

GEORGETOWN HIGH PRODUCES FIVE ONTARIO SCHOLARS — NEW RECORD

ELIZABETH HANSEN ELIZABETH HAY SIMON LLEWELLYN LARRY STIEF PHILIP WALKER

Five Ontario Schol- is the proud record this year at Geor- getown District High School. The anxiously awaited re- sults arrived at the school Mon- day and were immediately mailed to students who had written their exams in June.

The $400 cash awards, given by the province to every student scoring 80% in eight papers, go to Simon Llewellyn 84.5%; Larry Stief 84.3%; Elizabeth Hay 81.1%; Philip Walker 81.1% and Elizabeth Hansen 80.4%.

Six others had first class honor, standing of 75% or over — Ian Bowell, Georgina Brown, James English, Paul Fisher, Joy Haines and Valerie Kitchen.

A total of 60 students will receive their Secondary School Honour Graduation diploma this fall as a result of their scholastic achievement. The school amassed an 82.5% record in successful papers written. Of 580 papers, passing marks were registered in 484.

It is possible that other students could be included in the graduate list depending on appeals in subjects in which they were just under the 50% mark required. Principal Donald Turner asked the Herald today to remind any student considering an appeal to get an official form immediately at the high school. Last year a number of appeals by GDHS students were successful.

Complete results of subjects successfully passed follows:

- ANDERSON, David: Algebra C; Arithmetic; English I.
 - ARMITAGE, Pauline: English I; Music C.
 - ARMSTRONG, Randall: Biology C; Music C.
 - BARBER, Heather: Music C.
 - BENNETT, Bradley: English C; Algebra I; Geometry III; Trig & Stats III; Biology C; Physics II; Chemistry II.
 - BISHOP, Karen: English III; History III; Geography C; Physics III; Chemistry C; French C.
 - BLAIR, James: English C; Algebra C; Geometry C; Trig & Stats C; Biology III; Physics C; Chemistry III.
 - BLANEY, David: English I; History I; Geography II; Trig.

German Students Reach Georgetown Touring Continent By Bus, Thumb

Unexpected company walking in on you of a Saturday night, is not so unusual, but unexpected company from overseas is a little more of a surprise. Last Saturday night saw this happen to Mr. and Mrs. John Sommers, Charles St., when three surprise visitors from Germany turned up on their doorstep.

The three university students, Gundorf Gross, Annemaria Seist and Axel Poden, stopped off for a visit during their continent-wide tour.

Annemaria of Munich, has been here the longest, arriving on New York on the 29th of June, and has stayed a week in each of 4 states, New Jersey, Ohio, California and Missouri.

In contrast to the boys' mode of travel, that of the thumbing a ride style, Annemaria has been travelling in style, on a $99 bus ticket, available only to European students. This ticket is good all over the States and Canada.

Under the programme of the Council of Students Travel, or "People to People Travel," as its originator ex-president Eisenhower called it, she was the guest of various families.

The boys however, foot their own bills, and find their own accommodation, the cheapest being the order of things. One night they slept in a park during a rainstorm. They came on a charter flight organized by the International Engineering Society, which meets in Washington Sept. 1st.

Annemaria met her cousin, Gundorf and his friend Axel in Ottawa, and now plan to travel together.

On John Sommers' recent trip to Germany he met Axel Poden, whom he had known as a small boy in the same town, and learned he was coming to Canada, but had no idea just when.

They hope to see most of Canada by the hitchhiking method, which they say is easier here than in the States, but much harder than it is in Europe, where hikers' with knapsacks are a common sight.

The vast emptiness of Canada has impressed them most, followed by the informality of dress. "We can wear anything and nobody turns around and looks at you," says Annemaria. The hospitality of both Canadians and Americans has also come as a pleasant surprise.

They saw their first Drive-In movie Sunday night, and were amused to find they had seen (continued on Page 11)

"MAPLEHURST" GETS GO-AHEAD

Add Three Men, Police Force Swelling To 15

Georgetown's police force will be the largest in Georgetown's history on September 12 when three new police constables start their rounds.

This will augment the present force to a total of 15, including Police Chief Roy Haley.

The three new probationers have all had previous police experience, with municipal and provincial forces.

Earl Andress, 29, presently living in St. Catharines, was with Fort Burwell and Waterford Township forces. He is a brother of Milton chief constable Ray Andress, is married and father of four children.

Rodney Thomas Donaldson, 38, served eight years with the Ontario Provincial Police, at Port Arthur and Barrie. He lives at Weston, is married and has two children.

Keith Orpen, 34, married and father of six, was with Metro Toronto Police Dept. for ten years, serving mostly in the Ossington Ave. division.

Only opponent to the motion engaging the three new men at Monday's council meeting was Cr. Ern Hyde who argued that the town budget can only afford no more than two at present.

$2 Million Detention Centre Will Replace Old County Jail

At a historic joint meeting of both the County councils of Halton and Peel Tuesday, an agreement was signed with the provincial government for the construction of a $2,000,000 regional detention centre, which will replace the present hundred year old Peel and Halton jails.

Warden Herb Hinton of Halton, Warden Jack Graham of Peel, and Hon. Allan Grossman, Minister of Reform Institutions, signed the agreement ending the long, controversial, debate.

Reform Institutions Minister Allan Grossman told the joint meeting that the regional detention centre program, adopted by the Government a year ago, will change the face of penology in North America. The program is something that should have been undertaken fifty years ago, he said.

