Valuables Stolen in Farmhouse Break-In

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. McMeekin had their house ransacked and many valuables stolen sometime over the holiday week end while they were away at their cottage. The police are investigating the break-in.

Norval Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Keith Webb for their first meeting of the fall. Mrs. Don Murray, president was in the chair.

The meeting opened with the Institute Ode, the Mary Stewart Collected and the Lord's Prayer, followed by the roll call and correspondence.

The programs for the year were planned. The committee selected to look after the lunch for the Arts & Craft Tea at the Riviera in October were Mrs. H. Collins, Mrs. G. Chasler, Mrs. L. Cleave and Mrs. E. Burk. The committee chosen for the Institute display at Georgetown Fall Fair were Mrs. E. Burk, Mrs. G. Chasler and Mrs. H. Collins.

Following the business meeting Mrs. D. Murray assisted the hostess in serving lunch.

Principal and teachers at Norval Public School are the same as previous years. Mr. Jack Reed, Principal, teaches grades 5 and 6. Miss G. Robertson teaches grades 3 and 4 and Mrs. T. Cascadden teaches grades 1 and 2.

This year Grade 7 pupils are attending Stewartrtown Public School along with the Grade 8 pupils. This makes Norval School a junior school and this will curtail the competitions in the Music Festival, the Field Day and the Public speaking Contests as it would not be fair for the younger students to have to compete against schools with older students.

Junior students from Terra Cotta attend the Norval School and all rooms have a good attendance. There were 12 little beginners registered at the first day of school.

