

World Progresses on Warehouse, Store and Factory FOCUS ON CONSTRUCTION

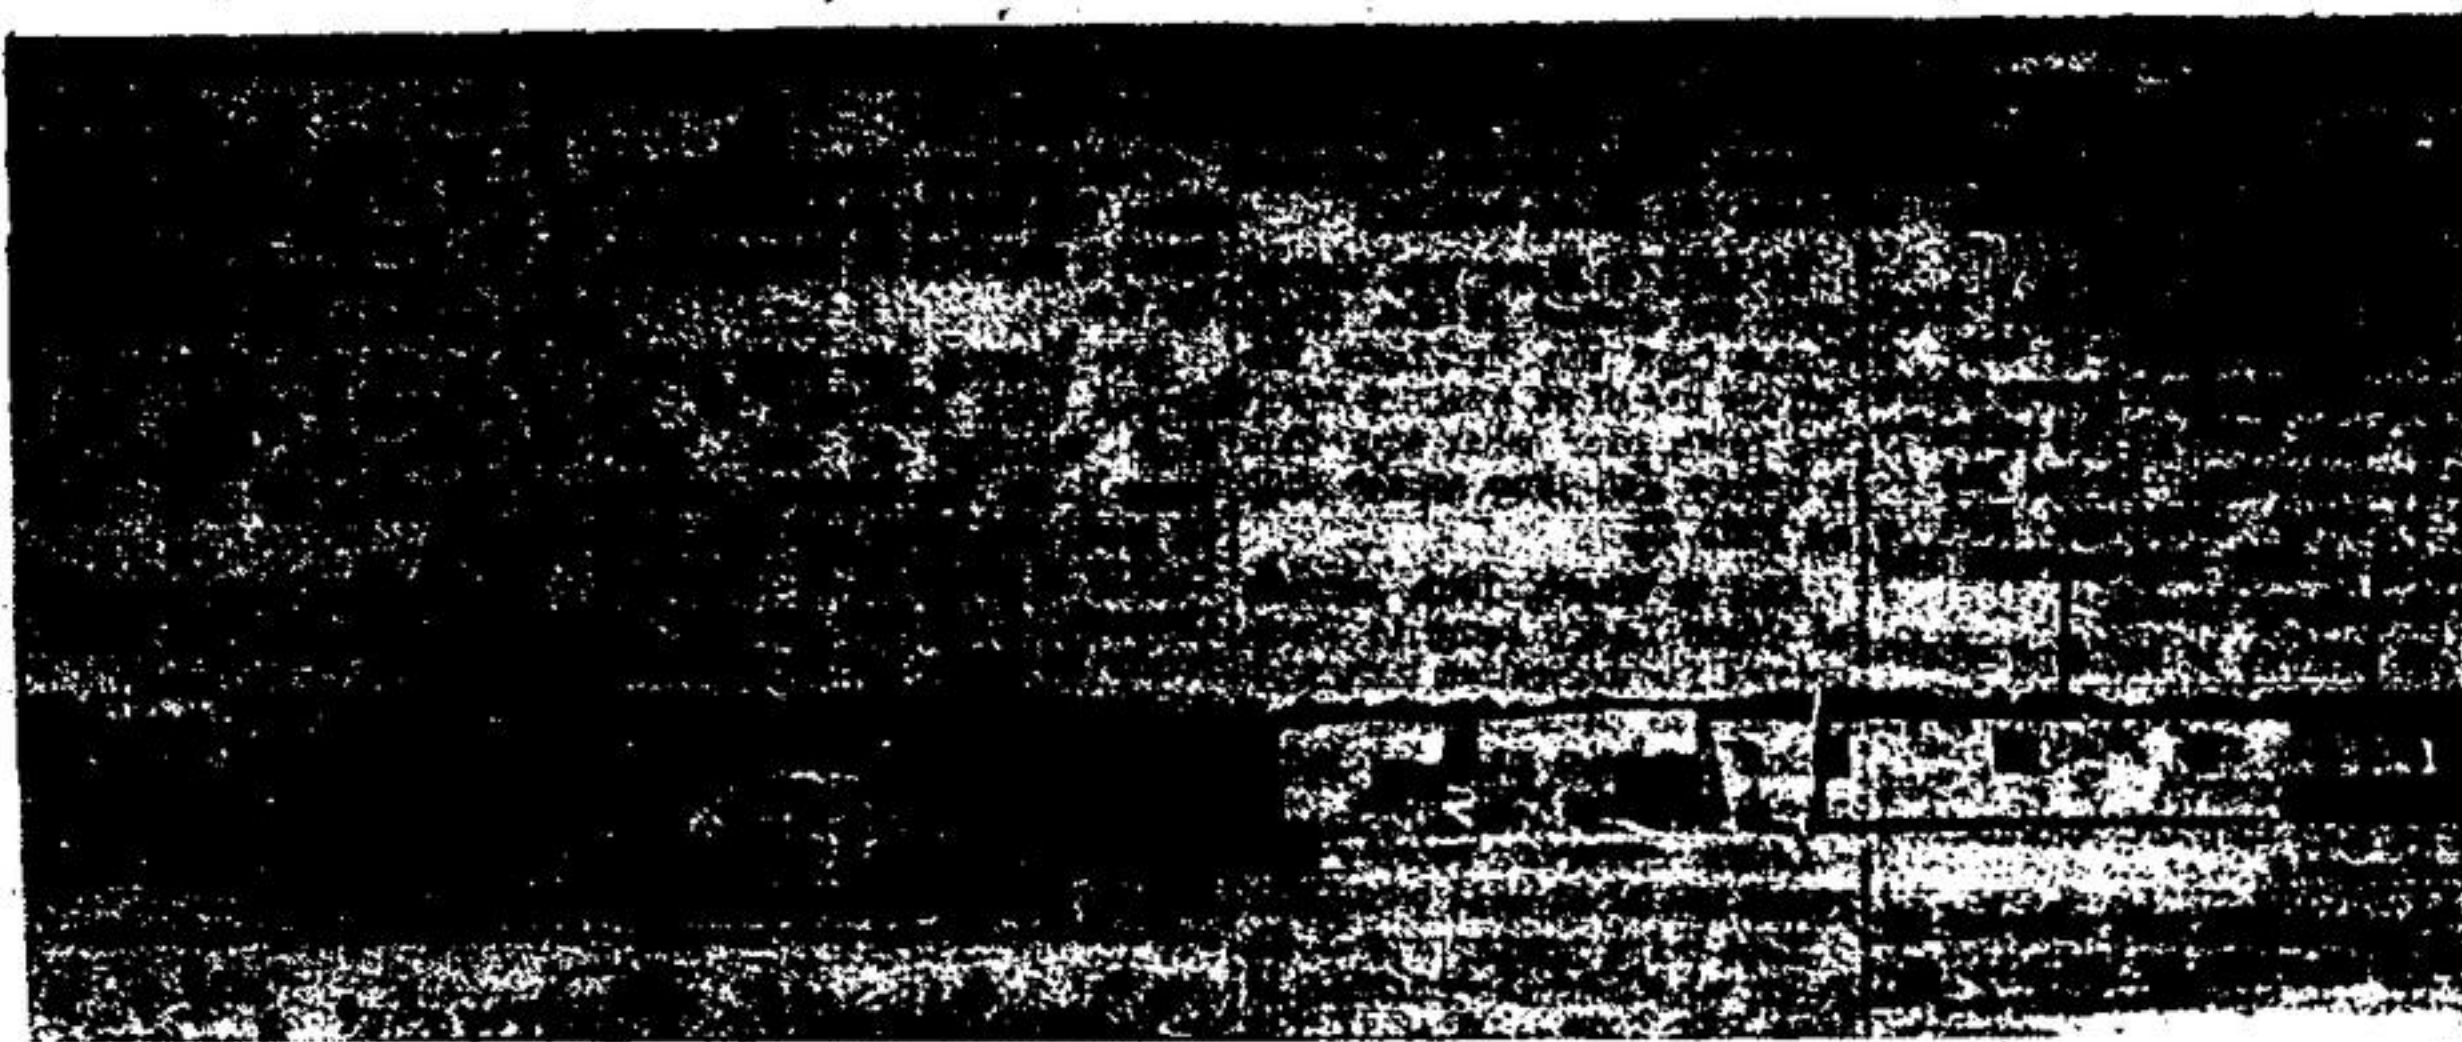

A warehouse, milk store and factory site occupy the spot right in this week's Focus on construction in Georgetown. Top left: A new building at the eastern end of Armstrong Ave. which sprung up almost overnight will become a supply warehouse for Boehmer Ready Mix Concrete which has its cement plant on Main St. S. Top right: Workmen were from the partially completed show window in a long, narrow block building on Guelph St. just east of Baxway BP which will house a Mac's Milk store when finished. The milk plant operators are aiming at an August opening date. Below: The public have watched with interest and wonder the long drawn out operation on the site of the General Fireproofing Factory where ground was broken in late January and where heavy earth moving machinery has been shifting the terrain ever since. The initial 150,000 square feet factory is to be completed into this fall. Bottom: The GF factory's steel skeleton grows out of the 42 acre site after months of preparation.

Acton Farm Couple Honoured on 50th Wedding Anniversary

Brookdale Farm was the perfect setting for a family gathering when Mr. and Mrs. M. Cole celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

