Five thousand Rainbow Trout fingerlings were dumped into Kalso Lake on No. 5 sideroad near Campbellville by the Ontario Dept. of Lands and Forests on Thursday.

The lake has been popular with fishermen and the recent addition should insure its popularity for some time.

Dancing, Corn Roast Georgetown Golfers

A crowd estimated at over 100 worked up an appetite dancing and then satisfied it with platters of corn and hot dogs at a dance and corn roast at Georgetown Golf and Country Club Saturday night.

The affair was arranged by the men's section's entertainment committee headed by Norm Dickenson.

D.J. Len Steptoe supplied the recorded music and wit as the crowd escaped the cool temperatures in the clubhouse dining room.

Defeat Fergus, Georgetown First Place in Baseball

Georgetown Juveniles ended regular season play last week by defeating Fergus 5-1 in a four-point game! This moved the local crew into first place, giving them one more point than their arch-rival, Milton.

Georgetown started the game off with a bang, collecting 4 big runs in the 1st inning. Lead-off batter Quackenbush singled, was sacrificed to second by Denimore, Toat singled to score Quackenbush. Big Mike stole second, and Arbie was safe on an error to the right fielder. Both men scored on Davison's sharp single to right field. Davison moved to second on a wild pitch, was singled home by Ron Lane.

Hot Rodding Not Bad Radicals Club Explains

34 River Drive
Georgetown, Ontario
August 30, 1965

Dear Sir:
After reading an article in last week's Herald we were ed that it was time the people of Georgetown saw the power outlook on Hot Rodding and Drag Racing. We hope the following will clear up this misunderstanding these people have.

Hot Rodding is a manifestation of the originality that is inherent in most young Americans and Canadians. It is indicative of the ever present desire to improve and improve. It is a mirror of the inventiveness and ingenuity possessed by so many American and Canadian boys. It is a reflection of the love of competition and, in that light, assumes many of the elements that buttress our cherished ideals of free enterprise.

IN THE MAIN RAC

Hot Rodders are not pure scientists or researchers. They are inspired in their hobby by the seat of competition. When they create something they want to see how it works. The by-product is usually speed. The indulgence in speed is the spice that stimulates them in their technical endeavours. The National Hot Rod Association insists that speed itself is no evil. They argue that organized speed events, conducted under safe, supervised auspices, provide the answer. They point to what has been accomplished in California, New York, Deseronto, St. Thomas and Cayuga to prove their point.

The real Hot Rodder is an experimentalist. He is perpetually dissatisfied with the status quo.

He seeks and gets improvement. He and his fellows in this wise constitute a tremendous pool of technical know-how on which industry may draw at its convenience.

shown that Hot Rodding is quite a wonderful thing. It has been demonstrated that an 18 year old, working on his car night after night in his garage at home or at his car club is not nearly so much of a social problem as the 18 year old who spends his idle hours in pool rooms or loafing around street corners.

The Hot Rod Virus bites deeply. It becomes a sport, hobby and avocation all rolled into one. Adult guidance and assistance can make it a constructive enterprise. Unfair criticism, intolerance and misunderstanding serve only to create a bitterness and to drive a perfectly legitimate activity underground. Hot Rodding is a facet of American and Canadian life and if properly controlled and regulated, a very healthy and important facet with many constructive elements deriving therefrom.

The display is part of the town's Old Fashion Days promotion.
