ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hou-till, 12 King St., Georgetown, announce the engagement of their daughter Darlene Helen Cheryl to Mr. Robert William Lowrie, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Russell Lowrie, Brampton.
The marriage will take place in St. George's Anglican Church, Georgetown, on Saturday, November the sixth, at one o'clock.

The bride, a nurse at Peel Memorial Hospital, Brampton, is the daughter of Mr. Edward M. Burk, M.M. 2 and the late Mr. Burk. The groom, a Smith & Stone employee, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Preston, Georgetown.

Rev. Roy Irwin officiated at the ceremony. Rev. Laidlow was organist and Mrs. Jack May sang Wedding Prayer and O Lord Most Holy.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother Bob Burk in double ring ceremony, wore a wedding gown of white French lace and taffeta, and a long veil edged with appliqued scalloped lace and roses. She wore a coronet crown of lily white orchids and carried a handsome bouquet of white shafts lumas and orange delicate roses.

Miss Lynn Bell, Streetsville, was maid of honour, the groom's sister, Betty Ann Preston was bridesmaid and Debbie Hall, junior bridesmaid. They wore gold chiffon velvet and peau de soie.

The newlyweds travelled east to the Thousand Islands and Ottawa, and home by North Bay for their wedding trip.

The bride travelled in a soft blue and brown boucle suit, brown accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston are making their home in Georgetown.

Set Three Performances For "Taming of the Shrew"

It's opening night tonight (Thursday) for the Georgetown Little Theatre's production of "The Taming of the Shrew" — the Shakespearean play that has since formed the basic plot for immortal Hollywood plays thought to be one of Shakespeare's earlier works despite the fact it wasn't published until 1594. The modern day author turned "Kiss Me Kate" is based on the same theme.

In the high school tradition, Peterhouse (GEO) will woo and eventually win the Shrew (Vera McDonald) for three nights in a row, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The atmosphere of 17th century Italy has been created by set designer Lynne Hyde, while the costumes of the period have been designed and made by wife Kitty.

Featured in the large cast demanded by a story within a story, such as this is, are Launcelot (Roy Heat), a gay, wanton fellow, and Gremio (Van Long), the older, rival suitor.

Also in the cast are Fred Roberts, Don Castle, Chris Foster, Al Sutherland, Gord Ham, Rose McCloskey, Peter MacDonald, and Betty Maher.

The Taming of the Shrew is Nov. 29, 30 and 31 at 8 p.m. at the Georgetown Little Theatre, 10 Mill Street. Adults $2.50, Students 50¢.

Following the war, he joined Fiberglas Canada Ltd., and managed the Guelph plant until he moved to Guelph in 1951.

Mr. Mackay is survived by one sister, Dorothy, of Guelph, who is the last surviving member of the Mackay family.

Service was Tuesday evening at the McIntyre and Wilkie Funeral Home, Guelph. Burial was in Haliburton Cemetery, Pictou, N.S.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Van Hoekelen, 11 John Street West, celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, October 20th. Mr. and Mrs. Van Hoekelen were married in Lias, Hal-burton.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller and daughter Marlene and Payne, attended a three-day Bahai Conference at North Bay this Thanksgiving weekend. Mrs. Miller stayed on for an extra week and a half to visit with former Georgetown Leader reporter Joan Shattock who has been on the staff of the North Bay Nugget for the past year.

He was also a member of the Cutten Club and a former member of the Guelph Rotary Club.

Born in Pictou, Nova Scotia, Mr. Mackay was a graduate of Pictou Academy, Dalhousie University and McGill University.

A brilliant scholar, he was awarded the British Association Medal and other awards when he received his Bachelor of Science and Engineering degree from McGill in 1934. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs.
John W. Mackay, QC, of Pictou, N.S.

He worked in Hamilton as chief radio consultant for Westinghouse until World War II, and was engaged in secret work for Research Enterprise Ltd. during the war.

The newlyweds travelled east
to the Thousand Islands and
Ottawa, and home by North
Bay for their wedding trip.

The bride travelled in a soft
blue and brown boucle suit,
brown accessories and a corsage
of yellow mums.