During the "At Home" members of the family and friends gathered to extend greetings to the couple who live at RR 2 Acton. Their son Clarence and his wife Wilma were co-hosts to the large gathering.

Murray M. Cole and the former Jennie E. Bowyer, first became acquainted when their families were settlers on the shores of Doe Lake in the Parry Sound district. Romance which budded by way of boating in the summer and skiing in the winter blossomed out later into a marriage which took place in Toronto on June 7, 1916. The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. Walter Amos.

The couple lived on a farm near Woodbridge from 1916 until 1930 when they moved to Brookdale farm, east of Acton where they still reside. Mr. Cole enjoys being actively engaged in farming in association with son Clarence and grandsons Bruce and Jimmie. He was always fond of horses and still enjoys riding and driving.

Always a great home lover, Mrs. Cole enjoys keeping house and looking after her flower gardens which decorate the huge lawn at the home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cole are active members of the Presbyterian church as well as of the Guelph Camp of the Glidions.

Their particular pride and joy centres around the immediate members of their family of two daughters and three sons, as well as three daughters-in-law and two sons-in-law and a total of 17 grandchildren.

Extra 150 Manor Beds Ready in September

The $1,412,000 150-bed Martin House for Halton's aged is now scheduled to be completed by September 30 of this year, nearly 10 months after the originally scheduled completion date.

The addition to Halton's accommodation for senior citizens named in honour of the Martin family of Milton, is now 90 per cent completed, Manor superintendent Stanley Allen reports. The new facilities will be used exclusively for bed care and special care patients and if construction is finished according to the newest schedule, patients should move into the building early in November.

The project has been plagued by a number of major problems since it was first begun, over two years ago. Originally it was to be completed in December of 1963 but the date was moved on to March 31, 1966. Later it was changed again to June 15 and now it is September 30.

Inclement weather early in 1965, which put the contractors considerably behind schedule, coupled with a series of labour problems including strikes, delayed the project. The recent end of the plumbers' strike came just in time to prevent a further delay. At the present time, Mr. Allen said, there are sufficient men on the job to have it completed by the new deadline.

As soon as the trades have completed the inside work including painting, the installation of terrazo, plumbing, electrical fixtures and refrigeration, Manor staff members will be able to start their clean-up inside.

