

New Symbol for Hydro

HYDRO'S NEW LOOK. This symbol will soon be a familiar sight across the province. Hydro's new design unites the letters 'O' and 'H' and the printed form 'Ontario Hydro'. The vermilion and orange symbol will rest on a white background. A variation of the Ontario Hydro design, employing a 'U' and 'H', has been created for the associated municipal electrical utilities which will have the choice of adopting either symbol for equipment, signs, advertising, uniforms and business forms.

The familiar red Ontario Hydro truck will gradually disappear from the province's highways with adoption of a new symbol and colors by the province-wide utility.

Chairman W. Ross Strike announced today that Ontario Hydro has adopted a new symbol and colors. Vermilion and orange on a white background, the symbol unites the letters "O" and "H" and the printed form "Ontario Hydro." Eventually, all Ontario Hydro vehicles will be painted white, with the new design displayed on the side.

*Ontario Hydro and the municipal Hydro utilities are doing business in a challenging and competitive era," Mr. Strike said. "In the past, the Hydro enterprise has been represented by a variety of unrelated colors and symbols. Our new symbol will serve as a quickly identified reminder that Hydro is a modern, efficient organization, dedicated to the same high standards of service throughout the province."

The new symbol will be gradually introduced on vehicles, equipment, signs, advertising, uniforms and business forms, he said.

Garden Roses Decorate Room For Manor August Birthdays

Once again the rose was honored flower at the August birthday party held in the auditorium of the Manor on Wednesday afternoon, August 18th. The head table had been decorated with three bouquets of the beautiful garden roses that are grown in the Manor's own rose-beds. A very tempting birthday cake, artistically decorated with coloured icing and candles, was placed on the head table. The vases on the small tables were filled with roses also.

The party was conducted under the auspices of the Halton Manor Auxiliary with valuable assistance from the kitchen staff of the Manor.

Five guests of honour were able to attend the party. They were Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, Mrs. Maude Buckle, Miss Charlotte Moore and Messrs. W. Thompson and Claude Graham.

Mrs. S. Allen, the president of the Auxiliary announced the program. She welcomed all the visitors and residents to the party with a special welcome for those residents who celebrate their birthday in August. She read an appropriate and amusing poem from the column, The Lady Farmer, in one of the Canadian farm magazines.

The musical part of the program featured two sisters, Bonnie and Margaret MacNab. Bonnie played a number of accordion solos, among them The Merry Widow Waltz and some hymn. Margaret played several piano selections, two of which were Alley Cat and I Want a Girl. The two girls played America the Beautiful as a piano duet. Bonnie also played some old ballads by request and the audience joined in to make it a sing-song.

Mrs. Allen showed some very pretty coloured slides that had been taken by her married daughter, Mrs. Beesley, during some trips that Mrs. Beesley and her family had enjoyed. These slides showed the beautiful Adirondack Mountains in New York State, the White Mountains in New Hampshire, the beaches at Cape Cod and the skyscrapers in New York City. There were also some pictures of Canadian beauty spots, principally around the Thousand Islands and Ottawa.

At the conclusion of this pleasant program the guests of honour were asked to take their places at the head table. The candles on the birthday cake were lighted and the Happy Birthday song was sung. A birthday card and gift, a $1 bill, were presented to each guest of honour. Very delicious refreshments, sandwiches and cold drinks prepared by kitchen staff, and relishes, ice cream and birthday cake donated by the Auxiliary were served. Miss Leslie Moore gave a speech of thanks to all those whose efforts had brought about this very enjoyable birthday party.

An appropriate and comforting sermon and a lovely solo made the church service on Sunday afternoon, August 22nd, a very inspiring one for the residents. Rev. R.K. McMillan, the minister of Knox Presbyterian Church in Oakville delivered the sermon and the solo was sung by Miss Helen Coggins, who is the Director of Christian Education at the same church. The organist was Mr. Howard West, who is an elder of this church and a Glendon.

Having read verses 1-11 of Chapter 40 of Isaiah, Mr. McMillan chose verse 11 as his text. This verse begins with the words: He shall feed His sheep like a shepherd. Mr. McMillan used this verse to show how God wants to comfort every one of us. He began his sermon by saying that the words that come from the Book of Isaiah are unique and sometimes seem like words from the new Testament. He went on to say that all of us have doubts at times as to whether God really cares for us. These eleven verses from Isaiah show us that God wants to comfort us and that He compares Himself to a good shepherd who cares for His sheep. This message from Isaiah can bring comfort to us today for we can see God's Comforter in the person of His Son, who can guide us in every trial and give us the strength for every day.

