

Seek Funds This Week For Retarded Program

Convenors for the Flowers of Hope fund which will assist the work of North Halton Association for the Mentally Retarded are calling at district homes this week. Money received will assist the Sunshine School, which educates children from this area, and the newly established workshop at Hornby for adults. The association, in its ten years in Georgetown, has been actively engaged in coping with the needs of the mentally retarded, and has made great strides in a field which was neglected for many years.

A generous response by residents to the Flowers of Hope campaign will give assurance that a continuing program to make retarded children self-supporting adults.

Church Groups Planning School for Deaf Visit

Now that May is here, surely the weather will get nicer. Spring now, winter spurning, Shines the land with green, And the birds returning. Can be heard and seen. Wake now from their dreaming Every bush and vine, And the sunlight streaming Warms the skies like wine. Through the moist earth pushes The yellow daffodil, And the lilac bushes Soon their fragrance spill.

The three junior groups met in the church Sunday afternoon. Explorers and Tyros met together to hear an interesting study on deafness presented by Miss Lois Niven, a teacher at Milton School for the Deaf.

She told of the early treatment of deaf children and outlined their development from beginners stage at five to graduation with business abilities in the late teens. Their residence and school life combine to provide for them a life much as it would be if they could live normally at home, with full blown birthday parties and observance of such special days as Halloween and Valentine day to extra curricular activities such as clubs and scouts, brownies and guides.

Mrs. John McNabb thanked Miss Niven and a worship service followed with Grace Bird, Lydia Rentenaar, Dennis Mc-

Managed Farmers Bank Branch at Cheltenham

Once manager of the Farmers Bank at Cheltenham, John Francis Hunter, 82, died on April 25th at the Georgetown Nursing Home.

He was the son of Francis and Sarah Ann Reed Hunter, and was born on their farm home at Norval, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Patterson. He entered the banking business in Norval, when the Farmers Bank had a branch in the village. It was located in the present Rabson's store. Later he went to Cheltenham as manager.

When the bank failed, Mr. Hunter went west, lived at Saskatoon for a few years when he travelled for a fruit company, then spent twenty years at Drumheller, Alberta, as book-keeper for a coal mining firm.

He returned east several years ago and spent his winters in Florida and summers in Toronto. His wife, Caroline, died 15 years ago. He leaves a sister Mrs. Nelson Carter (Charlotte) of Brampton, and brother Joseph of Norval. He was predeceased by sisters Mrs. Thomas Lyons and Mrs. Spencer Early and a brother Harry.

Rev. Norman Young conducted the funeral service last Wednesday at the H. C. McClure Funeral Home, with interment following in Hillcrest Cemetery. Burial flowers were supplied by Mrs. Egan, Frank and James Lyons, John and William Hunter and Robert Andrews.

Silvercreek Residents Ask Sideroad Improvement

In support of a petition signed by over twenty taxpayers, Joseph Duffield and Sam Adams appeared before Esqueusing Council Monday requesting reconstruction of the 27 sideroad, (Silvercreek Sideroad) between lot 27 and 28.

Mr. Duffield explained there was a short steep hill, with a high crest cutting visibility to 30 or 40 feet. The sheer drop on the side leaves no place to pass, he contended.

"Three weeks ago I came over the hill and a car smashed into me," stated S. Adams. "When police measured the road they found the travelled portion was only fourteen feet wide."

Mr. Duffield suggested the removal of six to eight feet from the brow of the hill would help.

Councillor G. Currie commented that the base was solid rock, and would have to be blasted.

Council agreed with Reeve George Leslie's suggestion that Council take a Highway's engineer with them to look at it, especially since blasting may be necessary. "We have to get an estimated cost," explained the Reeve, "if it's going to be costly we have to take the money from somewhere else."

Thomas McLean, RR 5, Milton was appointed Esqueusing's building inspector, at a salary of $300 per year, plus a two hundred dollar car allowance, and eighty per cent of the building permit fees collected.

The high cost of garbage ruffed Coun. Tom Hill. "Are we paying $177 a month to cover garbage from Milton or somewhere else," he demanded. "Let's put someone on the gate to find out where the garbage is coming from," he added.

Reeve George Leslie felt that the man's wages alone would run into more money than the covering.

Continuing with his theme Coun. Tom Hill thundered, "It's too much money for Esqueusing taxpayers to pay for other people's garbage. I'm not blaming the man who covers it, it's our fault for having no control over it."

"What kind of control do you suggest?" asked Coun. Patterson.

"I'd rather see garbage in the dump than on the roadside."

Reeve Leslie pointed out that a man would have to be there from six in the morning till dark to see who was dumping garbage. "Lock the gate and it will be dumped on the road," he added. "If you can solve the problem you're welcome," he concluded looking toward Coun. Hill.

Seek Funds For Bible Society

The Georgetown Branch of the Canadian Bible Society will conduct a one-day blitz campaign for funds on Monday May 9th, when collectors will call from house to house between 10:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. $800,000 is the amount that the Canadian Bible Society is expected to contribute towards the $6,000,000 that the parent organization, the British and Foreign Bible Society, will spend in 1966 in the publishing, translating and distributing of copies of the Holy Scriptures.

In a world where 2500 languages are spoken, the Scriptures are required in many hundreds of translations. The Bible has been translated into half of these, and the Bible Society is currently engaged in the translation and revision of 500 more.

Because of the utter poverty of five-eighths of the world's population, the Scriptures must be provided at a fraction of their cost and the Bible Society must face a loss of millions of dollars each year. Receiving no grants from Church Headquarters, its work depends entirely on voluntary contributions from congregations and individuals and on legacies.

The President of the Georgetown Branch is the Rev. Norman Young, and the secretary-treasurer is Mr. Watson Winfield.