Mr. Allen hoped most of the furniture for the building might be moved in before the end of October and expected that if this was done the patients might move in early in November.

The superintendent termed the delays as being "very frustrating, when you consider we need the facilities." He suggested that the outset of the building program it was believed the new facilities would be adequate until 1970, but now he said, "it is my opinion that with the large number of applications we've had, it will likely be necessary to start building again in 1969."

He pointed out some facilities for the new addition will adequately look after a further 150 bed addition. The new addition includes 14 one bed units, 40 two bed units, 14 four bed units, two quiet rooms, two psychiatric wards and six sick bay beds.

Choose 1874 Herald Poster For Canadiana Reproduction

A poster, printed at the Georgetown Herald office in 1874 has been chosen by a Toronto firm for reproduction in a series of historical souvenirs being offered for sale as part of Canada's centennial.

Victoriana Associates, Toronto, has devised the idea of recreating old posters and documents and terms the Herald poster "an altogether splendid example of Victorian job-printing at its best."

The poster offers the services at stud of the stallion, Young Netherby, "The Splendid Horse." In addition to a magnificent engraving of Young Netherby pacing with his groom the poster includes the horse's itinerary in the first week of May, 1874, Furnishings for the building are expected to cost $65,000. One unique aspect of the building is that all windows are reversible so they may be cleaned from the inside, then turned outside. Tunnels will connect the new boiler room to the addition and the addition to the existing Manor.

Residents of Martin House will make use of auditorium, chapel and laundry, located in the Centennial Manor.

There are currently about 100 on the staff at the Manor, looking after 226 residents. An additional 80-90 will be required when the new building is ready. Mr. Allen expects the staff per patient ratio in the new building will be about two patients to one staff member while in the other portion it will be three patients to one staff member.

his pedigree and terms and conditions of his services.

The poster bears the signature of Robert Gibbons, proprietor and groom.

Reprints, treated to simulate natural aging are listed by the firm at $9.95.

The poster is from the same era as an original framed copy of one which draws a great deal of attention in the Herald office.

This advertises an excursion to Niagara Falls sponsored by Louisa Lodge No. 68, Ancient Order of Workmen of Georgetown which took place on Monday, September 6, 1880.

CRUSADE COMMENT

REV. BRUCE WOODS
Maple Avenue Baptist Church

Who is Barry Moore? This is the question people have been asking when they hear of the Halton-Peel Evangelistic Crusade. Most people know about Billy Graham, but are unaware that Canada has an evangelist of like stature though not as well known.

I count myself especially able to introduce to our readers evangelist Barry Moore since it was my privilege to know him before he entered evangelism as a full time calling.

It was in the year 1948 when I first met Barry Moore. He was in his second year of teaching public school and I was in my teens. I found myself attracted to Barry for two reasons, his athletic ability and his positive Christian witness.

Barry Moore had starred in high school football as an outstanding quarterback and had for a time been a pitcher for the London Majors baseball club. However, his greatest impact on my life stemmed from his positive testimony as Canada was his missionary post and evangelism his calling.

Mr. Moore is an outstanding evangelist with a difference. His command of the English language is flawless, his diction is a masterpiece of word power. His poise in the pulpit is that of a schoolmaster; his power to arrest the hearers, overwhelming. Barry Moore is a gentleman evangelist; he doesn't shout and pound the pulpit, but his preaching is electric and above all, his seal of Divine approval, the power and unction of God.

I have known Barry Moore as two persons, first, as a friend and secondly as a great evangelist, and I am proud of both associations.

Barry Moore is the first Canadian evangelist to become known in all ten provinces. He is still a young man, but I predict that in a few years he will be as widely recognized in Canada as Billy Graham is in the United States.

It will be your privilege along with thousands to bear him first hand in the Halton-Peel Crusade next September 18 to 25, in the Brampton Arena.

Next week: How the Crusade got started.
