RAIDERS SAG IN 4th GAME MERCHANTS EVEN SEMI-FINAL

Car lights made it an illuminated procession of pathos that traced its way along the Base Line and Esplanade's 7th Line late Friday night. The solid stream of packed cars carried some 800 Georgetown Raider fans, witnesses to a piece of Junior C playoff hockey action in which their favourites had played the role of the floundering victims.

Raiders absorbed a 10-4 beating at the hands of Milton Merchants in Milton's Brown St. arena earlier and the outcome deadlocked the best of five series at 2 games apiece.

Georgetown won the first two games by 4 to 3 counts, and Milton was handed the 3rd game by the same score despite a tying goal with a second left on the clock.

A total of 1,700 crowded the lopsided Milton stands to watch Merchants run up a 10-1 score before Raiders reduced the difference with a trio of goals in the final three minutes.

Craig Brush paced the Militons with three goals, Jim Keane scored a pair while John Forbes, Bill Currie, Roger Wildfong, Joe Hore and Brian Bond notched one each.

Paul Robinson scored twice

Protest Unfounded, Find Clock is Accurate

Milton Merchant Hockey Club suspicions about the accuracy of the time clock in Georgetown Memorial Arena proved unfounded Sunday when an accuracy check found the big timer to be precise.

The accuracy check was run an hour before Georgetown Raiders and Milton Merchants met in the fifth game of their OHA Junior C semi-final.

Milton Merchant manager Shorty Wildfong held a stop watch on the arena clock but could find no deficiency after a series of checks.

OHA referee in chief Pat Patterson, who was invited to observe while the tests showed up the faults in the arena clock, waited patiently for half an hour and then left after the clock consistently matched the stop watch to the second.
