Silverwood Ladies Visit Brantford on Bus Trip

Silverwood W.I. sponsored a bus trip and invited members of other Institutes and the Horticultural Society to go along.

The first stop was Hamilton and the botanical gardens and then to Dundara Park where the members had a picnic lunch. Next the group went to Brantford where they visited Cheshwood and the Chapel of the Holy Spirit.

Supper was served at the community hall by Blue Lake and Auburn Institutes. The bus arrived back in Georgetown at nine p.m.

Silverwood W.I. served refreshments Friday evening, July 29 at the sale at Georgetown Sales Arena.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burt and Mr. Bob McMaster spent a few days holidays at Westree recently.

GLEN WILLIAMS

Shower Welcomes Bride Who Will Live in Glen Williams

Last Thursday evening about twenty-five ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Herb Hancock for a miscellaneous show for a bride of this week, Miss Irene Hunter of Terra Cotta whose home will be here in the village soon. Mrs. Hancock had a very interesting evening planned with the help of Mrs. Una Wheeler and Mrs. Fred Engleby. The gifts were opened with Nancy Korzeck and Linda Puckering helping and Linda thanked all the ladies and felt it was a very thoughtful way to welcome her into the village. A lovely evening came to a close with the serving of strawberry shortcake and ice cream and tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dixon attended the wedding of his nephew, Laverne Dixon and Thelma Kaley in Donlands United Church, Toronto last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Giles and family motored to Ottawa for the holiday week-end to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ken Beam. Dianne and Brett stayed for a week's holiday.

We extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bullock in the death of Mrs. Bullock's sister recently in Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dixon have recently returned from a motor trip in Northern Ontario.

We send our best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Irene Hunter of Terra Cotta and Bill Wheeler who will be married this Saturday in Union Presbyterian Church.

COUNTY OF HALTON WEED CONTROL NEWS

BY V. E. MCARTHUR WEED INSPECTOR

Enemies Today, Early Weeds Were Used by the Pilgrims

Every herb or plant in existence has at one time had a beginning. Many of our noxious weeds were brought here from Europe and other far away lands. When we examine some of the older Canada Weed Books we note that the editor almost invariably commences the weed description — "Introduced from Europe" or "Native". Another characteristic, commonly found in these books, following the weed variety information is the use of suitable quotations from famous authors. Some of these are extremely ancient, dating back to the fifteen hundreds.

While on vacation a few years ago we had an interesting visit at the Plymouth Plantation at Plymouth, Mass. USA. Here they have an historical replica of the original Plymouth settlement built by early settlers who landed there from England and Holland in 1620. Here among the primitive houses was a flourishing garden of herbs and weeds. A lady dressed in the original Pilgrim costume was busy processing the plants into medicines and pills and other remedies just as the original settlers had done.

Many weeds that are now man's enemies were the Pilgrim's best friends. For example, a soothing preparation for a sore throat was being made from the "Sumac" shrub. Healing ointment for wounds, cuts and bruises emerged from "Ox-eyed Daisy" and "St. John's Wort". "Wild Carrot" made an effective stimulant while a very useful medicine was procured from the "Burdock". From the "Yarrow" weed came an excellent medicine for colds and earache. The early Pilgrims apparently treated warts successfully with juices from the "Mullen" plant.

"Sweet Fern" was an unfailing cure for poison ivy infections as well as an efficient source of dye material.

The following quotation appears in the 1909 Canada Weed Book. It is an extract from a book entitled "Herbal" and was written in the year 1568 by William Turner in the old English spelling.

"For the knowledge of herbs trees and shrubbes is not only very delectable for a Princesse minde, but profitable for all the bodies of the Princesse hole realme, both to preserve men from sickness, sorrows, and payne that cometh thereby."

More than 900 Indians in northern Ontario have been specially trained by the Department of Lands and Forests to fight forest fires.
