Make It A Good Parade

Jim Jones, who is in charge of this year's Santa Claus parade for the Lions Club, is in his seasonal state of litters as December 11th comes closer and the parade But is still incomplete.

The Lions have been advertising for a couple of weeks for organizations, Industries, schools and churches to enter floats in the perade. He has had some luck, but not as much as he had hoped for, and this week he has asked us to appeal for fest action.

The Georgetown perade has come to be known as one of the best in this part of Ontario, and it is always a highlight for local people. It is not the easiest job in the world to create an attractive float, but It is a rewarding one and a fine public service on the part of those who take the trouble.

The Santa parade has steadily grown

Fine Gifts to Hospital

Three recent gifts to Georgetown Hospitel have greatly edded to its facilities.

In each case, an industry has been responsible for the financial assist which has given the hospital better equipment.

The Industries have realized that once a hospital is built, it does not exist forever, without constant changes and additions. The original campaign which freed the town from its dependence on Brampton and Gueloh for such service, accomplished only one stage. A hospital is, at the most, only self-supporting, and it must count on individuals, organizations and industries for its progress beyond the bare necessities.

Growing and Growing

The high school 'old timers' of a decade ago are still amazad when they see the town's massive high school and compare if with the old building they attended as mountly as the early 50's.

Now they are due for another shock as work begins on an addition which will boost the school's student capacity to over 1,400 in a couple of years.

Now, with this on the drawing board, we can look ahead again and foresee the day when Georgelown may have not only one large high school, but two. The new addition will complete a development program begun when the town started to grow sapidly in the postwar years.

We have seen one addition, then the old structure razed and replaced by better
