

Committee Will Study Job Evaluation Report

The preliminary report on job evaluation by Simpson, Riddell, Stead and partners will be turned over to the administration committee for further study, Council decided on Monday.

"It has cost us no money up to this point," said the mayor. "And I don't think it will serve any useful purpose; let's file it."

Objecting to this Cr. Ballantine stated, "I hope it will be studied in committee. To my knowledge we have not dealt with two recent requests for raises."

Council agreed and sent it to the administration committee.

Variety of Novelties, Booths Spell Success at Big Bazaar

The weatherman cooperated a bit too enthusiastically for the Holy Cross Parish Bazaar last Saturday. But despite the elevated thermometer, hundreds of people left the comfort of their back yard chairs, and attended a real 'old time' church bazaar. The church auditorium and surrounding grounds offered a tempting melange of entertainment, wares for sale, food, music, and irresistible games of chance.

A kaleidoscope of colour, sounds, sights, odours, greeted comers of all ages — provided by a strawberry festival served under colorful beach umbrellas; Satan's Sinners attracted the young and not-so-young for a dance, pony rides, fish pond, the magic of a delightful clown, movies and cartoons, outdoor rry of fresh cut flowers and potted plants, the aroma of home-made bread, pies, cakes, and cookies, the fascinating display at the popular penny table, the exquisitely decorated booth for hand-knits and sewing, the adventurous White Elephant table, intriguing books and records, Little Montmartre, authentic Indian crafts, novelties, lucky draws, sandwiches, red hats, and an appetizing buffet dinner.

Student Minister, Family Move to His New Charge

At his final services on the Ballinafad Charge on Sunday morning, Mr. George Bates did not attempt to preach a farewell sermon, but did express his thanks and appreciation to both congregations. His remarks were spoken to three groups, first to those who had accepted him as their pastor, secondly to those who had become their friends as well as pastor, and lastly to those who had opposed him in preaching the gospel and the church administration. It had all been a great experience in learning. Mr. and Mrs. Bates and the four children, George, Tim, Susan and Angela moved from the community to their new home at Onondaga on Tuesday of this week and we extend best wishes to them all.

The 1st Ballinafad Scout Troop attended the Camporee at Waterfalls Playground over the week end and were third in the competition on the week end activities as well as being the largest group attending. Congratulations boys. On Monday night they also enjoyed an evening of swimming and hiking at the Quarry at Silvercreek to wind up their year's program. Around a huge fire they toasted marshmallows for refreshments.

Several families from this community attended the annual Robinson reunion at Havsumfun Park at Lake Belwood on Sunday.

Miss Jean Lawr visited at her home over the week end and Mrs. Elizabeth Lawr was in Georgetown with her son and family.
