

Crest Touring Company Plays at High School

The students of Grade twelve and thirteen were treated to an afternoon of professional theatre Monday, when the touring company of the Crest Foundation appeared before them.

The five actors and two stage hands performed all the chores of erecting scenery, moving props and making costume changes in full view of the audience.

The costume changes consisted of a very few jackets, capes or shawls, which however, gave the effect of an extensive wardrobe.

The company led off with three scenes from Macbeth, then followed with "The Death of Hired Man," by Frost.

The "Dark Lady of the Sonnets" by Shaw, which followed, brought ripples of appreciation from the audience who seemed to catch even the finer points of Shaw's wit.

Concluding the programme was a selection of songs and poems, done in a Boatswain style, complete with guitars, and audience participation.

The two girls and three men making up the company are Ken Walsh, Joel Kanyon, Bruce Armstrong, Judith Orban, and Marilyn Lightone.

The company will travel ten thousand miles around Ontario this year, presenting their shows to over a hundred thousand students.

The first school-touring company was set up three years ago, with the Crest Theatre paying the expenses. After the success of the first year's operation, the Department of Education picked up the tab for a five man company, the staging group and a bus to carry both the actors and the scenery.

Hal Board Endure Party at Limehouse

Mr. Kirkpatrick has been in the doctor's care this week. We hope that he is about soon.

The W. I. met at the house at the close of the performance showed that the purpose of the group, to prove that live theatre is great fun, and much more stimulating than film, had been accomplished in the Georgetown High School at least.

of Mrs. A.W. Berman last week.

The Hal Board held a meeting on Tuesday last week when eight tables were in play. Winners were Mr. G. Mehta and Mrs. Fred Appleyard, and second was Mrs. H. Berman and Mrs. Dan Livingstone.

Mrs. Allen and family of Orangeville and Mrs. Malby of Shelburne visited the Curran Malby's on the week-end.
