

Varian Donation Gives Hospital Piped Oxygen

It was officially announced this week by a spokesman for the Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital that funds have been made available for installation of piped oxygen to all areas of the hospital.

This is a tremendous advance in the ever continuing battle to provide better service to patients, as well as eliminating the hazards always associated with the bottles, added the spokesman.

"This is another gift from local industry that was much needed and greatly appreciated."

Varian of Canada was the donor and this marks the second large donation from this firm.

Discuss Peel in Jail Plan Too, County Rebels Back

After boycotting two Friday morning meetings of Halton County Council the eight rebel members who staged Tuesday's walkout, returned to the fold at a special meeting Saturday night. The eight were Reeve John Elliott and Deputy Reeve W. Hunter, Georgetown, Reeve George Leale and Deputy Reeve Wilfrid Leale of Esquesing, Reeve Carl Martin and Deputy Reeve Ausjen Ledwith of Milton, Reeve Herb Hinton of Acton, and Deputy Reeve B. Young of Nassagaweya.

All but two members, Warden Herb Merry and Deputy Reeve Frank Rogers were present at Saturday night's meeting, chaired by Carl Martin. It was decided to hold a full meeting of County Council Thursday afternoon, where it is expected a committee will be set up to discuss the inclusion of Peel County in the proposed Hamilton-Halton-Wentworth jail project.

This suggestion of Peel joining the other three was first brought out Friday morning by Reeve H. Hinton of Acton when he made a last minute appearance at the second Friday morning meeting, which like the first had to be adjourned after the mandatory half hour's wait for a quorum.

While this was the first mention of Peel joining Hamilton-Halton and Wentworth in the proposed regional jail, there had been discussion last year of a combined Halton Peel jail.

The alleged abandoning of the Peel-Halton idea was the main bone of contention with the eight members who walked out. They felt there had been enough study given to the comparative costs of the two proposals.

It is hoped that Thursday's meeting will see the completion of normal County business which has been stalled, leaving $382,000 in accounts unpaid.

During the two half hour waits, taken up mainly with coffee drinking and newspaper perusing, a few of the interesting items revealed were comparative daily costs of jail maintenance. Deputy Reeve Roy Goodwin, quoting from the 1964 Department of Reform Annual Report, stated, "In Dufferin County jail it costs $23.04 per day, in Milton $11.53 per day, in Brampton $11.21 per day, and in Hamilton $8.60."

He concluded from this that it was much more economical to operate a larger jail.

During another lull, Warden Merry pointed out that Oakville and Burlington could have sent actual representatives to cast their votes instead of the three votes cast by the deputy reeve. In this way there would have been a quorum.

Rotarians Organizing For 1966 Easter Seal Campaign

Georgetown rotarians Ed Burman and Ernie Pearce represented the local club at a district meeting of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children Tuesday Oct. 19 in Dundas when the Easter Seal Campaign was the main topic of discussion.

Figures on the last Easter Seal campaign released this week showed that 11 per cent of mailings to households in Georgetown were returned with donations, and the average donation was $3.97.

In the District 142 was the percentage of mailings returned with donations and $3.78 was the average donation.

At this meeting representatives from Service Clubs in the Counties of Halton, Brant, Norfolk and Wentworth met with officials of the Society to plan the organization of the 1966 Easter Seal campaign to be held in their communities between March 10 and April 10. Reports by each club on their work with crippled children in the past year, revealed the many services such as camp holidays, transportation to treatment centres and hospitals, supplying of braces, wheelchairs and other such equipment, were all being efficiently handled by the Service Club in cooperation with the Ontario Society for Crippled Children.

Delegates attending the meeting represented Acton Rotary, Brantford Rotary, Burlington Lions, Dundas Lions, Georgetown Rotary, Hamilton Rotary, Milton Rotary, Oakville Rotary, Simcoe Rotary and Waterdown Rotary.

Evening were Mr. and Mrs. A. Skilling, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mackey, Mr. and Mrs. P. Dutton and Mr. and Mrs. G. Stevens.