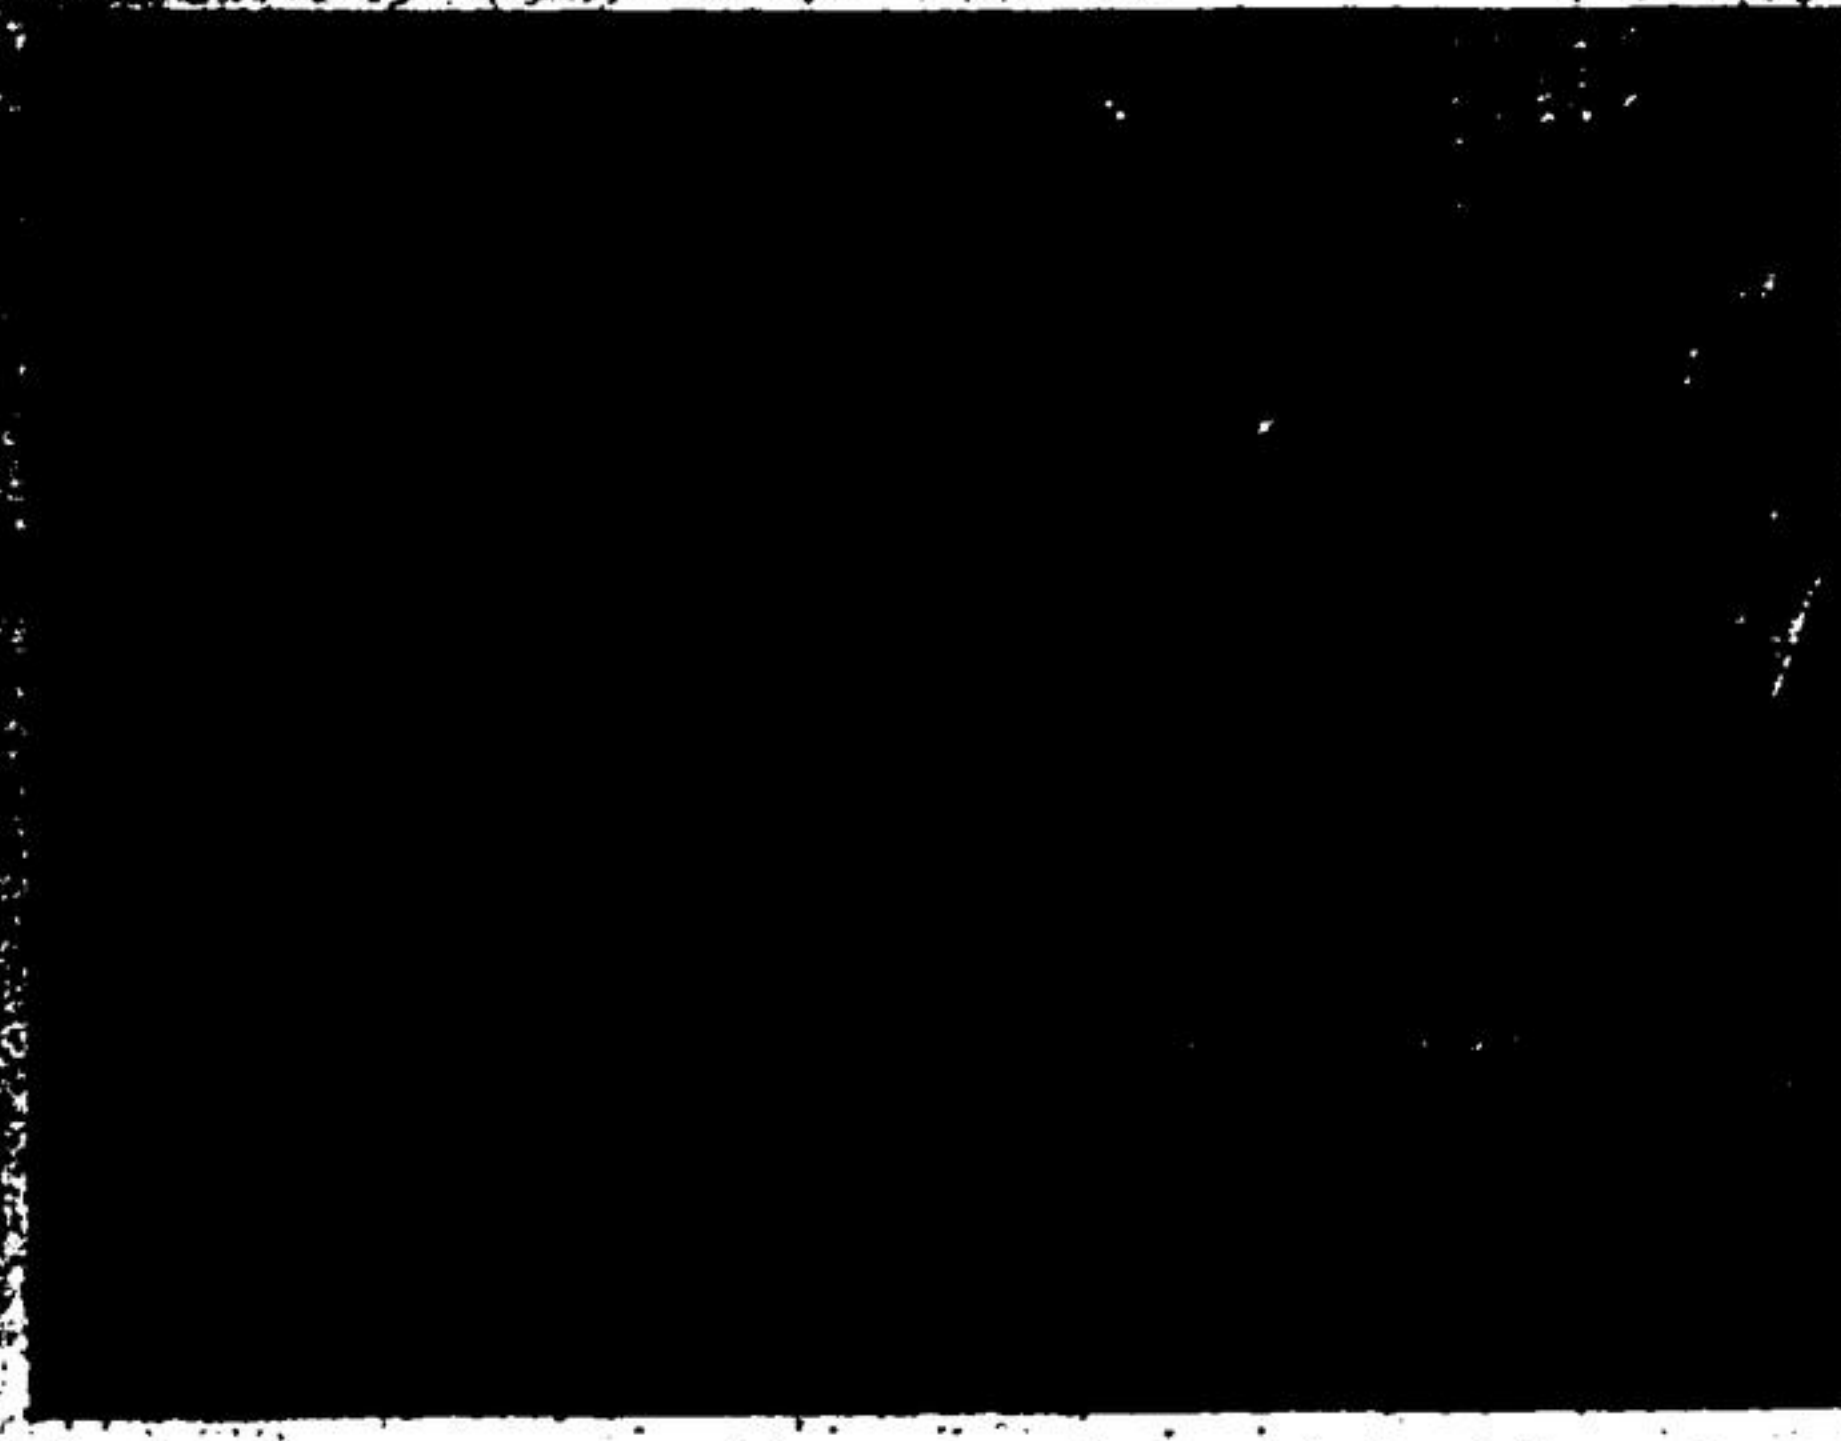

Mrs. Fred Conley is a patient in Peel Memorial Hospital, Brampton, and Mrs. Emil Jung is a patient in Georgetown & District Memorial Hospital. We wish them both a speedy recovery.

Rev. and Mrs. R. Duncanson spent a couple of weeks of their holidays at Woodstock and Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. John Doane and their grandson Johnny Doane spent several days holidays at Haliburton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Rabson spent the holiday week end with their son in North Bay.

Urge Fellowship as Requisite For Successful Kinsmen Club

Deputy Governor Fred Price of Zone A, District 1, Association of Kinsmen Clubs, speaking at the installation of officers of Georgetown and Milton Kinsmen and Kinettes last Friday urged fellowship be stressed as one of the chief club aims.

He outlined district policy as decided upon by Governor Larry Woods, Preston, and his executive: "interesting and entertaining meetings; group participation in meetings; efficient planning."

Some 70 members and guests attended the initial meeting of the 1965-66 Kin year. A barbecued chicken dinner was enjoyed at Hornby Towers golf club followed by installation of officers of the four clubs with the deputy governor as installing officer. A social evening of dancing followed the business meeting.

Harry Levy Delegate National Kin Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Levy left Tuesday to attend the national convention of Kinsmen clubs in Montreal. They are delegates of the Kinsmen Club of Georgetown.

The convention was originally scheduled for the Chateau Laurier in Quebec City, but a strike at that hotel made the switch to Montreal. The most important business is selection of a national vice president who will be automatically national president next year.

Georgetown Kinsmen are hoping that past governor Hal Taggart of London will be chosen as he is well known to the local club.

NEW CLEANERS, ONE OF 70 IN THE CHAIN

