BIG BALL DOESN'T SCARE THEM

MARION STODDART delivers a shot during play in Georgetown's newest bowling league, the Women's Ten Pin League at Sportsmans Bowling Club, Mill St. The new league for fillies who aren't afraid of the heavier ten pin ball got underway last week. Miss Stoddart is secretary of the new league.

Well Known Name Returns as Junior Beavers Now Raiders

Georgetown's entry in the Ontario Hockey Association JUNIOR C Central League will have a strong flavour of the defunct Georgetown Intermediate Hockey Club this season.

At a meeting in the arena Wednesday the team's name was officially changed from Georgetown Beavers to Georgetown Raiders, a label which once meant good hockey and large crowds to towns in this part of the province with O.H.A. intermediate entries. A spokesman said the name was changed because Beavers conflicted with another Georgetown Beavers which play rugger.

As well as wearing the Raider tag and Raider colours, the team will also be guided by an executive which includes many former intermediate Raider officials. In this category are Scotty Patterson, the team's president, vice president Frank King, secretary-treasurer Harold Badham, and Directors Al Walker and Len Coxe.

Other members of the executive elected at the meeting were directors George Louth Jr., Wheldon Marchment, and appointees of the Minor Hockey Support Group Earl Neil, Art Sheppard and Don Llewellyn.

The Juniors will be guided through the 1965-66 hockey wars by a new coach, Gerry Inglis, and a new manager, Bud James. In their first two years the Juniors were coached by Del Beaumont.

Inglis last year coached the Georgetown Midgets to the Ontario title.

The Juniors lost only a few key strong entries. Among the returnees expected to skate when the team holds its first practice Sunday morning are goalie Barry Cuthbert, defencemen Wayne Riddell, Doug Malcolm, Rod Presswood, and Grant Telford, and forwards Doug Selby, Dave Sheppard, K. Hepton, Ron Lane, Don Norton and Terry Hay.

Unexpected help may come from Orangeville where that club is teetering on the brink of folding. Should they toss in the towel, Georgetown will likely gain some of their better personnel.

Another source of strength will be the over-age Midgets which include the high scoring line of last season of Paul Robinson, Bill Dwyer and Phil Lavell.

Seek Honours in Fastball

It will be Smith and Stone and Standard Products in the Georgetown Industrial League final — even though at writing time nobody seems to know when the best 3 out of 5 series will get underway.

Smith and Stone gained the shot at the crown Sunday when they surprised the league pennant winning Kinsmen 17-3 in the deciding game of their best of 3 semi-final in Georgetown Park.

Smith and Stone won the series opener 10-5, but Kinsmen deadlocked it with a 3-2 win in game two.

Sunday's victory was largely the combination of a bad day by Kinsmen twirler Bob Newbrower / Good Spence. Smith must rest a good day by S & S

Dessert Party, Cards For Golf Club Women

The autumn season was welcomed in style as the Georgetown Golf and Country Club Ladie's Section presented a dessert and Card Night September 21 at their clubhouse.

Dessert galore gave diets formidable opposition. The evening began at 7:30 p.m. and following generous helpings of the varied dessert, card games were underway by 9 o'clock.

There were draws for a large number of door prizes and samples of cigarettes, matches, cook books, and telephone books were at each place.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Mrs. W. Rigg, president of the Ladies' Section. Social convener was Mrs. Eileen Cunningham, Mrs. Anne Webster handled ticket sales and Mrs. Edie McIntyre looked after prizes.