U.N. Role in World Much More than Assembly Work

"Relations between various ethnic and religious groups in Georgetown indicates that if men can live in harmony here, it is possible to strive for this on a world basis," said Professor Donald Grady, as he spoke at a Y.M.W.C.A.-sponsored meeting Sunday in Holy Cross church auditorium.

The McMaster professor departed from the announced subject of Africa and its Underdeveloped Countries, to tell his audience about the United Nations.

He explained that while the organization is best publicized for its debates between great powers on the assembly floor in New York, there are many facets which deserve to be better known. UNICEF and UNESCO are among these, and the Economic Commission for Africa, which finds men from all countries working together for a higher purpose than purely national interests.

Mr. Grady has first hand knowledge of this as he is just back from Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, where he lectured in university and conducted research into developing African countries.

He explained that despite grave problems in war torn Vietnam, a United Nations river channelling continues and so far it has proceeded without interference from either warring faction.

He said such work is much more important than the original creation by five world powers to ensure world peace through them. The usuality of great powers is a transient thing, as time has proven, he

Rev. Lloyd Wham was chairman and introduced Mr. Grady. It was the first in what is planned to be a series of Y-sponsored lectures on current events.

ASHGROVE

Nancy Hunter Gets W.I. Bursary From Ashgrove

Mrs. Bruce McClure was hostess for the October meeting of Ashgrove Women's Institute Tuesday evening, Oct. 19 and president Mrs. James Carney presided. Roll call was answered by "A clipping of interest on agriculture."

Mrs. C. B. Dick and her daughter Mrs. J. H. Hunter were appointed to attend a training school on hats to be held in Milton Nov. 9-10. It was announced that Miss Nancy Hunter had won the $50 bursary and is now attending the University of Western Ontario.

Mrs. John Bird gave the district directors' report and several members purchased tickets for the Lucky Luncheon to be held in Milton Nov. 3. Short reports from the Guelph convention were given by Mrs. Carney, Mrs. Bob Alexander and Mrs. John Bird.

The meeting was turned over to the conveners of agriculture and Canadian industries, Mrs. W. Cleave and Mrs. Percy Cox, who called on Mrs. Fred Nurse for the motto "Industry keeps the body healthy, the mind clean, the heart whole and the purse full."

Piano solos by Ann McClure, then a lively singalong led by Mrs. Francis Thompson of such songs as Down on the Farm and Old MacDonald, was followed by a paper on agriculture by Mrs. Wilbert Cleave. She said the soil is God's greatest gift to man and from it we derive life itself. From birth to death we are dependent on the soil and there is a world of wonder in a handful of earth.

Current events were given by Mrs. George Bird, and a contest from the words agriculture and industry was won by Mrs. J. Wickson and Mrs. John Ruddell.

Mrs. Vern Pickett thanked the business and those taking part in the program, and a social hour followed.

The Tyro boys recently held a winter roast at the home of David Alexander. After a rousing game of football they enjoyed a supper of hot dogs and other good things. During supper the boys tried to figure out which of them was the mystery person. Dennis McClure was such a good actor that he completely fooled the boys and won the prize for himself. A scavenger hunt brought in many interesting things. Roasting marshmallows around the fire brought the evening to a close.

The autumn thankoffering of the United Church Women was held Friday evening Oct. 23 in the church. President Mrs. Wilfrid Bird welcomed the large gathering who had braved a rainy night and a bad road under construction.

Mrs. John Bird had the devotional on thanksgiving with scripture from the 17th Chapter of Luke read by Mrs. Ford Wickson. The Messengers, Explorers and Tyros sang musical numbers and David Austin played his electrical guitar.

Mrs. Frank Wilson introduced guest speaker Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Toronto, who was first president of Halton Presbyterian U.C.W. two years ago. She and her husband had visited Trinidad, one of the mission fields, and she showed colour pictures of the country, the people and their way of life. It showed what is being done and what is yet to be done for the people. Mrs. J. M. Wickson thanked her for her talk. A social hour followed downstairs.