Cadet Cleaners, a Toronto-based firm which began business three years ago, has opened a Georgetown branch. The store, in Dixie Market Centre, is located in the store vacated a year ago when the Leader weekly newspaper ceased operations. The Georgetown branch is one of twelve opened in recent weeks, making a total of 70 in the Toronto area.

The Canada Pension Plan and its benefits

Here is what the Canada Pension Plan will do for people like Joe Costello, a 52-year-old unmarried labourer who earns $50 a week.

If Joe continues to work full time until age 65 he can look forward to retiring with a monthly pension of $54.16 from the Canada Pension Plan and $75 from Old Age Security—a total of $129.16. That's almost 60% of what he was earning.

If he is ill or out of work for as long as two years, or if his earnings for a period of up to two years are below his regular wage, he will receive the same pension at age 65. This is because under the Plan a certain number of months of low or no earnings do not affect the amount of the pension.

If Joe wishes to continue working between 65 and 70 and earns higher wages than previously he can improve his pension. For example, if he works until age 69, and earns $3,600 a year, his pension will be $61.74 a month instead of $54.16.

If Joe becomes disabled after 1970, having contributed for at least 5 years, he will get a disability pension of $65.62 a month until he gets both his retirement and Old Age Security pensions at age 65.

All benefits under the Plan will maintain their value. The actual benefits payable will probably be higher than those given here since benefits will be adjusted to meet changes in living costs and in wage levels before they are paid and changes in living costs after they become payable.

What will the Plan cost you?

If you, like Joe Costello, are employed and have earnings of $2,600 spread evenly over the year, you will pay at the rate of 69¢ a week. Your employer will pay the same amount.

This advertisement is one of a series which relates some of the important benefits of the Canada Pension Plan to individual circumstances.
