The role call, "Name an advantage and disadvantage the girls of today have that their mothers did not have," was answered by 17 members and several visitors including members of the Ballinapad 4-H club and their mothers. The girls gave a demonstration of the work accomplished for the week - recent day and a display was set up on the theme, "Table contest for different occasions" with Nancy Snow as the commentator.

A contest followed having the mothers via the girls on table manners and a house guest which was very amusing and interesting.
