Says Home for Retarded Would Fill Halton Need

Despite competition from other local activities on the same night, which cut attendance, and some minor microphone problems, an open meeting on Mental Retardation at which Robert Kanerva, president of the North Halton Association for the Mentally Retarded was a main speaker, was considered successful.

Mr. Kanerva enlightened the audience of 45 on several points concerning the extent to which mental retardation affects the country as a whole; and the need for additional training centres in the North Halton area.

He said that while the Sunshine School at Hornby was doing an excellent service to the public and high school age group, the pre-school and adult groups should be given more attention.

New Workshop

Mr. Kanerva stressed that although next week a workshop will open in a former schoolhouse near Hornby, the Association has hopes of having one built within a year.

Another much-needed training centre would be a residence which would provide a type of home-life for the homeless and those retarded adults who require more attention than can be given them at their own home. This home, which he suggested would be a very practical Centennial project, would be situated in Burlington, Oakville and Milton, and remove some of the burden now resting on parents and teachers of retarded adults.

H.O.P.E. and other Association Product Enterprises, which is the name of the workshop, under the management of Mrs. Winifred Isham, will repair lawn chairs, hook rugs and eventually compete for contracts from industry in the area.

Flowers of Hope

On Mother's Day, there will be a 'Flowers of Hope' campaign which will assist in raising a part of the money for the expenses of H.O.P.E. and other Association projects.

It is hoped that it will receive strong support in this area. Mr. Kanerva said.

Mr. Kanerva then turned the meeting over to Dr. Stuart of the Halton County Health Unit who expressed his agreement with the speaker, and introduced Dr. K. Kafato, Director of the Mental Health Clinic in Hamilton and guest speaker of the evening.

Dr. Kafato spoke on the problems of the retarded, or disturbed child, and explained how some of this emotional disturbance is created in the home.

He said that in the case of the child who is not adjusting well to the school environment, or is experiencing some difficulty at home; there often comes to light a tension between parents and child, or between the two parents because of the child.

He stated that there must be a distinct line drawn between children with brain damage, and those who are emotionally disturbed.

He attempted to remove some of the misgivings that people have about going to the clinic, and stressed that children sometimes are there for behaviour problems which, if checked in time, do not really materialize into serious mental disturbance.

Dr. Kafato stated that there must be full cooperation from teachers, parents, family and the clinic in assisting the retarded child.

The talk was followed by a short question and answer period which included a question on how a retarded child should be treated with regard to the rest of his brothers and sisters.

Dr. Kafato said that where possible, the child should be treated as one of the group, and that attempts by some parents to 'make up' for the necessary extra help the child requires by lavishing attention on the rest of the family, sometimes results in emotional disturbance in the other children.
