corps.

Jigger, Car Collide At Railway Crossing

A Georgetown man and an Acton man were slightly injured Thursday when the gasoline powered rail speeder (jigger) on which they were riding was thrown from the tracks when in collision with a car on the second line W. Chinguacousy, south of Highway No. 7.

J. K. Noble, 51 King St., Georgetown, and Archibald Martin, 25 Cobble Hill Road, Acton, both Canadian National Railway employees, were treated at Peel Memorial Hospital and released. Martin suffered an injured right wrist and Noble cuts to his head.

The jigger was operated by Lorenzo Pooe, also of Georgetown, and the car was driven by William M. French, 118 Mill Street South of Brampton.

Sgt. Richard DeSantis, Chinguacousy Police, reported the ed for one person only shall carry any other person." The section of the act stating bicycles are to be ridden on the road and not on the sidewalk will be more strictly enforced, he said.

The department has also received a number of complaints about persons hitchhiking along the highway through town. Geo-

The matron of honor wore a full-length sleeveless gown of apple green silk brocade, princess style, with a single matching rose on her veiled headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of bronze mums and ivy.

The bridesmaids and flower girls wore long dresses of yellow silk brocade, styled identically as the matron of honour. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of bronze mums and ivy. The flower girl carried a basket of yellow baby mums.

Ray Bramham of Erin, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Noas Kirkwood of Erin, brother of the bride, and Bruce Bramham of Shelburne, brother of the groom.

For the reception which followed in the church basement, the bride's mother received the guests wearing a silk brocade sheath dress of orchid pink, white hat, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom's mother assisted wearing a navy sheer dress, white hat, white accessories and corsage of white carnations.

For a honeymoon trip to eastern Canada, the bride wore a two-piece suit of yellow double knit with white trim, white hat and white accessories. She wore a corsage of bronze mums centered with a white rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Bramham will reside in Erin.

Guests were present at the wedding from Alliston, Arthur, Camp Borden, Orangeville, Shelburne, Oakville, Guelph, Toronto, Cookville, Malton, Appin, Georgetown, Peterborough, Oshinga and Erin.

French car was northbound on the Second Line and the jigger was travelling west.

Railway jiggers do not trip crossing signals since their wheels are insulated.

Ban Bikes on Sidewalks Check on Hitchhikers

Two major complaints lodged with Georgetown Police Department's Traffic Safety officer are resulting in a crackdown on bikes on the sidewalk and hitchhiking.

Cpl. Ted Scott quoting the highway traffic act stated "No person riding a bicycle design-