Gets New Guiding Ideas At Ottawa Conference

One of 128 trainers for the Girl Guides of Canada who attended a conference in Ottawa Aug. 18-21, Mrs. A. Hunsdale of Glen Williams is home again full of new ideas for her Guide work this fall.

Planned to help Canadian trainers gain a better understanding and to prepare them for the "new look" the Guide program will take in September, the conference was a busy time for all, Mrs. Hunsdale reports.

"We met other trainers from twenty provinces and saw skill sessions presented by them," Mrs. Hunsdale says. "We learned how to use audio-visual aids, got new program ideas and learned new games, music and handicrafts that we can pass to our Brownies, Rangers and Guides."

Mrs. Hunsdale particularly enjoyed a boat ride along the Rideau Canal, from Carleton College, where the conference was held, to the Parliament Buildings. At noon, she heard a cartoon concert from the Peace Tower, a specially planned program with Girl Guide songs.

The cartoonist played the Girl Guide world song, composed by Sibellus.

District Ayrshire Bull Qualifies Approved Type

Ten Ayrshire bulls from across the Dominion which recently qualified for Approved Type ratings include one from a Georgetown farm.

The rating is gained by siring daughters with a high standard of type according to classification ratings of all classified daughters, according to the percentage in the three highest ratings. Excellent, Very Good, and Good Plus, and the average score.

The Approved Rating was adopted two years ago by the Association and only eighteen bulls to date have been qualified.

Selwood Dewdrop's Boy, owned by A. H. Clark, Georgetown, is one of the most recent to qualify for the Rating.

His 31 classified daughters have an average score of 83.2 and 84 per cent are Good Plus or better.

There are three daughters classified Excellent 13 Very Good and 13 Good Plus and 2 Good.

The Georgetown bull is "an excellent example of sire breeding for both high production and quality type," says the Ayrshire Breeders' News release. "His daughters are exceptionally high producers as his ROP tested daughters have BCAs that average 180-184."

Selwood Dewdrop's Boy was bred by Standell Brothers Ayrmer, Ont. His sire is the U.S. approved sire, Selwood Betty's Commander.

Fall from ladders are mostly incurred by men when they are working on the outside of a house. Women have more accidents inside, reaching heights by using substitutes for ladders.

Extend Family Allowance For Dependants to Age 21

Beginning September 1st dependent children will be covered by Ontario Hospital Insurance under the "family" premium until they reach their 21st birthday. An official announcement of the change, which was first mentioned by Dr. M. B. Dymond, Minister of Health, in the Legislature on June 7th, was published by the Ontario Hospital Service Commission last week. The age change will also apply to the Blue Cross and C.U.M.B.A. semi-private coverage for which about one-third of the insured residents remit additional premiums through the Commission.

Dr. John E. Neilson, Chairman of the Commission, indicated that the new age limit is being introduced because of the increasing number of students among the young people in this age group. He added that only unmarried, unemployed children are eligible for coverage as dependants under their parents or guardian's insurance and that separate premiums must be paid when the dependant reaches age 21, or marries, or becomes regularly employed. However, Dr. Neilson did explain that exemption is provided for students who take temporary employment during their school vacations. The annual reduction in premium income to the Commission, due to the new age limit, is estimated at $3.5 millions.

Dependants over 21

The family premium also covers a person over the age limit (21) who is financially dependent upon his or her insured parent or guardian because of physical or mental infirmity. However, such a person must have been a dependant of the parent or guardian before reaching age 21.

Refunds

Many young people 19 and 20 years of age who will now qualify as their parents' dependants are already paying premiums. Such persons may claim a refund of premiums which have been paid to cover them beyond September 1, 1965. The official announcement will contain a form, which pay-direct members can use to obtain the refund.

The Commission is gearing itself to handle all requests for refunds as quickly as possible. Refunds, therefore, should be requested immediately, but even then it may take several weeks before the Commission can deal with the thousands of requests as each one must be handled individually.

There are thousands of pieces of literature in bank and hospitals around the province which indicate the former age limit of 19. Dr. Neilson pointed out that

If the reader reads age 21, instead of age 19 as printed, that is all that is necessary. About 80% of Ontario's residents are now insured through this government-sponsored plan and almost one person in six is admitted to hospital each year. Every day, this year, benefits are being provided to a value of over $800,000 which will make the annual total something in the neighborhood of $300 million.