He added that the Peel-Halton regional centre will be composed of two buildings, with only 60 per cent of the institution being maximum security. Prisoners who do not require maximum security will be employed on work for the municipalities. People on trial, still innocent in the eyes of the law, will not mix with prisoners serving terms. "Innocent men will be treated as innocent men" concluded the Reform Minister.

While the site has not been settled as yet, the name "Maplehurst" has been chosen for the new centre.

This was the first county council meeting with two wardens of different counties on the dais, and two county clerks on either side.

John Edgar, presently assistant manager of the Brampton office, has been appointed Georgetown manager of Halton and Peel Trust & Savings Co.

The firm is opening its first local office on September 23rd, in a temporary location on Mill St. in the Mackenzie building. Extensive remodeling is planned to the former Christian Reformed Church on Main Street which has been purchased by Halton-Peel for its eventual Georgetown office.

A native of Gorrie, Mr. Edgar was with the Toronto-Dominion Bank in Mount Forest, Guelph and Toronto before joining the trust firm in Brampton. He and his wife Mary are members of the United Church and have a young family of two.

Recover Stolen Car Undamaged in Barrie

A Georgetown car missing since the night of August 14 was recovered by Barrie Police Department Monday morning.

The car, a Rambler station wagon, was taken from the rear of 181 Main St. North, the home of the owner, John Emerson.

The vehicle was abandoned, but in good condition when the Barrie police discovered it.

Just Opened, Store Target for Burglars

Georgetown's newest retail business, Mac's Milk on Guelph St., became Georgetown's most recent target for burglars Friday night or early Saturday morning.

While making a routine check on security Georgetown police constable David Bell discovered the break-in at 5:05 a.m. Saturday.

A stock check by the manager revealed only a small quantity of cigarettes missing.

Didn't Know Law Charge Withdrawn

Magistrate Kenneth Langdon withdrew a charge against a Monday asked the Crown to man who told him that he did not realize it is illegal to have beer at an open-air picnic.

The man was charged with having liquor on a picnic table at a Halton conservation area July 3. He pleaded guilty with an explanation.

OPP Constable William Hoyer said he saw the man with a bottle of beer on a picnic table at the park there were other full bottles in his car.

The man said the beer was in a cooler with some food. "It had been my misinterpretation of the law as I had seen people doing it at tents along side the road" he added.

It was explained to him that tents were classified as temporary residence, and the charge was withdrawn.

Westbrook Does It Again As Giants Blank Merchants

Don Westbrook spells poison to the muscle-bound Campbellville Merchants, who perennially play boggie man in the Halton County Intermediate Baseball League.

Westbrook, a starting pitcher with Georgetown's entry in the loop, the Giants, tossed his second one-hitter at the league supermen in Georgetown park Monday night as the locals blanked Merchants 1-0 in a 5 1/2 inning contest.

It was the second time this year that the Giants had risen up to smite the amazed villagers. Earlier in the season Westbrook handcuffed Campbellville hitters on one hit as his club edged them 5-4 right on Merchants' home diamond.

Monday night's game was a long-postponed game which was supposed to have been Georgetown's home opener back on May 18, but was rained out.

Earl Burt scored the only run in the second inning. He walked, advanced to second on left fielder Bob Bratton's single, stole third and went home on an overthrow.

Westbrook hit safely, after Bratton, and Jim James walked, but with the bases full, second-sacker Denny Gibbon grounded out to end the inning.

The Giants collected one other hit off Campbellville hurler Jack Roberts, a double by first baseman Bill Campbell in the third inning.

Merchants only hit was a lead-off single by third baseman Repta in the third.

The victory brought Giants win total to 10. They currently hold down fifth place in the eight team circuit.

They play in Burlington Sunday and host Oakville Oaks next Wednesday.

Health Unit Nurses Threaten Walk-Out, Sept. 12 Deadline

Reeve Robert Parker, of Acton, Chairman of the Halton Board of Health, warned County Council Tuesday of a threatened walk-out of all the nurses in the Halton County Health Unit effective September 12th.

Reeve Parker told Council that a letter received by Dr. A. Bull, from Lloyd Sharpe, "the Labour Relations representative for the Registered Nurses Association of Ontario," stated that he had in his possession of the 28 nurses in the Halton Health Unit.

"No group is certified as collective bargaining agent for the nurses," explained Reeve Parker, "and we get the idea the nurses do not want to be certified. We don't like to negotiate under threat of a walk-out."

Halton County and the United Counties of Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry, have been "grey-listed" by the Registered Nurses Association of Ontario, who have asked all nurses not to accept employment with the counties, until the matter is settled.

Reeve Parker stressed that there would be no hesitation on the part of the Board of Health to negotiate, if the nurses were a certified group. "We hope to talk to them. There has been no request to come to the Board to discuss the problem."

FRIDAY'S FOR FLUORIDE

DR. E. F. SHAUNESSY CLEANS THE TEETH OF LITTLE Donna Harrington in preparation for the application of fluoride to her teeth. The operation is carried out on several pre-school children between the ages of 3 and 5 in the office of Dr. J. E. Kerby in the Carrel Building on Mountainview Road every Friday as part of a county-wide drive by the Halton County Health Unit. The fluoride treatment which involves thoroughly cleaning the teeth and applying fluoride directly to them, is given at no charge, however an appointment is necessary.
