7500 More Voters In Halton County For '65 Election

An additional 7,477 voters have been added to the election rolls for Halton riding.

The increase has pushed the total number of electors in Halton to 66,828, a figure which has surprised returning officer Dick West of Burlington.

Mr. West had earlier predicted an increase of about 4,000 from the 1963 total of 50,151.

"This increase is surprising and it does emphasize the growth of this area," said Mr. West. The increase means that there will be 312 polls at this election compared to 281 in 1963.

He said Halton riding was one of the largest in population in Canada. "It is one of the top 10 in country," he said.

Mr. West said he could give no estimate of the cost of the election to the government because "there are so many costs involved."

Mr. West said the courts of revision for the election would be open October 21, 22, and 23, with the notice of granting of polls posted October 27.

Revising agents who will appear for the voters who have been left off the list are available by calling the returning office in Burlington after October 15.

The information on the advance poll locations, the revised offices and voters' lists will be sent to all Halton householders later this month.

With nominating meetings over, the three Halton riding candidates have their work cut out for them in this election. They have an additional 7,500 voters to woo and experts are predicting a close race between Liberal MP Dr. Harry Harley and Progressive Conservative challenger Allan Mason.

The N.D.P. choice, Murray Kernighan is organizing his campaign, determined to upset the prediction by Mr. Mason that this will be a two-way fight. Mr. Kernighan is assured the support of the large segment of the labor movement in Hal-

Liberals and Conservatives have opened campaign headquarters and the New Democrats are operating out of the home of Pat Murphy of Burlington, campaign chairman. All three candidates promise that the campaign pace will quicken as the weeks to November 8 roll by.
